Personal Letters titled: STAR WARS

Foreword

21 Then Jesus went thence, and departed into the coasts of Tyre and Sidon.

22 And behold, a woman of Canaan came out of the same coasts, and cried unto him, saying, have mercy on me, O Lord, thou son of David; my daughter is grievously vexed with a devil.

23 But he answered her not a word. And his disciples came and besought him, saying, Send her away, for she crieth after us.

24 But he answered and said, I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel.

25 Then came she and worshipped him, saying, Lord, help me.

26 But he answered and said, It is not meet to take the children's bread, and to cast it to dogs.

27 And she said, Truth, Lord: yet the dogs eat of the crumbs which fall from their masters' table.

28 Then Jesus answered and said unto her, O woman, great is thy faith: be it unto thee even as thou wilt. And her daughter was made whole from that very hour.

I went to a lot of trouble to find a picture of a Bible with blank pages for the cover. I find that in talking with Christians, great portions of God's Word are such a mystery to them that they might as well be blank pages. Our Heavenly Father did not intend it to be so, but in our disobedience, He has taken His Word from us. For instance, as you can see in this text from Matthew 15:21-28, Jesus was walking along the coasts of Tyre and a certain woman called out to Him to heal her daughter. Notice that Jesus Christ, The Man with the most compassion of any who have walked the earth, answered her not a word. He paid no attention to her!

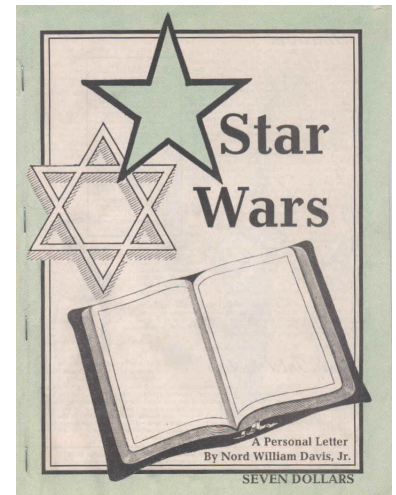

His disciples came to him regarding her, and He gave them His Instructions, " I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel." And they kept walking. Then she came to Him directly. and even worshipped Him and begged Him for help. Christ then answered her saying that it was not good or proper to take the children's bread and cast it to dogs. The compassionate Jesus called this woman a dog. Today, we would call it a "racial slur," a highly insulting remark.

Then, as the text states, she admitted to being a dog! She then stated that even the dogs can get the crumbs which fall from the master's table. At that point, Christ told her that she had great faith, healed the daughter of this non-Israelite woman, and went on His way. You will plainly notice however, that Jesus Christ did not invite this woman to follow Him and there is no record that she ever did. Here was a woman who actually worshipped Christ, and a woman who Christ, Himself, said had great faith, but who would never be counted among the Elect, those saved from the foundation of the world. Jesus Christ, the same yesterday, today and forever.

America is filled with people who "worship Jesus," beg for His help and appear to have "great faith" but who are not going to be with us in the Kingdom. It is toward the understanding of that great truth, that this personal letter, humble and incomplete as its few pages must necessarily be, is dedicated.

Star Wars is composed of fifteen lessons. Each lesson has footnotes, explanations, graphics, and commentary that were part of the original publication [Note: Only pertinent graphics are currently included here.]. These pages are arranged to provide the information much as the original. All graphics are included. The back cover of the original publication is included with the final lesson, and has its own message, as does the cover, read the Foreword.

An Introduction

This Bible study letter began as a conversation on Market Street in Chattanooga, Tennessee in 1985. I was walking along the street, deep in thought, when I was interrupted by two fine young men who thrust a gospel tract in front of me and asked me if I was a New Testament Christian. They looked at me, enthusiastically awaiting an answer. I gave no answer.

I took their tract and glanced through it. It contained what some characterize as The Roman Road to Salvation. In this witnessing approach, the first verse shown to the sinner, the presumed "unsaved," is Romans 3:10 and one young man read it to me:

"As it is written, there is none righteous, no, not one..."

Wait, I protested, you have not completed the Biblical thought. His partner quickly pointed me to the second verse along the Roman Road, Romans 3:23, and he read:

"For all have sinned and come short of the glory of God."

Again, I protested, you have picked one section out of a whole thought that runs from verse 20 to verse 26. It seemed to never occur to either young man that if I could make those statements, I must have already been over those Scriptures a hundred times before.

The first young man then had the next verse of the Roman Road ready. Neither seemed interested in answering my objection to taking verses out of their context. He jumped all the way over to Romans 5:12 and began to read soberly so that "this unsaved sinner" might finally understand:

"Wherefore, as by one-man sin entered into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned..."

"What in the world does that mean?" I asked. I pointed to his Bible text and again complained that he was just picking verses and skipping around to make a point. He asked me to please wait until he had finished his street ministry. Then he would answer any questions I had as to my personal salvation. I did not bother to inform them that I had been writing Christian materials since before they were born. The next mile post along the Roman Road is Romans 6:23, and it was read to me:

"For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord."

"Wait," he told me, "this thought continues back here in Romans 5:8,"

"But God commended his love toward us, in that while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us."

"Now," he asked, "are you ready to confess your sins and become, through Christ's Grace, a New Testament Christian?"

I told them very seriously that I was not so sure that I did. I asked them to explain to me what the New Testament was so I would understand what brand of Christianity he was proposing to me. Before he could gather his thoughts, I asked one of the young men to take a picture of me talking to his partner. After the picture was taken, we began a discussion that lasted three hours.

Nord Davis, Jr. talking with a young Tennessee Temple Bible student in Chattanooga in 1985. Over the years, I have lost track of these young preachers. .

When I finally had to leave, they asked me to send them a letter with all the advanced Bible teaching that I had given them. That letter became the mustard seed from which Star Wars has grown over the past seven years. I hope it is as thrilling to you as it was to my young Tennessee Temple Bible College students and the thousands of our readers who have studied our previous editions ever since.

Lesson One      On the Covenant

These young men had opened their discussion with me by asking me if I was a "New Testament" Christian. When I did not respond promptly enough, they began their presentation to me by taking me down the primrose path of the Roman Road. My first question to these sincere people was this: "What is the New Testament, anyway?" In any sales arena, once you get the prospect talking or asking questions, you are on your way to a sale. Having told me that they were graduating students, they were more than willing to answer my question. Further, since they had claimed that glorious status, it was up to them to explain the term. One of them told me that while the Old Testament dealt with the Jews and The Law, the New Testament was primarily for the Gentiles and operated under Christ's Grace. He flatly stated that the New Testament Church was not to be concerned with The Old Law, which had been abandoned at The Cross, but was to emphasize Christ's Grace.

The other student nodded in agreement but then added that Almighty God had been unsuccessful with the Jews, who had a history of sinful ways. Thus, Our Heavenly Father had to put out a new plan, bringing the Gospel to the Gentiles who are the non-Jewish people. The student then added, as though it was an established fact, that Almighty God had done His Best with the Jewish people, but when they rejected His Son, He decided to extend the plan of salvation to all the world, all men, whosoever will, to accept and have the peace of knowing that they would go to heaven when they die.

I had heard that theology promoted for years, but did they have Scripture to back it up? In all their answers, only a summary of which is written above, they still had not answered the question: What is the New Testament? If you are going to talk about something, especially if you expect to teach others, you ought to know what the terms mean. What is a testament? What is a covenant?

On the way, to get a cup of coffee with them, I went past my car and picked up my Bible. While enjoying coffee, I went on to teach my surprised students that in every case in the New Testament both the word testament and the word covenant were translated from the same Greek word diathéké. It is Strong's Greek word # 1242* as I had it noted in my Cambridge Wide Margin Bible. When I opened my Bible on the table before them, and they saw all the notes I had put there in the margins, they knew that they had been "had". Both words mean "a contract." Well, what is a contract? What is this New Testament (contract) under which someone must perform according to a specific thing before I can become a Christian?

* 1242. διαθήκη diathéké, dæ-ath-ay'-kay; from 1303, prop. a disposition, i.e. (spec.) a contract (espec. a devisory will):--covenant, testament...

By now my young friends were both frustrated and curious. They thought that they had answered my question, and here I was asking them the same question again. They simply could not understand what my question had to do with the Plan of Salvation. Quite frankly, as we shall see, it has everything to do with it.

If you are under the New Testament, and it is a binding contract of some kind, who is the Party of the First Part and who is the Party of the Second Part, and what performance does that contract spell out in lawful terms? What is the consideration? When does, or did, it go into effect? If you cannot answer these questions, do not feel ignorant, for these graduating students of a very well-known Bible College could not do so either. For them, my questions were just as if the Bible had hundreds of blank pages.

Any contract is binding on all Parties, and each of them can legally force the other to perform according to the terms, exactly as set forth. It is an exclusive document. In other words, if you are not named in it, you are not a Party to it.

When I had stopped at my car, which is a mint condition Lincoln Mark IV, the young men remarked about it. So, in talking with them over coffee, I asked them if they had a car while here at school. One said he did not. The other pointed to the street in front of the restaurant to a nice-looking older Chevy pickup sitting at the curb. I asked him if he meant the blue one with the expired meter. He bounded out to feed the meter before he came into conflict with the law. I asked him later if there was some price at which he would sell me that pretty truck. He admitted that at some price he would sell it, but it would be high, "a lot more than the book value." I told him that in this case, money was no object. Suppose I bought that blue Chevy truck, and drove it home. How would the public ever know that there was a contract between us? You would be the Party of the First Part, and I would be the Party of the Second Part, and the object of the contract would be the pickup. How does the world know that I own that truck now that you no longer own it? Well, the license plate, except to a police officer, would not prove it. Nor, in fact, would the contract itself, for no one would ever see either it, or the subsequent title, as they would both be locked away in my safe. No, they would properly assume some contract must exist, or within a few days the "blue light" would come by and take it away from me. Does that make sense?

Now, so that we will understand any contract a little more specifically, suppose that I left my keys to my new truck in the ignition, and some person jumped in and drove off with it. What would you call that person? You would call him a thief. Yes, but why is he a thief? There is only one reason. When push comes to shove, his name is not to be found on the contract that conveyed your blue pickup to me. If his name is not in the contract, then he is not a Party to the contract regardless of any other extenuating circumstances. No matter what worthy cause or reason that thief had to take my truck, the blunt fact is that he is a thief because the contract does not include his name.

Now, with that lesson on the law in mind, what is the New Testament (contract) that you claim to be a Party to? Who is the Party of the First Part, and who is the Party of the Second Part, what is the "blue pickup" involved, when did the contract take effect and what was the "consideration" that made it lawful? If you are a New Testament Christian, you should have no trouble delineating these terms to me. This should be Basic Bible 101 and yet not one Christian in a thousand can answer that one question. Where do you find the terms of the New Testament set forth in Scripture?

I pointed my two young students to Hebrews, Chapter 8 at verse 8:

"For finding fault with them, he saith, Behold, the days come, saith Yahweh, when I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah..."

Contract -From Black's Law Dictionary

CONTRACT. A promissory agreement between two or more persons that creates, modifies, or destroys a legal relation. Buffalo Pressed Steel Co. v. Kirwan, 138 Md. 60, 113 A. 628, 630; Mexican Petroleum Corporation of Louisiana v. North German Lloyd, D.C. La., 17 F.2d 113, 114.

An agreement, upon sufficient consideration, to do or not to do a particular thing. 2 Bl.Comm. 442; 2 Kent, Comm. 449; Justice v. Lang, 42 N.Y. 496; 1 Am.Rep. 576; Rabon v. State Finance Corporation, 203 S.C. 183, 26 S.E. 2d 501, 502.

An agreement between two or more parties, preliminary step in making of which is offer by one and acceptance by other, in which minds of parties meet and concur in understanding of terms. Lee v. Travelers' Ins. Co. of Hartford, Conn., 173 S.C. 185, 175 S.E. 429.

A deliberate engagement between competent parties, upon a legal consideration, to do or abstain from doing some act. Wharton; Smith v. Thornhill, Tex. Com. App., 25 S.W.2d 597, 599.

It is agreement creating obligation, in which there must be competent parties, subject-matter, legal consideration, mutuality of agreement, and mutuality of obligation, and agreement must not be so vague or uncertain that terms are not ascertainable. Liabetes & Co. v. Klengenberg, C.C.A. Cal., 23 F.2d 611, 612.

A contract or agreement is either where a promise is made on one side and assented to on the other, or where two or more persons enter into engagement with each other by a promise on either side. 2 Steph. Comm. 54.

The writing which contains the agreement of parties, with the terms and conditions, and which serves as a proof of the obligation.

These words came from the King James Version, but I want to add here. However differently we Christians believe on other matters; these same exact words and intent appear in the Roman Catholic Douay-Rheims and every other old and new translation on my library shelves. Now that you have read this verse, who is the Party of the First Part? Answer: The Lord (Yahweh). How reliable is this contract? It is as reliable as Almighty God's Word, and that is beyond question. Now, be careful in your answer: Who is the Party of the Second Part? Does your Bible say that the Party of the Second Part is the Gentiles, meaning some non-Israelite people? Is the Party of the Second Part, either "all men" or "whosoever will?" No, the exclusive contract is with only two entities, the House of Israel, and the House of Judah. Do you see that?

8 For finding fault with them, he saith, Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, when I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah:

Now, the question to be resolved is this: If you are not part of either the House of Israel or the House of Judah, what right do you have to the New Testament contract, whatever it is? Don't you see that if you are not of one or the other of these entities, you have no right whatever? You are just like that thief making off with my blue Chevy pickup, claiming right when none really exists. We do not care about all your "extenuating circumstances." We are not interested in your humanist philosophy, posing as Christianity, that insinuates that Almighty God would not be either fair or loving if He made His Contract only with the Israel people. One of these young men tried to introduce the foolish idea that the "Gentiles" were supposed to be "grafted in" and be thus granted a place in the covenant. I reminded him that only olive branches can be grafted into olive trees. You cannot graft in either figs or sugar maple branches to olive trees.

The other young preacher suggested that it was the non-Israelite Gentiles who, in Jesus, had become "spiritual Israel." I asked him if he could show me the term, "spiritual Israel," anywhere in the Bible and he admitted that he had never seen it in all the years he had been studying at Tennessee Temple. I told him that the Word of God states that the New Testament is made with the same people, that is, the sons of the same people, that the Old Testament was made with. Read the next verse:

"Not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers in the day when I took them by the hand to lead them out of the land of Egypt; because they continued not in my covenant, and I regarded them not, saith Yahweh."

So, we see here that Almighty God has not changed His Mind and abandoned His People Israel in favor of "all men" or "whosoever" but made the New Testament with the very same people as before. Tell me, if you are not the children of these fathers of old, what business do you have claiming the Rights and Privileges of this New Covenant?

9 Not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers in the day when I took them by the hand to lead them out of the land of Egypt; because they continued not in my covenant, and I regarded them) not, with the Lord.

Of course, they had to admit that they really could not make any such claim if they were not of either Israel or Judah. After several years in Bible school, with their spiritual future all carefully laid out, they suddenly had the expressions of someone on the outside looking in. I told them not to let their heart be troubled, for we need to read the terms of the New Covenant to get the rest of the story. It really does have a happy ending for it is the world's most beautiful love story.

Now that we know who the Party of the First Part is, and who the Party of the Second Part is, what in the New Testament contract is the object, like the blue pickup, of the contract? What is to be done, and by whom? Here is what the Word of God has to say about the terms of the New Testament as set forth in Hebrews 8:10:

"For this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, saith Yahweh; I will put my laws into their mind and write them in their hearts: and I will be to them a God, and they shall be to Me a people."

So, you see, contrary to what your preacher teaches you Sunday after Sunday, the New Testament Church is based upon the New Testament contract which specifies God's Laws twice and never even mentions the matter of grace once. Where do they get this nonsense that the Law has been done away with and they are some New Testament Christians living under simple grace? Don't you see that without the Law in full force and effect, there would be no value whatever to any Grace that might be later bestowed upon us?

To understand this teaching, think of yourself speeding down the highway and being pulled over by a State Trooper. He has your speed posted right there in his radar gun. You have violated the Law. It is the Trooper's job to give you a citation that may cost you $100. You know that you will have to pay. Still, he is looking at you and deciding as to whether or not to actually give you the citation. Suddenly, for no apparent legal reason, he decides to let you go with a warning: "Take it easy through here." His warning was grace, for by the Law, he should have given you a ticket. Now, suppose that there was no such thing as a highway speed law? First, the trooper would have no right to even stop you. If he did stop you and then gave you his grace, of what value would it be? No value. He could not have given you a citation anyway.

Do you see how subtle the deceiving ministers are, by destroying the value and beauty of Grace by teaching the lie that the very essence of the New Testament, God's Law in our minds and hearts, has been done away with at The Cross? Then, if the deceiver can seduce you into eating swine's flesh and the broth of abominable things, he can get you to where you will be forbidden to enter the Kingdom as set forth in Isaiah 65:1-7 and Isaiah 66:17.

Can you imagine these young preachers by this time? They had believed that they were New Testament Christians. They had been taught, and firmly believed, that this meant that the Law had been abandoned at The Cross, and that Grace had supplanted it for the past 2,000 years. Now, here comes Nord Davis, Jr. teaching them that even the wonderful New Testament applied only to some long-forgotten entities called the House of Israel and the House of Judah. To make matters worse, it now appeared that all non-Israelite "Gentiles" seemed to have no part in the New Testament in the first place. As with the dog-lady in the Foreword, they could not steal, beg, or wish their way into that exclusive status, even if they wanted to do so. The plain fact is that the New Testament was never made with "the church" at all, and the Bible never says so. Instead, it was made with a very distinct racial and national entity, with implications dealing with matters of the Law. Who, and where, is Jacob-Israel in this day and age?

Let us see if we can figure it out. First, when did the New Testament contract go into effect? Some say that the New Testament began with Matthew, Chapter 1, and verse 1. Here is what Paul has to say on the matter:

"...And for this cause He is the mediator of the new testament, that by means of death, for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first testament, they which are called might receive the promise of eternal inheritance. For where a testament is, there must also of necessity be the death of the testator. For a testament is of force after men are dead: otherwise, it is of no strength at all while the testator liveth." - Hebrews 9:15-17

So, the New Testament went into effect at the very instant that Christ died on The Cross. At that instant, wherever the House of Israel and the House of Judah were located in the dispersion, they suddenly had the Law written in their minds

10 For this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, saith the Lord; I will put my laws into their mind, and write them in their hearts: and I will be to them a God, and they shall be, to me a people:
11 And they shall not teach every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for all shall know me, from the least to the greatest.
12 For I will be merciful to their unrighteousness, and their sins and their iniquities will I remember no more.
13 In that he saith, A new covenant, he hath made the first old. Now that which decayeth and waxeth old is ready to vanish away.

15 And for this cause he is the mediator of the new testament, that by means of death, for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first testament, they which are called might receive the promise of eternal inheritance.

16 For where a testament is, there must also of necessity be, the death of the testator.

17 For a testament is of force, after men are dead: otherwise it is of no strength at all while the testator liveth.

and in their hearts. At that moment, Almighty God became a God to them again, and they became His people again. Wherever the Jacob-Israel people were located, from that time on, Christianity began to grow. Why did this happen? It happened because God's law became an intrinsic part of their minds and hearts. Yes, they were sinners, but the difference is that they knew they were doing wrong when they did it. Other peoples, as is clear around the world, do not seem to have this internal guiding gift of The Law written in their inward parts.

There is a school of incorrect theology which teaches that the blessings of the New Testament are now applied to the body of believers which they call The Church. Yet long after The Church had been established, Paul in Hebrews still goes right back and proclaims the New Testament on the two houses of Jacob-Israel. The New Testament, as you will see as we look closer and closer at it, is a national and a racial blessing. The main thing to resolve is which people are the inheritors of that blessing.

We might study for a long time trying to prove who Israel is in the world today. Why, instead, don't we find out who is driving "the blue Chevy pickup truck?" Does it make sense that whoever is driving the "blue pickup" is the Party of the Second Part in the New Testament contract? Who is it that, through their activities down through the last 2,000 years, seems to display that they have the Laws of Almighty God written in their minds and hearts? Who is it that just happens to have the natural propensity and the intrinsic desire to know and do the ways of God? Who seems to have the bells ringing in their gene memories such that when the Christian gospel is preached, they just naturally respond to it?

Let us be fruit inspectors for a moment. As you look around the world for a great Christian testimony, have we found it in the Chinese people? No, they have their heathen religions, mostly Eastern cults based upon secular humanism, but it is not Christianity. How about the Blacks in Africa? No, then religions, and even the form of Christianity brought there by Christian missionaries, has yet to produce a single Christian nation in all of Africa, even after a hundred years of trying by thousands of sincere people.

How about the most obvious people, those who like to call themselves Jews and Israel? Can you see that for 2,000 years they have never shown that the Law was written in their minds and hearts since The Cross? If there is any one thing consistent with Jewish people over the centuries, it is that they have never accepted the Christian message, Gospel, or way of life. They demonstrate no evidence at any time of God's Laws being written in their hearts and minds. If not now, when?

To preach and teach that the anti-Christ Jews are of the House of Judah or the House of Israel, is to deny the intended effect of Christ's death on The Cross. To believe that the Jews are descended from ancient Jacob-Israel may be as wicked a philosophy as any around, for in that one teaching, you are testifying that Jesus Christ did not accomplish His Mission when He went to the Cross, because the Jews have never had the Law written in their inward parts, as specifically established, and set forth in the New Testament contract. (Is this part of the great deception talked about in our Bibles?)

22 Who is a liar but he that denieth that Jesus is the Christ? He is antichrist, that denieth the Father and the Son.

23 Whosoever denieth the Son, the same hath not the Father: [but] he that acknowledgeth the Son hath the Father also.

24 Let that therefore abide in you, which ye have heard from the beginning. If that which ye have heard from the beginning shall remain in you, ye also shall continue in the Son, and in the Father.

1 John 2:22-24

By this time, the young Bible students were completely baffled. They understood every point as I taught it to them. But if the Church cannot be the Jacob-Israel entity of the New Covenant because the blessings are racial and national in substance, and the Jewish people cannot be Jacob-Israel because it is obvious over the past 2,000 years that the Law was never written in their minds and hearts, pursuant to the New Testament contract, then who are the Israel people in the world today?

Again, in what people do you see driving the "blue Chevy pickup?" As you look at the world today, and think back through history, has there been and is there a race of people who seem to have the Law written in their minds and hearts from the moment of The Cross? What race of people do you find written about in Foxe's Book of Martyrs? Do you see any Black or Chinese people in those illustrations? No, they are all our forefathers of Europe being bound to the stake. Do any of those people appear to be of the Jewish race so far as you can tell? No, all of them are Caucasians and they were being put to death for their Christian faith. Does it seem, after reading your copy of Foxe's Book of Martyrs, that perhaps the Caucasian people might just be the people "driving the blue Chevy pickup?" Are they the very ones who have accepted the Gospel of Jesus Christ by the millions over the years since our Savior died for us a couple thousand years ago?

I have in my library an incredibly old book printed in 1680 by Rev. John H. Thompson titled A Cloud of Witnesses. As I glance down the Table of Contents, I find the names of Alison, Bryce, Cochran, Finlay, Nesbit, Potter, Smith, and Watt.

Not one name is Jewish so far as I can tell. Not one has a Chinese or East Indian name. The last testimony of one James Robertson, who was executed in Edinburgh, Scotland on December 15, 1682, was eighteen pages long. He had a lot to get off his chest before he died. It begins on page 240 with these precious and inspiring words:

*You might obtain a reprint of this 1680 book by writing to Springle .Publications, PO Box 1094, Harrisonburg, VA 22801.

"Dear Friends, True Lovers of Zion's Righteous Cause, ... (ending).... Farewell to all things in time ... Farewell Holy Scriptures. Farewell prayer, meditation, faith, and hope. Welcome Father, Son, and Holy Spirit-Welcome praises for evermore."

James Robertson

The Forward to the King James Bible written by the translators is in the image to the right. Note that after reading the original Bible texts, they identified Britain, France, and Ireland as Zion on the fifth line of the first paragraph. So deceptive are the American Bible publishing firms today that you will look far and wide to come up with a King James Bible that has this Foreword by the translators left in it. All Gideon Bibles, the famous Thompson Chain, the Dake Annotated Reference Bible, and every Scofield Bible have deliberately removed this valuable Forward. They do not want you know that until just the last 100 years or so the Caucasian people were believed to be Zion, the people of the Book. I have reprinted this first paragraph for you to read.

Here are two witnesses, a man who was executed for his faith in 1680, and the scholarly translators of the King James Bible, both telling us that it is among the Caucasian people that you are to look to find Zion, the people of the New Testament and the lost sheep of the House of Jacob-Israel. These translators even stated that King James was the Hopeful Seed, alluding to the seed of the Scepter of Judah set forth in Genesis, chapter 49. No other people fit, in such exact detail at every point, those marks of Israel identification throughout the Bible. What other people have fulfilled, and seem to be fulfilling every prophecy set forth in the Holy Writ? There are only three classifications of people ever taught to be the Israel of God in Bible prophesy. One is the Church. The second is the Jewish people, and the third are the Caucasian people, who as a racial group, have become Christians, of one brand or another, in the hundreds of millions for two millenniums. Who else has published all the Bibles, sent missionaries everywhere, and been the helping people to all who suffer famine and natural disasters? With GREAT and manifold were the blessings, most dread Sovereign, which Almighty God, the Father of all mercies, bestowed upon us the people of England, when first he sent Your Majesty's Royal Person to rule and reign over us. For whereas it was the expectation of many, who wished not well unto our Sion, that upon the setting of that bright Occidental Star, Queen Elizabeth of most happy memory, some thick and palpable clouds of darkness would so have overshadowed this Land, that men should have been in doubt which way they were to walk; and that it should hardly be known, who was to direct the unsettled State, the appearance of Your Majesty, as of the Sun in his strength, instantly dispelled those supposed and surmised mists, and gave unto all that were well affected exceeding cause of comfort, especially when we beheld the Government established in Your Highness, and Your hopeful Seed, by an undoubted Title, and this also accompanied with peace and tranquillity at home and abroad.

Foreword to the King James Bible written by the translators. Note that after reading the original Bible texts, they identified Britain, France and Ireland as "Zion" on the fifth line of the first paragraph. So deceptive are the American Bible publishing firms today, that you will look far and wide to come up with a King James Bible that has this Forward by the translators left in it. All Gideon Bibles, the famous Thompson Chain, the Dake Annotated Reference Bible, and every Scofield Bible have deliberately removed this valuable Forward. They do not want you to know that until just the last 100 years or so, the Caucasian people were believed to be Zion, the people of The Book. I have reprinted this first paragraph for you to read. The Cambridge Bibles, Printed in England, still have this Forward in them.

precious few exceptions, that divine appointment, that calling from the foundation of the world, has fallen upon those of us of the Caucasian race.

The Jacob-Israel people, God's Caucasian race, do not hate anyone except those who are ordained to be God's enemies. We are God's servant people, those destined by God to be the helpers and the healers of others, even those, to use the Scriptural word, who are the dogs among us. For two hundred years, since Oliver Holden wrote it, we have sung the Coronation hymn:

"Ye Chosen Seed of Israel's Race,
Ye Ransomed from The Fall,
Bring forth His Royal Diadem
And crown Him Lord of All."

What did the translators of the King James know, and the martyrs for Christ know, and Oliver Holden of the Massachusetts Bay Colony know, that our ministers have taken from us? They never told us that "the Gentiles" are in fact the lost sheep of Israel, scattered across the world, generally north and west of Jerusalem, some 745 years before Christ. We have never been told the glorious truth that instead of being racial outsiders struggling to be "grafted in," we are those peculiar and stubborn sheep who eventually hear His Voice and follow Him. Isn't it exciting to know who you are, and that while you were yet a sinner, God has called you into His marvelous light? Isn't it wonderful and humbling to finally know that you and your children are inheritors of the Kingdom to come by both faith and race through the Election of God?

If what has been written here is the truth, are you going to let anyone take it away from you? No! Then you are worthy to be included among those Christians found in Psalm 149 who have been given a major task to do before Christ is to return. May Yahweh grant you wisdom to understand His Word. Amen.

After this lesson, you will understand why Almighty God had his ministers give the following benediction. Most of you have heard it a thousand times. It is found in Numbers 6:22-27:

"And Yahweh spake unto Moses, saying, Speak unto Aaron and unto his sons, saying, on this wise ye shall bless the children of Israel saying unto them, Yahweh bless thee, and keep thee; Yahweh make his face to shine upon thee, and be gracious unto thee; Yahweh lift up his countenance upon thee and give thee peace."

False preachers always stop with this verse. There is one more verse that they do not want you to think about. Stand up and demand that your preacher also blesses the Christians with the last verse:

"And they shall put My Name upon the children of Israel; and I will bless them."

Glossary of Several Terms Used in Star Wars, Lesson One.

LOST. Sometimes in listening to ministers on television, I come away with the impression that they suppose that Alexander the Great invented the Greek language for the benefit of Christians years later. The Greek is a military language and many of its idioms have military connotations. The first word that we need to examine is the New Testament word, lost. Jesus said He came not but unto the "lost sheep of the House of Israel." Do you think we ought to know what "lost" means in this and other verses? I asked my young students and they told me that it meant "unsaved," that is, an unrepentant sinner bound for hell. Curiously, there are two words "lost" in the New Testament. One, where the salt has lost its savor. It is identical to the English word lost. However, in every other case, including the lost sheep, the Greek word is apollumi. It is Strong's word #622 and, as your preachers really know who have studied Greek, it means apo, put away, and llumi, in punishment or chastisement. So, Jesus Christ said he came not but unto the "put away in punishment sheep of the House of Israel." That phrase has a national significance not a personal salvation understanding. That is vastly different than supposing that the word means an "unsaved" individual. When you read your Bible and come upon the word lost, you are to substitute the phrase, put away in punishment. Suddenly, the whole Scripture will take on a startling new meaning. The Greek word lost never means unsaved in the meaning that it is most used today. Are the lights going on for you?

CHURCH. The second word I want to address in this section is the word church. Christians suppose that this original Greek word meant some sort of assembly that is devoted to Christian worship, preaching, praying, and prophesying. Some think it means an assembly, ekklesia, to have a warm Christian fellowship, singing and praising God, and so forth. If you will look up the word assembly in Vine's Expository Dictionary of New Testament Words, you will again find the national intent of that word translated church. According to Vine's, a church is "a body of citizens gathered to discuss the affairs of state." When Jesus said, "I will build my church," He was saying that He would build an assembly that would be informed as to the affairs of state, that is, the proper use of government. During one of His church meetings, one of the disciples asked. "Lord, wilt thou at this time restore again the Kingdom to Israel?" Acts 1:61 Christ's answer was no in a roundabout way. I contend that the question would never have been asked if the preaching and teaching in the assembly, ekklesia, had not been about the affairs of state. So, can there really be a separation between the church and state? Of course not, for the very idea of "the affairs of state" is built right into the word church. In early New England, and throughout the American 17th Century colonies, they did not improperly call their buildings with the steeple and the bell, often used for worship services, churches. They were called "meeting houses" and it was there that the "affairs of state" were openly discussed. Patrick Henry gave his stirring speech, "Give me liberty or give me death!" in such an assembly meeting in Richmond, Virginia. It was quite properly a church. Thus, a New Testament Church can only mean "an assembly of Jacob-Israel gathered to discuss the affairs of state." One of the Gifts of the Spirit, that all Christians are to have is the Gift of governments as set forth in I Corinthians 12:28. The proper word for the so-called churches today, where the "affairs of state" are never discussed, would be an assembly as set forth in James 2:2. There the word is sunogoge, or synagogue in English. I never attend synagogues. Please do not invite me to go to one.

GENTILES. The third word is Gentiles. I asked one of my students if he was a Jew. He told me that he was not, but rather he was a "gentile." Your preacher will tell you with a straight face, even though he has had Greek and Latin, that anyone who is not a Jew is a gentile. How silly. There is no such thing as a singular gentile in the Greek. Gentiles is from the Greek word ethnos. Look up the word gentile in your Strong's Concordance, and you will see that it is the Greek word # 1484. Hold your finger there and look up the word nations. You will find that it is also Strong's Greek word # 1484. So, both gentiles and nations are from the same word, ethnos, and mean exactly the same thing. Wherever you see the word nations, you may substitute quite freely the word gentiles. Wherever you see the word gentiles, you should really insert the word nations. They mean one and the same thing in both the Greek and in the Hebrew and gentiles is one of the few words that the King James translators transliterated from the Latin. Since both gentiles and nations mean a collective group, and have no singular meaning, you cannot be a gentile any more than you can be a nation. The Greek language has not changed since 330 BC when it was invented. I refuse to let the ministers change it in their effort to invent a new humanist religion which they like to call New Testament Christianity with its mission to the Gentiles. What is being taught today as fundamental Christianity bears no resemblance to what was taught in America when the Pilgrims and the Scottish Covenanters came here and gave us a government based upon Biblical principles. Liberty and prosperity in America were the envy of the world. How can I answer the question, "Are you a New Testament Christian, a Gentile saved by Grace?" Now, you know how to answer it if you have the time to do so. You must take the time if it appears that the Christian has ears to hear. One minister called me on the phone from the mid-west and told me that my early Star Wars pamphlets had truly opened his eyes. He told me that he had twenty years' experience in the pulpit and never come across so much truth. Truth, I told him, was a gift of God which was ordained for him to understand just now. I asked him if he really had twenty years' experience in the pulpit, or just 3 months experience 80 times. He admitted I was probably correct.

PEOPLE. The fourth word is people as found in Hebrews 8:10 in the Great Contract. What do we know about this word "people?" Are they whosoever will? No, the New Testament contract specifically states that it is made with the House of Israel and the House of Judah, and not with "the church" or with some new group of non-Israel people. Almighty God, through the pen of Paul who was quoting Jeremiah 31, used the Greek word laos for people. He could have selected the Greek word ochlos, meaning a crowd, throng, or multitude. He did not select the Greek word, demos, meaning some common vulgar people as spoken of in Acts 12:22. He did not select the Greek word thnos, meaning a common nation as in Roman 10:19. He did not use the Greek word for people, anthropos, meaning mankind in general as translated "men", i.e. people in John 6:10. If salvation was for All Men, The World, etc., any of these Greek words could have been used to make anyone a "New Testament Christian." But Paul did not use any of these words here, but instead the Greek word laos. Here is what the authoritative VINE'S has to say about this extremely specific Greek word, laos:

"Laos is used of a people at large, especially a people assembled, a people of the same race and language."

Is it time to rest my case on this matter of peoples and races?

Lesson Two      Who Did Christ Die For?

A Humble Dedication...

Star Wars, because of its very controversial content, should be dedicated to one of the most controversial prophets of the Bible, Jeremiah. He warned. He preached. He exposed the false preaching of his day, and all to no avail, for he and his Israel people went right into the captivity about which he had been warning. He put the blame for the tragic collapse of his civilization right where it belonged. On the ministers who taught error and the people who listened to them. He preached and this was recorded:

"Then said I, Ah, Lord Yahweh! Behold the prophets say unto them, Ye shall not see the sword, neither shall ye see famine; but I will give you assured peace in this place. Then Yahweh said unto me, the prophets prophesy [preach] lies in My Name: I sent them not, neither have I commanded them, neither spake unto them: They prophesy unto you a false vision and divination, and a thing of naught, and the deceit of their heart. Therefore, thus saith Yahweh concerning the prophets that prophesy in My Name and I sent them not, yet they say, sword and famine shall not be in this land; by sword and famine shall these prophets be consumed. And the people to whom they prophesy shall be cast out into the streets of Jerusalem because of the famine and sword: and they shall have none to bury them, their wives, nor their sons, nor their daughters: for I will pour wickedness upon them." Jeremiah 14:13-16

I realize that Brother Jeremiah did not project a very pretty picture for his Israel people. He was not too nice a guy to have around. People thought his ideas were off the wall. The picture, however bleak, was not Jeremiah's idea but came directly from Almighty God Himself. Jeremiah did not blame the King. He did not accuse the Courts or the political or community leaders. He laid none of his national problems on the prostitutes, the homosexuals, or the drug addicts, and we are sure that Israel had them in those days, too. Here is the interesting point which God gave to Jeremiah. All the sins of the land were there when they were not called, and it was because of their preaching that wickedness not only abounded but was permitted.

As thousands of my regular readers know. I have been exposing wickedness in high places for more than 28 years with these pamphlets. The Scriptures command us to do that. This Star Wars lesson is going to put the Light and the Salt right where it belongs, as Jeremiah did, on the local ministers in your hometown and mine. They are giving our people the false vision and incorrectly dividing the Word of Truth. With deliberate intent, the eyes of God's People have been taken from God's Laws, Statutes, and Judgments, with the ultimate end that America is neither prepared for the coming famine, disease, and the forecast Sword of Magog.

Chief among these false prophets, who brought us to where we are today, was the famous minister of the turn of the last century, C.I. Scofield. In this lesson, you will learn more about him than your minister hoped you would ever find out. You will learn how he defrauded his mother-in-law out of her life's savings and how he was convicted of forgery in another case and sent off to prison. You will learn that he abandoned his wife and family and never sent them any support. When his wife finally divorced him, he married another woman all during the time he was writing his now-infamous notes in the Scofield Reference Bible. As a Christian, he was a disgrace. As a man, he lacked ordinary chivalry expected of any gentleman. He called himself "Dr." but never attended any college which could convey such a degree. You will also read the account of his financial support for his Reference Bible came from the Zionist and conspiratorial groups out of Boston, Massachusetts, known as The Secret Six. Scofield was no Jeremiah. For certain he preached but was not called. If God did not send him, you need to know who did, for his false doctrines are widespread today, and almost every Bible bookstore carries copies of his Bible with its Reference Notes. The truth about Scofield, and those men who worked with him, played a key role in that saga of the perpetual warfare between the people of the Five-Pointed Star and the people of the Six-Pointed Star which began, at God's specific direction, in Genesis 3:15. I will cover this subject in exhaustive detail in a later lesson. This relatively unknown truth is that one common thread weaving throughout the remainder of the Bible.

People write to us stating that they enjoy going to their local churches, even though they know that what is taught is not correct. We know that Christ will deal swiftly and lawfully with the false ministers, but I want you to read once again the dark printed warning from Jeremiah above concerning those who sit under such false preaching: Famine, sword, and death, not only to you but all your family. Controversial as this lesson is, until you search out the Scriptures for yourself, I publish it anyway, knowing by the authority of Almighty Yahweh it just may save your life and that of your children. Writing about these ministers, Jeremiah stated:

"...But if they had stood in My counsel, and had caused My people to hear My words, then they should have turned them from their evil way, and from the evil of their doings." - Jeremiah 23:22

Have our American people turned from their wicked ways? No, anyone can see that America gets worse and worse, while at the same time more and more ministries are set up on nationwide television and in the local communities. Therefore, since America has not turned from her wicked ways, the ministers have not yet stood in His Counsel and preached His Word. To conclude otherwise is to contradict God's Word to Jeremiah. Frankly, I would prefer to write on more pleasant subjects. This Star Wars lesson is dedicated to the exposure of some very cherished humanistic doctrines, posing as Christianity, being preached across America such that our people will ignore or tolerate the wickedness all around them and do nothing whatever about it. In the forefront of these Scriptural errors, you will find the teachings and Bible references of C.I. Scofield. This lesson is prepared and published without apology or remorse. To those with eyes to see, take a good look.

Over the past twenty years, I have taught several Bible lessons on the general theme of the pronouns of the New Testament. This could well be the secondary title to this lesson. Remember the language of the Roman Road to Salvation that my young students put before me? Did you notice that all the sinners spoken about were in the pronoun form? If you do not pay careful attention to this lesson, you will miss the truth that is found in the following pages and may be unable to resist the temptation to write argumentative letters to me. For years, I have wanted to put the notes from these lectures into print, as if, once and for all, to settle those issues that confuse and divide our Christian people. Of course, it will not do so, for if I read the Word correctly, truth brings even more division. Paul states in 2 Thessalonians 2 that God uses the truth to confuse those who believe lies. Some of our people who cannot believe that God intentionally brings confusion and strong delusion need to review this chapter once again.

Since the advent of such theological conspirators as C.I. Scofield, and lesser-known men before and after him so far as influence is concerned, our brethren have never been weaned from the warm milk of the Word. They seem content to be coddled as if the Word had only a personal thrust and they have learned all they need to know. Taught in a dozen different ways, and by as many different denominations, including the Catholics and the Mormons, the bottom line of this Scofielditis is the personal promises and personal objectives found in the Bible. The other parts of the Bible are either ignored or not understood in the darkness of this purely personal gospel. Thus, with the bones of Scofield coaching from the sidelines, Christians now suppose that those Pronouns of Promise found in the New Testament apply to whosoever manages to pick up a copy of the Bible and reads them.

As the late Will Rogers used to say, "It ain't so much what a man doesn't know that causes him so many problems, but what he knows that just ain't so." I receive dozens of letters every week, and they are all addressed to me as "Dear Brother Davis..." In one such letter a few years ago, a Christian brother from New Jersey offered me a Lincoln automobile in fine condition. He added in his letter, "If you will come here and pick it up, you can have it at no cost." As it happened, of course, my associate read the letter first. Do you think that she was the least bit confused as to whom the automobile was being given? Do you suppose that she asked for a few days off, and left at once, with the letter in her hand, intent upon claiming and taking possession of the Promise? Certainly not, for she is wise enough to know that the pronoun, you, did not apply to her but rather to Nord Davis to whom the letter had been addressed. We have no authority in the English language, or for that matter the Greek, to assign pronouns to anyone other than those to whom they apply.

The Bible, with its many authors in the Old and New Testaments, was directed to only One People, a peculiar people God says, above all the peoples of the earth. As early as the 5th chapter of Genesis, Moses draws a clear line between the "generations of Adam" and the other peoples of the earth. Every Bible author directs his words, inspired of God, to this One People, designated progressively as the Kindred of Adam through the Seed of the Woman, to Abraham's one line of Isaac through Jacob, and his twelve sons. Christ came, as the Kinsman Redeemer to these carefully selected people, called His People, who were in sin. To preach otherwise, or to teach and believe otherwise, it is necessary that these Pronouns of the New Testament be personalized right out of their context, setting, and intent. To do so insinuates that those pronouns have a universal application and assignment, and that God loves those whom the Bible says He hates and offers salvation to those the Word clearly says are literally condemned from birth as a matter of race, as stated by Obadiah. I admit that I do not understand God's Ways in these matters, but I must and do accept them.

Christian Humanists, of the Scofield Cult, can neither understand nor accept such teachings. The Potter, they suppose, has no rights over the clay which He created, and has no business forming of one lump a vessel for honor and another a vessel for dishonor. [Romans 9:21] So, in keeping with the universalism of the projected world government schemes, and to prevent Christian objections to interracial fornication, the clear thrust of the Bible was changed, and the major false teaching introduced into the church that God loves All Men, and that Christ would have Every Man saved. Christ, who knows the beginning from the end, had to have been thinking of C.I. Scofield when He rebuked Esau's sons with these fitting words:

"Woe unto you, Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye compass sea and land to make one proselyte, and when he is made, ye make him two-fold more the child of hell than yourselves." - Matthew 23:15

How do we unravel these Bible "contradictions?" The enemies of God's Word, along with some honest agnostics and ignorant atheists, are quick to point to the Scriptures and in two or three minutes come up with what seems to the unlearned, along with most fundamental Christians, a host of what appears to be a list of contradictions in the Bible. I contend that there are no such contradictions, and insist that God is the same yesterday, today, and forever. He is not the Author of confusion, and where contradictions at first glance seem to appear, we are commanded to study to show ourselves approved of God, a workman that need not be ashamed.

As I mentioned previously, I receive all sorts of letters which demand that I respond to some contrary point of doctrine from what I have written. If I answered each letter in the detail that their questions properly demanded, I would get nothing else accomplished. Where I have done so, they quickly realize that they have not studied to show themselves approved of God, and my letter makes them ashamed. That is not my purpose in life, but rather to be a teacher, one of the lawful Christian callings. After the first editions of Star Wars were printed, several people from under the preaching of the Scofield Cult, would write me stating part of I Timothy 2:3-4 as "But Pastor Davis... God would have all men to be saved." Is that true? Who is the Word referring to when it says "all men" in so many places? Can you resolve this list of 42 "contradictions" of the Bible?

Luke 2:10 - "Behold I bring you good tidings of great joy, that shall be to ALL PEOPLE."

Matthew 1:21- "And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shall call his name Jesus, for he shall save HIS PEOPLE (not all people) from their sins:"

I Timothy 4:10- "We trust in the living God, who is the Savior of ALL MEN, especially those that (now) believe."

Matthew 1: 1-18- "The book of the generation (race or kindred) of Jesus Christ... Abraham; Isaac, Jacob, Joseph, Jesus..."

I Cor. 15:22- "For as in Adam ALL die, even so in Christ shall ALL be made alive; but every man in his own order..."

Matthew 1:23- "Behold, a virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a Son, and they shall call His Name Emmanuel, which being interpreted is. God with US." (The peoples of the generations of Jesus Christ through David and Jacob-Israel)

I Timothy 2:3-4- "For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God OUR Savior, who would have ALL MEN to be saved, and come into the knowledge of the truth."

Matthew 2:6- "And thou Bethlehem, in the land of Judea, art not the least among the princes of Judah, for out of thee shall come a Governor, that shall rule MY PEOPLE Israel."

Romans 5:18- "...judgment came upon ALL Men to condemnation; even so by the righteousness of one, the free gift came upon ALL MEN unto justification of life."

Luke 1:33- "And He shall reign over the House of Jacob forever; and of His kingdom there shall be no end."

Titus 2:11- "The grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared to ALL MEN."

Luke 1:68- "Blessed be Yahweh God of Israel; for He hath visited and redeemed HIS PEOPLE."

John 12:32- "And I, if I be lifted up from earth, will draw ALL MEN unto Me."

Luke 1:69- "And hath raised up a horn of salvation for US in the house of His servant David."

II Corinthians 5:15- "He died for ALL."

Luke 1:76, 77- "And thou, child (John the Baptist) ...to give knowledge of salvation unto HIS PEOPLE, by the remission of THEIR SINS:"

I Timothy 2:6- "Christ Jesus, who gave Himself a ransom for ALL, to be testified to in due time."

Matthew 3:7- "But when he (John the Baptist) saw many of the Pharisees and Sadducees had come to his baptism, he said unto them, ...who warned you of the wrath to come?"

II Peter 3:9- "Yahweh is not slack concerning His promise (to Israel) not willing that ANY should perish, but that ALL should come to repentance."

Matthew 10:5-6- "And these twelve Jesus sent forth, and commanded them saying, Go NOT into the way of the nations, and into ANY city of the Samaritans ENTER YE NOT, but rather to the lost sheep of THE HOUSE OF ISRAEL."

Romans 11:32- "God hath concluded them ALL in unbelief, that He might have mercy upon All."

Luke 19:27- "But those Mine enemies, which would not that I should rule over them, bring hither (to Jerusalem) and slay them before Me."

John 3:16- "For God so loved the world that He gave his only begotten Son, that WHOSOEVER believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

John 8:43,44- "Why do ye not understand My speech? Even because YE CANNOT HEAR MY WORD. Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do. He was the murderer from the beginning and abode not in the truth, because there is no truth in him:"

Hebrews 2:9- "But we see Jesus, who by the Grace of God should taste death for EVERY MAN."

Matthew 26:28- "For this is My blood of the new testament, which is shed for MANY (not ALL) for the remission of sins."

John 1:9- "That was the true Light, which lights every man that cometh into the world."

Mark 4:11,12- "And He said unto them, Unto YOU is given to know the mystery of the Kingdom of God: but unto them that are without, all these things are done in parables: that seeing they see and not perceive; and hearing they may hear and may not understand; lest at any time they should be converted, and their sins should be forgiven them."

I John 2:22- "He is the propitiation for OUR sins, and not for ours only, but also for the sins of the WHOLE WORLD."

Matthew 15:22,23- "And behold, a WOMAN OF CANAAN came out of the same coasts, and cried unto him saying, have mercy on me, O Lord, Thou Son of David; my daughter is grievously vexed with a devil. BUT HE ANSWERED HER NOT A WORD...."

John 8:12- "I am the light of THE WORLD."

Matthew 15:23,24- "And His disciples came and besought Him, saying, SEND HER AWAY; for she cries after us. But He answered and said, I am NOT sent but unto the lost sheep of the House of Israel."

John 4:42- "We know this is indeed the Christ, the Savior of THE WORLD."

Matthew 15:25- "Then came she and worshipped Him, saying, Lord help me. But He answered and said, It is NOT meet (lawful or proper) to take from the children's bread and cast it to dogs (non-Israelites)."

Mark 16:15- "Go ye into ALL THE WORLD and preach the Gospel to EVERY CREATURE."

Matthew 15:27,28- "And she said, TRUTH LORD: yet the dogs eat the crumbs from the master's table. Then Jesus answered her and said unto her, O woman, great is thy faith. Be it unto thee even as thou wilt. And her daughter was made whole from that very hour." (It does not say that she and her daughter were saved from that very hour as some writers suggest.)

Joel 2:28- "I will pour out My Spirit upon ALL FLESH."

Amos 3:2- "YOU ONLY have I known (Heb. yada = acknowledged, respected recognized) of all the families of the earth."

John 1:29- "Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the WORLD."

John 6:37- "ALL THAT THE FATHER GIVETH ME shall come to Me; and him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out..."

Isaiah 45:22- "Look to me, and be ye saved, ALL THE ENDS OF THE EARTH."

I Peter 2:9- "But ye are a chosen generation (genos meaning offspring, kind, kindred, stock, race), royal priesthood, an holy nation (ethnos meaning race, tribe, and from where every word translated "gentile" comes from), a peculiar (peripoiesis meaning purchased, acquired, bought, possessed and/or owned, specifically guarded and hedged about and bestowed upon) people; THAT YE shall show forth the praises of Him who hath called YOU out of darkness into His marvelous light."

Every one of the lightly printed verses were sent to me in letters trying to prove that Christ died for every man or all the world, meaning peoples of the earth. I could go on with this set of apparently contradictory statements from the inerrant Word of God for another ten pages. These are 42 verses, with 21 of them seeming to suggest an intent on the part of Almighty God and our Savior Jesus Christ to save all mankind. Every Creature, All Men, All Flesh, and all the families of the earth, seems plain and clear enough. Then there are 21 verses from the same Bible authors, and often from Christ's own lips, that The Plan of Salvation was and is highly restricted and specifically limited to only certain people. For whom then, did Christ intend to die? Whose sins did Christ pay for? What peculiar people are bought with a price? Who are the guarded, the hedged about, and the bestowed upon? People write me stating that they read the Bible every day. Wonderful! Then who among them can solve the riddle of the apparent contradictions in just these 42 verses?

Most of my fundamentalist friends, who say that they believe the Bible "from cover to cover including the cover," are still content to ignore these alleged contradictions and urge their minister to preach to the hundreds in his congregation on the theme, "Christ died for YOU." While he may think that he is "winning souls," the fact of the matter is that this may not be a truthful statement at all. Who are the chosen kindred, off-spring, and stock that make up the holy nation to be reconciled to God? For whom was Christ the Substitute? Did He go to the Cross for the betrayers Esau or Judas the Edomite/Canaanite? Deeper still, did Christ accomplish His objective, or did He fall far short, since obviously most of mankind has never been saved. The answer to these questions is part of the solution to that riddle.

Without apology, I must insist that Christ accomplished exactly, and completely, what He intended. Most ministers today insult the Gospel of Christ by teaching that there is a distinction and a difference between what Christ did in dying for all mankind, and what He accomplished with such a tiny minority being saved through His Sacrifice. They are preaching, and I do not know how to state it more delicately, that percentage wise, Christ's death was an abysmal failure. He never got what He wanted accomplished. Brother and Sister, that is pure nonsense!

I shudder when I happen to hear this preaching over the radio or on television which teaches, in effect, that Christ not only willingly shed His Blood, but He inadvertently spilled most of it. They preach that he intended to save all mankind, but 99% were never saved by Him. So, our inept Savior shed 1% of His Blood for the saved and spilled 99% of it for the unsaved. What kind of an anti-Christ "gospel" is that?

Almost every church in America today, if you will examine its doctrine carefully, preaches this major error. Such teaching cannot be found in the words of such great evangelists of the past such as George Whitfield and Charles H. Spurgeon. Never once did they preach or write the phrase, "Christ died for you." It is simply not Scriptural, for in the case of most of mankind, and a hefty minority of Americans, it is not true. If Christ's Sacrifice took away the penalty of Every Man's sins, then Every Man is saved. Such a conclusion is obviously not true.

How then can we begin to resolve this riddle? It is not enough to read the Bible; it must be studied. Here is a little insight to get us started. Every one of the authors of the books of the Bible were descended from a peculiar kindred and stock. They were all the same race, without exception. Wouldn't you find that an amazing coincidence if the Bible message was intended for all mankind? The genealogies of these people are repeated again and again almost to the point of redundancy. The writers of the New Testament continue to repeat these genealogies so that even a "New Testament Christian" is without excuse as to what kindred and stock of people Christ came to seek and to save, and which peoples of the earth His specific Mission was to ignore and avoid wherever possible.

Not only were the Old Testament authors of the same kindred and race, but every one of them directed his specific prophecies and instructions to only that specific kindred of people. There is not one exception. You will look in vain to find any suggestion or authorization that these Israelite kindred were to send missionaries or teach the truths of Almighty God to any of the heathen living around and among them. Quite the contrary, for Holy Writ is clear that God's Holy Nation was not to have anything whatever to do with these peoples, and marriage between them was strictly forbidden. Even where there seems to have been exceptions, as with Ruth, the "Moabitess," further investigation establishes that she was of the stock of Israel living in Moab. I live in Cherokee County, North Carolina, but I am not a Cherokee. The Old Testament ends with the instruction to look back to your fathers, and the New Testament begins with this reminder of the kindred relationship to this people of both Joseph and the Virgin Mary. Nowhere in the Old Testament, if studied in its context, will you find any such universal salvation being offered to EVERY MAN or to ALL PEOPLES. Why not, do you suppose?

First, read Genesis 4:16-24. It is the genealogy of Cain. In contrast, read Genesis 5. It is the genealogy or kindred of Adam. What is the first thing you notice? Cain is not listed as a son of Adam but has his own kindred people. It is interesting to note that both Cain and Adam have an Enoch in their lineages. These are different men, living years apart, and not to be confused one with the other. Lots of folks are fooled about the Enoch's of the Bible, and their theology wanders off into oblivion. Stop reading this lesson and read the suggested texts above, or you may be quickly left behind.

Second, read Genesis 3:15. Almighty God establishes for His Purposes that there would be a perpetual hatred between the sons of Cain and the sons of Adam and the woman, Eve. If you have missed this one point, Scripture is going to be a mysterious, or even closed book to you. Scriptures further state that Cain's children were to be forever at enmity with Almighty God Himself. There was to be no reconciliation between them forever, and eventually, as the House of Esau (Edom), be wiped off the earth down to the very last man, woman, and child.

Third, the point to remember here is that it would be Cain's children that would crucify His Son, the Messiah Christ, as forecast from this earliest time in Scripture. Most Christians know this, but their thought-theology treats the historical and the racial facts of the Bible separately from the other spiritual teachings. This is their grand mistake.

So, beginning in Genesis 4 and 5, we see that mankind, so far as the historical players of the Bible are concerned, are divided along two distinct lines. We are NOT including here the Asian, East Indian, and Black peoples, who make up most of all mankind in this discussion. Half of the Biblical group is descended from Cain and the other half descended from Adam. This is one fact that most Christians never notice when they read their Bible without careful study. Although most ministers with theology training know it, the doctrines of their denomination do not permit it to be taught. The half from Cain, Almighty God makes very plain, are forever barred from salvation. John the Baptist knew this, and as the forerunner of Christ, never spoke of baptism to the Scribes and Pharisees. He even asked them who had warned them about the wrath to come. We know that this first "New Testament Preacher" never mentioned it to the sons of the Serpent Race. There was to be no salvation offered to the wicked sons of Cain, identified by a host of different names through the saga of Bible history.

This hard truth was known by every Bible author who repeated what Almighty God had directed him for each word of Scripture He set forth for us to study. Almighty God is the same yesterday, today, and forever. What He proclaimed about Cain's children some 6,000 years ago, is still true today. A minority of the world's population are Cain's children, about the same number as Yahweh's Caucasian people if we can assume that each line propagated about equally. Isn't it true that about 80% of the world's population want nothing whatsoever to do with the God of the Old Testament? Are you beginning to see some Truth?

The Bible authors certainly did not intend to contradict Almighty God and proclaim that ALL MEN are to be saved in Christ Jesus, insinuating that Cain's children are now to be included. This is the philosophy of "Christian humanism," not the Word of God. When Luke writes that Christ's coming was a joy to All People, He was only talking to All People among the kindred and genealogy of Christ who was tied to their Kinsman Redeemer. When John writes (I John 2:22] that Christ is to be the propitiation for the sins of the Whole Word, it is not to mean that Cain and all his murdering bands from the beginning of time, are henceforth forgiven. The Kinsman can only redeem his own kin, not the kin of anyone else. That should be Bible 101. Why then do we have foolish Christians preaching that those non-kindred peoples were redeemed by Christ's Sacrifice on the Cross? Such humanism makes the Word of God of none effect and sets forth Almighty God as an unreliable liar.

So, if Cain's children are still living on the earth until the earth is cleansed of their wickedness, God's Spirit will not be poured out on All Flesh. Until then, known as the time of the burning of the Tares, Scripture is plain as to which flesh, and to what portion of the world's peoples, are included in the manifold Promises of God. From this, you have an idea which "whosoever" Jesus was talking about, and who are the Sheep of His Pasture, and who, John records in Chapter 10, are not His sheep v. 26-27

Are you beginning to see that "rightly dividing the Word of God" includes as its basic and primary function the rightly dividing the peoples of the world? Contrary to the popular, humanistic, and universalism salvation messages so common today, are you seeing that this is not the Plan of God at all, but a deliberate and cruel fraud upon God's People, as well as the non-Israel people?

Let us move on to another "division" among the world's peoples. This time, instead of examining the line outside of Adam as Cain's children, we will see that there are divisions within the kinfolk of Adam. One of these was between the various children of Abraham, with his several wives. Only the line through Sarah and Isaac, according to Scripture, is to be the line of the Promise. Humanism insists that for God to show such adamant favoritism is grossly unfair and it seeks to rectify His racism by offering Christ's Salvation to assorted mixed peoples of the earth.

Moving down a generation, we have the well-known pair of twins, Jacob and Esau. All Christians know this story well, for there are many who teach that Jacob, a major Forefather of Christ, was nothing more than a "rip-off artist", stealing the birthright heritage from his brother. Christian humanists feel sorry for Esau, and the conspiracy against him, by his brother and his own mother. Again, as with Cain and Abel, we have a set of twins who represent good and evil. There is no doubt that Esau's racial heritage was perfect. He was a kinsman of the men of the Promise. His problem can be summed up this way. He despised his Birthright. As a humanist, he thought his heritage and his kindred people relationship had no value or meaning whatever. Today, Esau would call such an idea "racist." He could not care less. His second problem was in his choice of wives. The story of his forbidden marriages is set forth in Genesis 28:6-9. Isaac, his father, forbade Esau from marrying the daughters of Canaan whom Isaac knew were evil. How would Isaac suspect that the daughters of Canaan were evil? Because he knew that they were of the kindred of Cain. It turned out that Isaac was right for from these wives there were produced a people called Esau-Edom. We will discuss this sordid bunch in later lessons of Star Wars, but for this study it is enough to refer you to what the Lord God has to say about Esau-Edom. It is only two pages long by the Prophet Obadiah, one of the so-called minor prophets skillfully overlooked by modern Christian ministers. Esau's outcome, despite the humanist's complaints about God's unfairness, can be stated in just two verses, 17 and 18. It is future prophecy, and it has not happened yet. Christians are, even now, witnessing to Esau/Edom and Cain's Kin, hoping to get them "saved" so that they can go to heaven when they die. That is not the plan of Yahweh for this heathen people. Here is what God has to say about the Esau-Edom division of the sons of Adam:

"But upon mount Zion shall be deliverance, and there shall be holiness; and the House of Jacob shall possess their possessions. And the House of Jacob shall be a fire, and the House of Joseph shall be a flame, and the House of Esau for stubble, and they shall kindle them, and devour them, and there shall not be any remaining of the House of Esau; for Yahweh hath spoken it."

-Obadiah 17-18

Do you believe God's Word? There is coming a time when the House of Jacob-Israel will wipe out the House of Esau-Edom down to the very last man, woman, and child. You say that you do not believe that God will do this? It is too unfair and too cruel? If so, you hold the thought-theology of a secular humanist. Christians believe the Bible as infallible. But, you complain, that is the Old Testament. Secular humanism always rejects the "cruel God of the Old Testament" and promotes a new religion called "New Testament theology" or "Christ only theology" where their new god is a god of love and grace only. Yet, it is there in the Old Testament that you will find most of the prophecy of things still to come before Christ returns. We had better become familiar with it.

Esau's kindred live all over the world today. They live among us here in America and in some areas make up most of the voting populations. Is there any Biblical offer to the House of Esau? None whatsoever. I would estimate that Esau's children make up most people causing trouble on the earth today, all of whom Obadiah says are going to be kindled and devoured as stubble. Jesus Christ called them Tares and not one of them shall remain. Are we then so foolish as to suppose that Esau's children are included in such verses as, "God would have Every Man to be saved?" Do you think that Jesus Christ was speaking of Cain and Esau when He stated, "Behold I stand at the door and knock: If Any Man hear my voice and open the door, I will come into him, and sup with him and he with me?" Of course not.

What C.I. Scofield, and other secular humanists posing as Christians would have us believe, is that Christ came to offer salvation to Cain and Esau, rescinding not only God's Laws, Statutes, and Judgments, but His pronouncements on the House of Esau as well. Esau and his people are not kinsmen of Christ and any references to "whosoever will," "all men," and "every creature" certainly does not apply to most of mankind, no matter what your local minister says about it. The genealogy of Esau is found in Genesis, Chapter 36.

Millions of dollars in Christian tithes are being used to witness to both Cain's kindred and Esau's children to no effect whatever. They are being told the so-called fundamentalist lie that "God loves them," despite the plain Scriptural teaching that Cain is of Satan and that God hated Esau even before he was born. Christian Humanists insinuate that God was unjust in His dealings with Cain and Esau; that they both tried to do their best and failed and go ahead and offer them salvation anyway. Christ addressed this nonsense when He stated:

"Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing (disguised as those of Christ's sheepfold), but inwardly they are ravening wolves. " - Matthew 7:15

The next division of Adam, which I will discuss in this Star Wars lesson is between Judah's two wives, Shuah and Tamar, and their two lines of children. The Bible is clear that Shuah was a Canaanite. I know that her racial lines are subject to an honest difference of opinion among scholars. (Genesis 38 and I Chronicles 2) I hold that Shuah was of Cain, and it is obvious that none of her line were of the Promise. Judah, not learning the sad lesson taught to his uncle Esau, had to learn his own personal lessons regarding interracial fornication. (Scripture never says that he married the woman.)

The discreet point for this Bible study is that Shuah's first and second sons by Judah were, according to Scripture, wicked in the sight of God, and God slew them both. But, the third son, Shelah survived and produced a line of offspring. Hundreds of thousands of people came from this one half-breed Israelite, and they are causing all sorts of trouble on the earth today. Jesus Christ ran into these sons of Judah-Shuah, and with their wicked genes acting in full concert, they confronted Christ in John, Chapter 8. There are two clues to my position that Shuah was of Cain and that this anti-Christ bunch were descended from Abraham, Judah-Shuah, and Shelah. First, they state in verse 33, that they were never in bondage. If Shuah had been an Israelite, then their forefathers would have been in the Egyptian bondage. So, those Jews confronting Christ were not of Israel, but some other line. Do you understand that my dear Christian readers? But how do we know that they are from the loins of Shuah? First, they claim that their Father is Abraham, and Christ does not deny that, but draws a clear distinction between the Seed of Abraham, and the Children of Abraham (v 37-39). Here is the second clue. While these Jews are of the Seed of Abraham, they state that they were not born of fornication. Here they were challenging the lawful genealogy of Christ by bringing up the Tamar matter, Judah's out-of-wedlock affair with this Israelite young widow. Their statement was a legal admission that they are not of the Judah-Tamar-David line of the Promise.

Some who have read the rough draft of this lesson to help me prevent any errors, confusions, or double meanings, have challenged my statement that the woman Shuah was of Cain. With the Jews' challenge regarding the Tamar fornication properly identifying them as being of Abraham and Judah, but also never in bondage, Jesus Himself ties these Jews right back to Cain as their father, the murderer from the beginning. So, we have identified the origins of two lines of Jews on the earth today. One is of Cain, fathered by Satan, trying to steal the Birthright through Esau-Edom's Kindred. The second group of Jews is trying to claim the Judah Promise through Judah-Shuah and her son Shelah.

I know that all this is complicated to those who only read the Bible, but never study it. To those I suggest that you just believe Christ when He told the Jews that they are not and never can be the Israel of God. Therefore He stated to them in no uncertain terms in verse 43:

"(Jews)... ye cannot hear my word."

No question was raised here about their will being involved, only God's will. They cannot hear Him because they are not His Sheep, and with all due disrespect to modern preaching today, they will never hear Him and never be His Sheep. And for the past 2,000 years they never have, and nothing in the next few years is ever going to change either their Esau-Edom genes or their built-in thought-theology right from the mind of their father, the Devil.

I fully understand that what you have read in this lesson thus far is totally different than what you have been taught all your life. If what I have written here is the truth, it is going to mean a whole change in the way you look at the world and your Christian experience and activities. Jesus Christ, after He had told His Disciples that He spoke in parables so that most of the people hearing him would not understand, meaning that His message was not for ALL MEN, He then comforted them by saying:

"...But blessed are your eyes, for they see; and your ears for they hear. For verily I say unto you, that many prophets and righteous men have desired to see those things that you see and have not seen them; and to hear those things which ye hear and have not heard them." -Matthew 13:17

I know that most of your church friends, most of your family, most of your good and righteous neighbors are not going to understand what is written here. Quite frankly, the thought that Jesus Christ would not want EVERY MAN to understand; that He would, with careful deliberation and choice of words, exclude some people and include others, goes against the carnal human nature of our hearts and minds. I think that this solid Biblical truth is the most difficult to accept, much less understand or appreciate. The point here is that we need not understand it. We need not justify it in our minds or hearts. As with other Bible truths, we are asked to believe and preach what we have been given to see and hear. Jesus Christ knew that this was going to be a hard truth for His Disciples, and they asked Paul about it one more time and got their answer in Romans 9:10-24. The Potter does with the clay what He wants, forming some to honor and some to dishonor, showing mercy and withholding mercy, and despite it all, there is no unrighteousness with God. We do not have to understand this great mystery and Yahweh's ways are not our ways.

If His contemporary followers were going to have a hard time with this Truth, and they could keep asking questions of Him day and night, those of us hundreds of years later, steeped in modern secular humanism, the one world-ism of Scofield, and the covert New Age concepts, would have an even harder time. So, Jesus Christ went right on and told seven more parables without stopping, from Matthew 13:18 to 52. Each parable teaches this one Truth from a different perspective, still so that some would hear, and others would not. The bottom line of all of them is that Almighty God did not send Salvation to Every Man and that there are certain people, because of their Seed, Kindred, and Kind, that are of that Wicked One right from the beginning of time. These Wicked Tares cannot help themselves, for the hatred of Christ's Sheep is carried in their genes, and the Word of God has been excluded from their understanding by a deliberate intention of God's Plan for them. As Seedline Tares, they are not going to be saved regardless of how much truth you and I might heap upon them. Their fate is sealed, and they will be gathered as stubble and burned in the flame and fire by the Houses of Israel and Judah at the end of this world order. Even so, Yahweh, come quickly!

I know that most churches teach that everyone is a Tare until he becomes a "whosoever will" and "opens the door when Jesus knocks." Then, they say, he becomes a Wheat. They say that any Tare can become a Wheat if he wills it. If not, he is to be burned in the fire. No, Wheat are always Wheat, and Tares are always Tares, so formed by the Potter from the foundation of the Earth. They take the few "whosoever's" that are statements of fact and convert them into universal invitations as if by this they can refute a thousand pages of Holy Writ. Jesus Christ summed it all up when He gave us this glorious truth:

"Ye have NOT chosen Me, but I have chosen you, that ye should go and bring, forth fruit, and that your fruit shall remain that whatsoever ye ask of the Father in My Name, He may give it to you." - John 15:16

Many who will read this will think in their heart and mind that the racial questions are neither valid nor important. We think that if we love Jesus, who cares about kindreds, peoples, and birthrights? Was this not the same wicked thought that Esau entertained that forever blocked his generations from being a part of the Promises to Israel? At least Esau got the bowl of bean soup he had bargained for in return for his birthright.

Have you noticed that those to whom birthrights are worthless have, as did Esau, severe interracial problems in their homes, churches, and among their associates? Have you noticed that once God's birthrights and racial laws are abandoned, it is not long before every other Law of God, for the individual and the nation, is also ignored or done away with? Some Christians have been so seduced into the error of Esau-Edom that they even boast that God's Laws have been completely voided, and that we are living in the New Age of Grace, where if it feels good, it must be good. Along with the stubble of the Tares, there is going to be a whole lot of "Wood, Hay, and Stubble" of Christians whose works will not stand the test of fire. Once the smoke is cleared away, and the cleansing of the Kingdom is complete, the Houses of Israel and Judah will have the restored earth to themselves.

Some Christians write saying that God has changed His Mind about the matters of race and kindreds. In the last book of the Old Testament, just before the New Testament opens, we find Yahweh telling Malachi:

"...but I have hated Esau and have laid waste his mountains and his inheritance for the jackals of the wilderness." If Edom says, "We have been beaten down, let us return and build the ruins," Yahweh of Hosts said thus: "Let them build, but I tear down. And they shall be called 'Border of Wrongness', and the people against whom Yahweh is enraged forever. And your eyes shall see, and you shall say, 'Great is Yahweh beyond the border of Israel'."
-Malachi 1:3-5

Do you think that forever does not include the present time? Why are you sending your tithes and offerings to churches that deliberately seek out Esau-Edom to convert him, get him baptized, and even honored for his stand? Why is so much of Church money sent to the country of Israel? Do you really think that a few of Esau-Edom have defected to Christ's side? Who gave you the authority to countermand Almighty Yahweh's clear and specific instructions under the deceptive thought-theology like the "Brotherhood of Man?" These are hard questions for those who defiantly encourage others to love God's enemies. Something that Jesus Christ never once taught or suggested.

Is it any wonder that the preachers refuse to preach these verses of Brother Malachi? When was the last time you heard a sermon from one of these so-called minor prophets? They have some mighty and major things to say, brother and sister. Every doctrine I teach comes from two or more witnesses in the Bible. The 42 verses with which I began this lesson are only a tiny part of what could have been written on the matter.

How would those, who teach that Jesus Christ came to seek and save All Men, handle the word of God through Isaiah who certainly is one of the Christian's favorite prophets? Read these words about Esau-Edom's kin Moab:

"For the hand of Yahweh will rest on his mountain (nation), and Moab will be trodden down in his place, even as straw is trodden down in the water of a manure pile, and he shall spread out his hands in the middle of it as a swimmer spreads out his hands to swim, but Yahweh will lay low his pride together with the trickery of his hands."

Isaiah 25:10-11

Rough language? Swimming in a manure pile? These are not my words, but those of Almighty God, the Author of Love and Grace, Peace and Promise, and Law and Justice. His Servant Isaiah gave us a warning for our time too. Look across America and see if you can see Esau-Edom-Moab's manure pile and their water leaching out of it. Why are you sitting idle? And you think that the matter of birthrights, kindreds, and race is not important? Believe me, Esau-Edom-Moab know about things and act accordingly against Christians who are of the Woman's Seed. Esau/Edom does not care what your specific thought-theology is. He does not care which day of the week your Sabbath falls on. He does not care if your church authority comes down from Rome, Salt Lake City, or from the calling of a local pastor. He does not care if you are Baptist, Methodist, Catholic, Mormon, or some non-denominational sect.

What he, with the trickery of his hands, does not want you to know, or ever find out, is that they are a people chosen of God for destruction and who are identified by God as being of that wicked seed of Satan, the deceiver, the fornicator, and the murderer from the beginning. Esau-Edom does not want Christians to know their true identity, as he promotes everything that is wicked, lustful and degenerate to the kindred of God's people. He even has had laws passed recently that make the publishing of this Star Wars personal letter an international (Criminal-Admiralty) crime. Christ's Christian Elect, basking in the Esau-Edom Doctrine of Balaam deception, not only never "raised a wing or peeped," but they actually promoted it. We are seeing more and more censorship of the truth as time goes by.

Some Christians cannot handle the strong language of the likes of Malachi and Isaiah, and long for the words of David, the sweet singer of Israel. You have your favorites, such as lying down in green pastures beside the still waters, but that will not happen until some other things are first carried out. Hear David's prayer, and may it also be ours:

"Remember, O Yahweh, against the sons of Esau/Edom in the day of Jerusalem, who said Rise it, Rise it, to its very foundation. O Daughter of Babylon, who art to be destroyed, how blessed will be the one who rewards thee as thou hath served (gamal - treated) us. Blessed be he that takes and dashes thy little ones (your babies, children, kindred, posterity) against the stones." - Psalm 137:7-9

Again, rough language? How many Christians, who love Christ and His Word, insisting that they believe it from cover to cover, are ready to be that blessed one who will literally destroy the seed of the wicked one set forth in Esau-Edom-Moab-Canaanite-Jewry? The time is coming when not only must it be done, but it will be done. Christ's argument with the sons of Esau-Edom, the Pharisees of John 8, was about 2,000 years after Esau's death, and still they were not the Children of Abraham. Notice that God uses the racial term, Edom, throughout the Old Testament. Holy Writ, consistent from beginning to end, examines peoples as racial entities, not primarily as individuals or because of their religions. The word "personal" is found nowhere in the Bible, though we all know the Bible has a wealth of many personal applications. Our personal lives would never be the same without it's ever-present guiding light.

The Roman Road Revisited

"...There is none righteous ....

Romans 3 has to be one of the deepest and most difficult chapters in the Bible. The Scofield "Roman Road" picks two verses out of 31 to present a simple, but false gospel suggesting that no one on the whole earth is righteous, that is, no one obeys Yahweh's Laws, Statutes, and Judgments. This Chapter 3 is a span of thought that includes two other chapters that sincere Bible scholars have wrestled with for centuries. We will not settle it now but here is something to think about that was taught by our forefathers 200 years ago.

As we look at America and the world, it appears that sin abounds everywhere regardless of race, creed, or color. None seem to be "righteous." Let me ask you this question, however. Which race of people were in the valley when Moses came down from Mount Sinai and gave them the Law? There is only one race of people ever given the Law and who also promised that they would obey it. Therefore, and this is a key point, all people other than Jacob-Israel are not unrighteous for their status because they were never obliged to keep the Laws of Jacob-Israel in the first place. Thus, the statement by Paul that there are none righteous can only apply to the Jacob-Israel nation upon whom such righteousness is a requirement.

For instance, did you obey the Law that requires all men to sign up for the draft? No, because that law specifies only to certain young men between 18 and 25. Since you are not under the jurisdiction of that statute, you have not sinned and you are not unrighteous, either by omission or commission. Paul, in these chapters, refers to the Gentiles as having the Law written in their hearts [Chapter 2:15] which happened at the instant Christ died. He states that the Judeans not Jews, [Chapter 2:17] boast of the Law. He does not apply the Law to anyone but the two Houses of Jacob-Israel. So, while the Black, Asian, East Indian do those things that Jacob-Israel calls sin, the fact of the matter is since they are not of the status to be under those Laws, they are not unlawful or unrighteous. Are you beginning to gasp this deeper understanding? Unless you and I are of Jacob-Israel and descended from those forefathers who promised that they would obey the law, in a strictly lawful sense, we are not sinners. Death did not pass unto all men because of Adam, only the children of Adam. Adam is from a Hebrew word, aw-dawm, which as Strong's word #120 states, is a man who has a ruddy complexion, and has the unique ability to show blood in the face or blush. Only Adam's children, not the other races of the earth, can blush and show red in the face, are those upon whom death passed because of disobedience to the Jacob-Israel Laws of God. All of God's creation upon whom He gave the "breath of life," [Strong's words #5397 & 7307] eventually die, losing the breath of life. In the Adam, Abraham, Jacob-Israel line there is the promise of life in the world to come. The wages of sin to this group is death just as it is with the rest of creation. Scripturally, only a small remnant, most likely in the proportion of Gideon's 32,000 to 300, one out of a hundred, will be found among the Elect of Jesus Christ with the assured promise of everlasting life.

What do you think the key word here is? I think most Christians wish that Paul had not put in this word, yet. Yet is Strong's word #2089, and it means still. I asked my young Bible students if this meant that I was a sinner before Christ died for me? Does that mean that Almighty God unconditionally selected and foreordained me to be conformed to the image of His Son, who died for my sins before I was even born? Yes, that is true, and it is one of the most beautiful personal thoughts in the Bible. As Paul explains that great mystery in Romans, Chapter 9, Almighty God has the power of the Potter, to make of one lump of clay one vessel unto honor and another unto, dishonor. If you are one of God's Elect, God has ordained it for His Purposes, and you had nothing whatever to do with it. Further, you do not even have the ability to resist it. Contrary to the Scofield Cult, Grace, if extended to you, is irresistible. If you are of His Elect, the matter was settled while you were yet, still, a sinner. If it was so settled, and it is not of your doing and a matter you cannot resist, will your saved status ever change while you are living? No, for if you are His Elect, it is God's duty under contract, to preserve you and guard you so that no one can snatch you out of His Hand. Christ stated, "...Of them which Thou hast given Me, I have not lost one." [John 18:9]

As we have learned previously in this lesson, the text makes a deeper sense if it were to read, "...Of them which Thou hast given Me, I have put none away in punishment". Paul, in Romans 8:38-39, an effort to explain this mystery stated, "For I am persuaded that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor things present, nor things to come, nor powers, nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature will be able to separate us from God's love..." There is absolutely nothing in this world; nothing in the past, present or future, not tribulation, anguish, persecution, famine nor sword, that can alter the assured fact that Almighty God called us from the foundation of the world. There is no way that we can get up out of the wrong side of the bed some morning and turn against God. The common preaching today, in effect, is that you can get saved one day, and then in some emotionally charged moment, take it all back. Well, if you are the co-originator of your salvation, that is, you chose Christ, then there would be nothing to prevent you from deciding one day that this was not the lifestyle, dropping out of Christianity whenever you want.

Christian humanists, wanting always to have final and absolute control over their whole life, insist that if one does not have the choice to drop out, then that would make him some sort of "robot." Listen to Christians when they pray. When they are in trouble, or some loved one is injured or sick, they pray as though Almighty God and His Son controlled every part of the outcome. Once everything is going fine for them, they go back to their humanist ideas, and think that they are co-authors of their salvation. No, if you are one of the Elect, then even your faith is a gift of God, not as some teach, your faith is your gift to God. Everything on the earth is exactly as God wants it to be at any given moment. Yes, this includes our problems, heartaches, and disappointments. All things work together for good. If this were not so, then Almighty God has no control of His Creation, and we do not need Him.

Notice: All of my students know this, but since many new ones will be reading Star Wars for the first time, it is important to emphasize one profoundly serious point at this time.

I hold no hatred or dislike for the Black, East Indian, or Asian races. Hundreds of these people are on our mailing list and they understand the truth of our teachings. Those people that God calls good in Genesis 1:31, I also say are good. Those whom Almighty God says are chosen above all other people of the earth, I call chosen above the other people of the earth. Those peoples and kindreds who God says He hates, as in Romans 9:13 and Malachi 1:3, I hold that same position, doing so regardless of recent regulations and enforcement programs to the contrary. Where God says that interracial marriage is wicked, I also make that statement without apology to anyone who might be thereby offended. When Jesus Christ states under His Authority that certain people are of their father the Devil, I have no problem with making similar statements, adamantly holding to that Biblical position. Those who are offended by God's Word and our fearless proclamation of it, need to study the Word prayerfully seeking truth. Do not write letters to me arguing with how God's Word lines up with the Fatherhood of God, Brotherhood of Man ideas that you may hold. We are called to teach and not debate how man's secular humanism might make more or less logical sense than the Bible does. Please also do not bring your arguments to me from the framework of such non-Bibles as the so-called Living Bible, Message Bible, or other deceptive popular mistranslations. Address any reasonable questions to me from the King James, (with many reservations), Webster, or the Geneva texts. Roman Catholic readers may ask questions from the Douay-Rheims translation, [with many] reservations, but certainly nothing else translated and published after about 1950.

Solving the Theological Riddle

The riddle to be solved is this. Since the Pharisee Jews have been identified by Christ as being Satan's physical seedline and kindred, then the Gospel of Christ is not for them. If their seedline was not a physical one, but only a spiritual one, as some suggest, then there would be nothing to prevent Esau's children from getting their spirit right with God and be saved. Some of my good Christian friends, who hold that Satan does not have a literal seedling, are preaching, in effect; that ALL MEN can be saved, if they would only get, their spiritual genes altered by getting the spiritual seed of Satan out and spiritual woman's seed in. That, they say, is but a simple matter of their free will to choose Christ and thus become a spiritual Israelite. They imply that by their will anyone can change from a Tare to a Wheat.

If there is one thread of theology that is consistent all through the Bible it is that people are chosen of God, or rejected of God, because of their literal physical genes, and not because of their will or intentional spiritual attitude. In fact, as Biblical history shows us clearly, God's chosen people had a terrible and wicked spiritual attitude for the majority of the time, but merely because of their kindred and race and some promises made to their fathers, God chose them and kept them as the apple of his eye anyway.

One of the key postulates of the New Age Movement is that Satan does not exist except as a figment of our imagination, or as a mere spiritual entity that can be wished away at will. Thus, they teach, your mind is either God or Satan depending upon how you think. When pushed to the wall, secular humanists, who recognize neither God or Satan, would also hold that this is true but use different terms for them, such as light and dark forces. The key fable (falsehood) of Esau's people is that they are not fathered by Satan, and for that matter, Satan does not exist. Some hold the opposite position, that Satan is God, and that God does not exist, so that He could not have a chosen race. Thus, they say, all men are really brothers. You will find this humanistic teaching coming from a host of different places, from so-called Bible scholars and intellectuals, to the dregs of the drag, occult, and Eastern cultures. Recognize the concept when you hear it, regardless of its source.

So, if Esau-Edom-Moab and other interrelated children of the wicked one are to be burned as stubble, and the Black, East Indian, Asian, etc. peoples were never, so far as we know, in Jerusalem in the thousands of years of their history, then who and what race are the children of the Promise? Every race has been ruled out except one, the Caucasian race. As far back as history records, Christianity has been the theology of the Caucasian peoples of the earth regardless of the dozens of different ways they have preached or promoted it.

Let us put away the myth, this Jewish fable (lie) from the mind of Esau-Edom and the father of lies, Satan, that Jesus Christ died for All Men, and that the Whole World, meaning that every race is fertile ground into which the so-called spiritual seed of Christ can be sown and reap fruit. The majority of the world are thorn people. They are stony place people. They are street people and so forth. They are not given to see or understand, and God does not want them to be converted. For hundreds of years, Christians have sent their missionaries into the Asian and African nations of the world, yet there has yet to rise anything like a Christian nation among them. Yes, they have been induced into making Christian professions, and to sing Christian hymns, but where is the national Christian fruit? Their society and their primary culture have not changed. All things do not become new. They may even worship Christ, beg for His help, and seem to have great faith, but once the Christian missionary leaves their land, as we have watched for the past 100 years, their theology and culture returns to what it has been for thousands of years.

A certain Edomite lawyer once asked Christ a legal question regarding the meaning of the word neighbor whom Christ had commanded His followers to love. The answer that Jesus Christ gave to this Edomite was racially motivated. This neighbor would be from among a people that the Edomite's disliked and despised. These neighbors, in striking contrast to the Edomite Jews, would be identified as a people bearing fruit of the Kingdom. No, he would not be like either the Priest or the Levite of that day, but would be of a different kindred and race, a Samaritan. Did it ever occur to you that at that time in history, almost all of the House of Judah and the House of Israel had been taken into captivity in Assyria? See what you miss when you do not study your Bible?

Jesus knew where His sheep were, although in contrast to the popular hymn, the 99 were lost, and only 1 was not. A tiny remnant of Jacob's Seed remained in Jerusalem, just enough to accomplish God's prophetic appointments. During the longest period of Israel's history, it was Samaria, not Jerusalem, that was the capital city of the Ten Tribes of Israel. This is the kindred of all the sons of Jacob except Judah and Benjamin. Thus, the Good Samaritan was not of Judah, and of course not an Edomite Jew. The ministers today know that the vast majority of Israelites are not of the tribe of Judah.

They will never tell you, mostly because they were never taught in seminary and have never studied the fact, that the majority of historic Israelites escaped from Assyria over the Caucasus Mountains to the north and have been generally known as Caucasians ever since.

So, Christ told this lawyer that the House of Judah's neighbor to be loved is part of the Ten Tribes of Israel, those people who generally seem to do things, such as caring for the sick and unfortunate that Christians do. Incidentally, the particular word Christ used here proves the point. The Greek word translated neighbor is adelphos. It means literally, united in the womb. Love those, Christ instructs, who are united in the womb with you. Again, Christ flatly told this man a highly emotional racial truth. There is not spiritual unity in the womb. The Asians, the Blacks, and all the Houses of Cain, Esau, Canaanite, and Moab are not united in the womb with us of Caucasian Christian Israel stock and kindred. None of these peoples, including the Jews from one or more of these peoples, have produced fruits of the Kingdom during the past 2,000 years.

Interesting, isn't it? This IS a Bible truth that we are not supposed to mention in polite society. Jesus Christ repeated again and again that His coming was not but unto the put away in punishment sheep of the House of Israel. He came as a Kinsman Redeemer to redeem His People who were united in the womb with Him. How does your minister make "ALL NATIONS" or "EVERY MAN" out of so clear a teaching? A Primitive Methodist Church I know in Georgia has over the pulpit the declared motto of the church:

"Go therefore and teach all nations." Matthew 29:19

In English, we tend to use the definite article "the" everywhere, scattering it through our language and there is usually no emphasis on it. This is not so in the Koine Greek. In English I would write, I read the book. In Greek if I used the definite article, I must write, I read the book. In the original Greek text, the above words of Christ read, "...teach all the nations..." The Nations are those united in the womb for thousands of years. The Nations does not mean All Nations, for to do so would contradict hundreds of pages of your Bible. God is not the author of such confusion. Esau/Edom and his fellow deceivers are deceivers from the beginning and from such we must turn away.

With all that we have written, with the great sweep and scope of Scripture, from the first chapters of Genesis to the last words of Revelation, it has been set in concrete that only the kindred of Israel, out of the generations of Adam, are the people of Yahweh. Christ reminded us once again, before completing the Word of God:

"I, Yahshua Messiah, have sent mine angel to testify unto you these things in the churches. I am the root and off-spring of David, the bright and morning star. And the Spirit and the Bride (physical Israel) say, come. And to him that is thirsty, come. And whosoever will, let him take of the water of life freely." Revelation 22:16-17

Whosoever is not a universal invitation extended to All Peoples and All Men. The invitation from Messiah Christ, the Spirit, and the Bride-nation is come into your Father's House, His Kingdom designed and being built from the foundations of the earth.

My Analysis and Personal Opinion. An Editorial Comment.

The major problem in America, as I see it, is not philosophical, political, social, racial, or economic. The problem is theological. I use the term thought-theology, because as a man thinketh, so is he. America was once a Christian land, and Almighty Yahweh blessed us above every nation on the earth, in lifestyle, material wealth, and military power to defend ourselves. We were once a nation that never lost a war, you could walk the streets without fear, and in which murderers were executed. We were a nation that understood the racial questions and taught that every race was to be after its own kind, and in general, the various races did get along well within their own social and ethnic structures. We did not permit the heathen, and people who refused to work, to vote themselves a welfare income from the common treasury or put over us anti-Christ Zionist leaders of the likes of Henry Kissinger. Today, we have become an Esau/Edom

Zionist controlled nation where interracial marriages are not only permitted but encouraged. American soldiers are sent into heathen lands and encouraged to bring back heathen (as a Biblical term and sense) wives and their half-breed children to live among us, thus altering our national thought-theology along the planned lines of the Brotherhood of Man theme. So-called Christian churches and organizations encourage the importation of these Asian-American children, mixed with either Caucasian or Black blood. Then they are taught the Gospel, as if it were intended for All Men and Whosoever Will. But Almighty God, who changes not, said in Deuteronomy 23:2

"A bastard shall not enter into the congregation of Yahweh, even unto his tenth generation shall he not enter into the congregation of Yahweh."

The Hebrew word bastard does not mean an illegitimate child born out of wedlock, as it does in English, but is the Hebrew word mamzer, literally and positively meaning mongrel, i.e., a child of the union of an Israelite and any non-Israelites. Your Bible makes it plain that such mongrels are not to enter the Kingdom of Heaven prepared by Jesus Christ since the foundation of the world.

Paul amplifies this teaching in Hebrews 12:8 wherein he makes the point that God only corrects His sons and not All Men. Paul draws a clear distinction between legitimate sons, and illegitimate sons, and the New Testament calls these people bastards. The other races are good, as God has created them for His purposes, each after his own kind. When this is not the case, and bastards are conceived, it is not good. Secular humanist Christians, who are always questioning God's Rights and Authority, flatly state that He is not just and fair with this bastard child since his wretched situation is not his fault. Scofielditis, a common terminal infection of thought-theology, says that this teaching is terrible, and that God is a God of love and compassion who could not hold this unjust attitude. There must be some mistake. What these humanists do not know is that all races have a particular racial memory that God has built into them for their own good. (DNA) In love for His People, and for the greater good of the other races He created, He does not want these racial memories mixed between the races, as happens when bastards are conceived. You can see the major problems that these bastards must cope with, having the blend of both racial memories and not understanding those conflicting forces going on in their minds. (Or bodies for that matter.)

An Important Tactical Footnote

Remember this truth. Esau/Edom is always trying to steal back the Birthright. Make no mistake about it, Esau/Edom/Jewry fully understands these racial questions and knows their implications. There are no kindred more racist than an Edomite Talmudic Jew. Anyone can read their books to see that this is a truth. As concerning the Jew, his racism is perfectly acceptable by our upside-down Christian standards. The one race that is so hopelessly intermixed that it cannot be traced to anywhere but Mongolia and ancient Babylon, now tries to insist that they are a pure race of Israelites. In our ignorance we let them get away with it. Yet if the Caucasian Christian wants to keep his racial heritage pure and seeks to separate his family from the strangers of the land along with their culture, drugs, and rock music, the Jews are the first to pronounce epithets upon us, calling us racists when we expose the tricks of their hands.

Most European Jews and their children here in America, claim their heritage back to Ashkenaz (Khazaria), and even have a particular blood disease by that name. But Ashkenaz, as your Bible clearly states in Genesis 10:3, was not descended from Shem at all, but was a great-grandson of Japheth. Your deceiving minister knows this all too well (or is just as blind as the masses), but if you mention it to him, watch his eyes. They will roll up in their sockets, and he will mumble, God will curse you if you do not bless the Jews, incorrectly quoting a part of Genesis 12:1-3 which is a promise of God to Abraham. However, Abraham was not a Jew or of Judah, for Judah was his great grandson who was not born until more than 100 years after that promise. At the time of this promise, not a single Edomite Jew had been born. Contrary to modern preaching today, the Abrahamic Covenant does not deal with religions or churches. It deals with country, kindreds, house, and land. This promise reads:

"And I will make of thee a great nation, and I will bless thee, and make thy name great; and thou shall be a blessing: and I will bless them that bless thee and curse them that curse thee: and in thee shall all the families of the earth be blessed." - Genesis 12:3

Is this a promise to the church? Is it a promise to anyone of the Edomite Jewish religion? Does this mean that the families of Cain will now be blessed through Abraham? How about Esau-Edom, are they to be blessed if they bless Father Abraham? Are the children of Satan to be blessed if they bless Abraham? What nonsense. This would make the Word of God of none effect. Deeper still, where has the Edomite Jew ever been a blessing to any of the families of the earth at any time in their history? Where? When? Anytime in the past 4,000 years? These same ministers tell us that Christ is to return anytime now, and yet they cannot point to where this Abrahamic covenant was ever carried out in the Edomite Jews. It was to be a great nation Gen. 18:18, Deut. 4:7-8. It was to be the Chief of Nations as set forth in Genesis 27:19, Deuteronomy 7:6, and 15:16. When and where have the Edomite Jews ever done that? Time is running out for them to perform if Christ is to come any moment now. This nation would be a Just Nation Gen. 18:19, Lev. 19:15, Deut. 1:7, and Zeph. 3:131. Has this ever come to pass where the world would look at an Edomite Jewish Great Nation, and an Edomite Jewish Chief of Nations, and an Edomite Jewish Just Nation all at the same time? If the Edomite Jews are Israel, then the Bible is a lie, for this never happened, and with Christ on His way any moment, it is too late to happen now.

Lesson Three

Is the Bible really the Bible?

Christ has commanded us not to be a part of any church that teaches the humanistic Doctrine of Balaam, that is, that there is no difference or significance between the kindreds of peoples. He warned about those who would teach that God's Laws had been abandoned at the Cross [Luke 16:31]. He has given final warning against those who preach the blasphemy that the Esau-Edomite Jew is a Judahite (tribe of Judah) and that they are of the kindred of Christ, when their fruit and their spirit indicates, to all who will bother to look, that they are of the synagogue of Satan. As His final instructions, Jesus Christ, the King of Jacob-Israel said in part:

"...And if any man shall take away from the words of this book of prophesy, God shall take away his part out of the book of life, and out of the holy city, and from the things which are written in this book." - Revelation 22:19

How serious is it to attend those churches when they know that blasphemous errors are being preached? Christ says that it is one of those sins for which He will take away your part of the Tree or Book of Life. Your part of the Kingdom or Holy City, and every other promise found in the Bible. Do you think that Christ does not take this kindred and race question seriously? About as serious as death and the grave. There are no footnotes to Christ's final warning that suggests He might not have said what He means and meant precisely what He said.

During the months I was preparing this Bible lesson I was driving along in my car, listening to an FM music station. At one point the music stopped and a minister got on the microphone and in his sermon stated that God blessed America because America has blessed the Jews in Israel. I punched the button tuning to another station. Look at America's history in the light of God's blessings. We were blessed above all nations when our forefathers told the truth about the Esau-Edom-Moab kinship of those throughout Europe known as Jews. We were blessed when men like Benjamin Franklin printed tracts warning about this assembly-kindred of Satan. We were blessed when America refused to permit those of the Jewish race to settle in this land from abroad. It is all there in older history books.

We were blessed before the passage of the 14th Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, when it was unlawful for anyone but a Caucasian Christian to vote, and when the Courts ruled that "We, the People ... and their posterity" meant only Caucasian Christian people, and specifically did not include people of any other race or kindred. Now, as a part of this Bible study, read the 28th chapter of Deuteronomy, under God's curses for a nation. Can you find a single curse listed there that has not come on America since the land of Canaan was stolen from Abraham's Kindred, through Hagar or through his cousins from the loins of Joktan? [Genesis 10:25] Every curse is on America, from plagues to weather, to financial problems to wars we could not win after losing thousands of our finest young men.

About the time Americans began to understand the significance of the 14th Amendment, and the influences of Esau/Edom's kindred upon American political life and foreign policy, a conspiracy was in place to undermine the militancy of the Church with doctrines that promoted the thought-theology that there were no differences regarding racial heritages and bringing ALL MEN into the church. This specific concept was mentioned in Revelation as

"So hast thou also them that hold the doctrine of the Nicolaitans, which thing I hate." - Revelation 2:15

To promote this conspiracy, came the false preachers such as C. I. Scofield, who began to weave Edomite/Jewish fables into the fabric of God's truth. He cast Tare seeds into God's incredibly special Wheat field.

Thousands of so-called fundamental Bible ministers' study from the reference notes of the Scofield Bible. Nearly all Protestant Bible School students use this Bible as one daily source as to what the Scriptures really mean as opposed to what they say.

What these Christian people will not tell you is that their theological hero, C.I. Scofield, deserted his first wife, Leontine Carre Scofield and his two young daughters, Abigail and Helene. They ignore the fact that he never sent them any financial support. A woman in the 1880's did not have government welfare and good paying jobs were not available to them. He treated his wife and children as if they did not exist. Meanwhile, Scofield was interested in two other women, a young lady from the St. Louis Flower Mission whose name has not been recorded, and a Hettie Van Wark whom he was courting while he was still married to Leontine.

Finally, Leontine, a faithful Roman Catholic, sued for divorce and that divorce was recorded on December 8, 1883, in his hometown of Atchison, Kansas. Her divorce decree charged Cyrus with abandoning the family, had neglected his duty, failed to support or contribute to his family, etc. Leontine worked as a librarian at the Atchison Public Library, and from her meager earnings did manage to properly educate her two daughters. Remember now, Scofield was a professing Christian who wrote the most popular set of Bible Reference Notes in use today. The abandoned Leontine never remarried and died in 1936. She is buried in the Mount Calvary Cemetery, Atchison, Kansas.

Dr. (?) Scofield wasted no time. Three months later, on March 11, 1884, he and Hettie Van Wark were married.

As a Christian, he entered a legal and political career wherein he stole thousands of dollars from his Christian and secular friends. In one of his financial scams, he was convicted of forgery, and spent six months in the St. Louis, Missouri jail. As chance would have it, after the Civil War, his arrest records could not be found. He defrauded his mother-in-law out of $1,300 and never paid her back, even when his finances were such that he could have easily done so. If Ezekiel was ever predicting a modern prophet who created a widow or who was a deceiver of the Elect, devouring souls so that they will not be admitted into the Kingdom of Heaven and the Tree of Life, or who was out for dishonest gain, it had to have been Cyrus I. Scofield. Why are you carrying a Scofield Bible, my friend? Why do you attend a church which teaches the lies of this convicted criminal? Why would you want to advertise your ignorance in such a way?

It is going to be difficult for any reader with only a smattering of public-school education in American History to understand the political background of the theological discussion of this long list of Biblical contradictions. Who is it that says that there must be a separation of church and state, theology and politics? Who else but Esau's children? The thesis of this Star Wars lesson is to show that there is a connection between political changes in any nation as the direct result of the changes in the thought-theology of that nation.

We know from reading their sermons and their biographies, that our Christian forefathers believed, at least in part, that they were descended from the Houses of Israel, and that they were planting Christ's Kingdom nation in the Wilderness - a Biblical term - and called this North American continent by another Biblical name, the New World. America soon began to explode in industry, shipping, agriculture, finance, and commerce. In the framework of America today, it is hard to picture the Christian American political life of the 1600's and 1700's. So ingrained were the Bible truths throughout the land, and the proper thought-theology toward the various races that lived among us that America did not permit Blacks, Asians, Indians, and other non-whites and half-breed mixtures of them with the whites, to have citizenship status in America. It was not until after the War Between the States, that the 14th Amendment granted a limited, privileged citizen status to non-whites, and subsequent amendments increased those privileges in various ways.

There was another class of people that while attempting to pass for Caucasian/white, that were not given citizenship status in early America. These were Esau-Edom's kindred, the European Jews, who migrated here to get involved in our great increase in industry and commerce. Of them Benjamin Franklin wrote:

"If you permit the Jews to settle in America, within 200 years they will own this country." - Benjamin Franklin

His prediction was pretty accurate. By 1800, Harvard College had a Unitarian Theology Department which taught the idea that God loves every man equally, etc. By this time, the great Puritan Christian work ethic that made America great began to be displaced by a new gospel, and the political and social life began to change right along with it. During this period, from around 1800 to 1850, there was a movement called the "Age of Reason" with many of the same ideas of today's New Age Movement. The general theme was that the mind is everything, and the absolutes of the Bible are not considered relevant in this modern age. During this time, such men as Thomas Paine, Ralph Waldo Emerson, and Henry David Thoreau abandoned their Christianity and opted for these intellectually stimulating philosophies of which the central theme was "The Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man." All across the land, fraternal lodges and orders were set up which soon became the religion of the leaders and then that of the people.

Into that era came the Esau-Edomite Karl Marx and evolutionist Charles Darwin inserting their anti-Scriptural ideas into America's theological mainstream. All of these were at first political and philosophical concepts, which when promoted enough in the published materials of that day, became the accepted norm for educated and sophisticated people. The "Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man", as a socialist scheme of the French Revolution, had to be transformed into the thought-theology of the Christian population before the greater conspiracy of a world socialist government could be implemented. (New World Order – NWO.) In order to refute Christ's words concerning Esau-Edom-Jewry that they were of their father the Devil, the theology had to be changed so that God is the father of All Men and All Peoples, and that Satan is not the father of any of them. Do you see how that works? The second part of this thought-theology is the idea that All Men are brothers, which is intended to refute the Scriptural teaching and truth that All Men are not brothers and that God has a Chosen People above all the peoples of the earth.

If you think about it, this concept of the "Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man" is the central theme of Socialism and Communism. Christianity, if you will think of it apart from merely a church function, is a thought-theology of government, commerce, and economics, the fruits of which is a nation of liberty, and individual responsibility.

About 150 years ago, Massachusetts, especially in the small towns around Boston, became the spawning ground for this "Brotherhood of Man" thought-theology. The new political, social, and theological idea was expressed in Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, and so important in the minds of these conspirators that every public-school child had to be able to recite that:

"...All men are created equal" Abraham Lincoln

Isn't that an interesting, loving, and humanist idea? Without apology, it is not a Scriptural concept, and anyone with an ounce of gray matter knows that it is just not so. Out of this Massachusetts society came a man, born in Middleton in 1833, named John J. Ingalls. He was a graduate of Williams College, well-endowed in those days with the ideas of the Esau/Edomite people. He became a lawyer. He was the spokesman for a Boston group known as the "Secret Six". Mr. Ingalls was sent to Atchison, Kansas and it is enough to say that he associated himself with the young lawyer, Cyrus I. Scofield. Actually, Scofield never attended any college, not even for a day, as a student. He fancied himself a lawyer but had not been admitted to the Bar. Through the influences of the "Secret Six" men in Kansas, Scofield was admitted to the Bar, with no formal training whatever. He gave himself his theological doctorate degree the same way.

Scofield went on, with the help of the "Secret Six" group, to get appointed United States Attorney for Kansas, only to be forced to resign after six months when he and friend Ingalls were caught in a blackmail scheme against the railroads. Some of his other criminal activities have been already mentioned, but what is important here is that the Boston "Secret Six", whom he never met and was not their peer, assigned C. I. Scofield the task of translating the "Fatherhood of God, Brotherhood of Man" concepts into a system of Bible teachings. It was during those long days and nights when he was in prison for forgery, that Scofield had begun studying the unscholarly theological and philosophical ideas of a loser named J. N. Darby, a scatter-brained Englishman. Today, Darby would be called a hippy and he looked the part. He was already doing in England what the "Secret Six" were to assign Scofield to do in the United States. In England, the "Brotherhood of Man" thought-theology was boiled down by Darby into a new denomination called The Brethren Movement.

The "Secret Six" were not stupid. They had done their homework. They reasoned, and quite correctly, that America could not be converted from a Republic into international Socialism until the vast majority of American Christians could be taught that the church was not to be militant regarding the affairs of state, and that God's Laws, Statutes, and Judgments were not valid as a means of governing anything but a theocratic nation. It was necessary to subvert the First Amendment to the Constitution to mean that the Church was to offer no suggestions and to be silent regarding those affairs of state that effect in a vital way every Christian and his way of life. This was quite a project for Mr. Scofield since God thought so much of righteous governments that He devoted about 80% of Holy Writ to that subject and made governments one of the special gifts.

Now with the "Secret Six", Scofield, and some of his associates such as Dwight L. Moody and Arno Clemens Gaebelein, that was going to change. On July 23, 1901, Scofield confided in his friends that he intended to develop a "Reference Bible" that would bring about this new beginning and new testimony. Of course, such tremendous efforts take plenty of money and a lot of time. Scofield had time and he needed money. While he was talking like a Christian out of one side of his mouth, he was taking the money and doing the bidding of his financial backers, the subversive "Secret Six".

In 1901, the author of the Scofield Bible References was admitted into the Lotus Club of New York City, much to the embarrassment of his holier-than-thou Christian brethren. The Lotus Club was restricted to social intercourse between journalists, artists, musicians, friends of literature, science, and fine arts, etc. Scofield, at this time, was no more than a Kansas conman with some highly placed financiers. He had no background in fine arts, music, or literature. His "Reference Notes" had not been written, much less published, so his qualifications for entrance into this elite and worldly group becomes of particular interest. This club's literary committee, which passed on "Dr." C.I. Scofield, was headed by one Samuel Untermyer, who at that time was a notorious criminal lawyer. Untermyer, as his name suggests, was one of those kinfolks of Esau/Edom/Jewry and his accomplishments on behalf of the socialist and communist causes in America take up two columns in "Who's Who in America."

Untermyer's thought-theology, as anyone might suppose, was far removed from that of any fundamental Bible believer. Scofield was no such believer. He was directed by the "Secret Six" to the Lotus Club, and their associate Samuel Untermyer saw to it that he was admitted without credentials. Scofield was not just a casual member but listed it as his residence for twenty years until he died.

The purpose of Samuel Untermyer, and those associated with him, was to find a way to get fundamental Christians to have an interest in, and support for, the International Zionist cause, which had been one of Untermyer's lifelong projects. Samuel Untermyer died in 1941, but the records I have in my office prove beyond a shadow of a doubt that he was a dedicated Communist and worked for Communist causes all of his adult life. Scofield's Reference Bible was simply one of those objectives. In twenty years of membership in the Lotus Club Scofield, with his long association with Untermyer, had to have known about his un-American activities and his synagogue of Satan.

In my office I have a letter written on Lotus Club stationery and signed by Scofield which was sent to the Bible teacher A. C. Gaebelein, who knew of Scofield's activities but did not disclose it to his fundamentalist friends until it was boastfully published in the Moody Monthly, in 1942. The secular significance of the Lotus Club was not, of course, disclosed to the Moody readers.

What every student of this lesson of Star Wars needs to always keep in mind, is that the "Brotherhood of Man," the Brethren Movement, and its kin of thought-theology Scofield dispensationalism, was and still is, a Class Movement, not a religious movement. One of the Roman Catholic counterparts also supported by the Esau/Edom kindred, is the Jesuit and Mary Knoll "Liberation Theology" now sweeping Central America. This is the very reason for the seemingly unusual association between Scofield and Samuel Untermyer.

They knew that Scofield's "Any Moment Now Rapture Doctrine", which he stole from J. N. Darby, who in turn had stolen it from a lady minister in Scotland named Rev. Margaret McDonald, who in turn had stolen it from a Spanish Jesuit/Edomite Priest named Emanuel Lacunza, who made it all up and first published it in Spanish under the pen-name of Rabbi Ben Ezra, would be a good idea, as they said, to keep the lower and middle class Christians in line.

Why would Christians ever get concerned as the New World Order took over the world, if they believed that the Rapture would come any time now? Why would they get worried about the thousands of problems as totalitarian socialism takes over America, if this world is not my home? Why get into patriotic activities if the Kingdom is only that warmth beating in your heart as you come to love Jesus? See how that works?

"Add thou not to His words lest He reprove thee, and thou be found a liar." Proverbs 30:8

With many ministers of the 1920's having been taught Scofield's dispensationalism this new testimony, so common now but unheard of 125 years ago, the conspiratorial push was on in the late 1930's to get the Scofield Reference Bible into the hands of the majority of protestant denominations. Scofield's Notes, stating right on the pages of the King James Bible that the Jews were "All of Israel," was to set the stage for the theft of Palestine from the Arabic people, who lawfully owned it, and give it, by United Nations Directive, to a mixed multitude most of whose forefathers had never set foot on that land for thousands of years, if ever. For those reasons alone, Scofield's Notes were worth every penny that Samuel Untermyer and the "Secret Six" paid for them.

Informed patriots know all too well the role that England's Oxford University has played in the promotion and spreading of Fabian Socialism around the world. This is that particular tactical socialism that is the thought-theology of such men as Dwight David Eisenhower, John F. Kennedy, Jimmy Carter, Ronald Reagan, and George W. Bush. It is also the college from which Bill Clinton, the fundamentalist Baptist from Arkansas, graduated. It is that philosophy of bringing about world socialism by deceit and trickery, hence the word Fabian, which they selected for their use. No one can graduate from Oxford, or the London School of Economics where Kennedy went, without proving by his course assignments and thesis that he is a confirmed Fabian.

So, of all the places in the world to publish the Scofield Reference Bible, where do you suppose that Scofield, and his socialist friends would get it printed? We have a number of good Bible publishing houses in America, capable of taking on such a task. Well, you guessed it. Scofield made his publishing contract with the Fabian Socialist Oxford University Press. Here was Scofield, who in all his life had only published one small book entitled, Rightly Dividing the Word of Truth, and a few small pamphlets, suddenly having entrance to the most prestigious and exclusive publishing house in the world. Who was clearing the way for a relatively unknown Texas minister, who made up his Doctorate credentials, to get to such publishing heights? Who but the synagogue of Satan, the kindred of Esau-Edom?

In a letter to his daughter Helene, a daughter he had left behind years before, Scofield bragged that he was giving large theology lectures at the Carnegie Institute. Patriots who have done their homework on the Council on Foreign Relations, know the subversive and un-American part that the Carnegie Foundations play in promoting international Fabian socialism. Scofield, as with everything else he did in his life, talked out of both sides of his mouth. He, like George Bush and Bill Clinton, was a true Fabian.

It is not so much that Scofield preached another gospel, that I differ with or that makes me so angry. He is not the only man to have done so, and students of the Bible can quickly point out their false doctrines, as I have done with the "Every Man" Scofield doctrine. I resent Scofield because he used God's Word as an active and willing subversive to the cause of American Liberty. His Doctrines, References, and Notes prepared with Jewish-Zionist funding to ultimately establish an Esau/Edom/False-Israel has neutralized the Church to where they are indifferent to what is happening in America.

Scofield was ...two-fold more the child of Hell... as are the Esau/Edomites/Jews who happily sponsored, with finances and influence, his false theological concepts. He intended to deceive the very Elect, and by and large he has done so, with the Fabian tactic of putting his false doctrines right on the same pages as God's Word so that the less educated Christian might give them almost equal weight and authority.

As I have written time and time again over the past 20 years, the more churches we get in America, the more wicked and socialist the nation becomes. Scofield's new testimony has been the leading cause, for it so altered the Christian's thought-theology that he is indifferent to what is happening to his country. He is not concerned about, but generally approves of, the "Fatherhood of God, Brotherhood of Man" ideas being promoted in thousands of hours of television entertainment programming. He is happy to watch bi-racial situation comedies and movies promoting interracial marriages and other sordid relationships.

Today, by age 15, the average American youth has watched 50,000 hours of secular humanist, socialist, and other un-American and anti-biblical ideas which have been promoted as the truth on television. The average American youth now believes that God loves ALL MEN, and that there are no differences in the race and kindreds of people. He actually believes, for it is taught in the government schools, on television, and because of Scofield, from the pulpits, that America has a Judeo-Christian heritage, as if the Jewish Babylonian Talmud (mystery Babylon religion) and Jewish culture work in perfect harmony with Christian teaching and ideals. Esau/Edom/Jewry never had it so good.

Look around you. Think back to our historical foundations which were long set-in place before the first Jew stepped foot on the American shores and ask yourself if there is one unique Jewish Talmudic Philosophy or Cultural Concept that has shaped our American private enterprise Republic. Where is the Jew who signed the Declaration of Independence? Instead, that Declaration was against the British Banking and Tax systems, controlled even in those days by Esau-Edom-Jewry that Christian Americans were willing to die rather than submit to. In those days, people studied their Bible, not Scofield's notes. If you want to examine true Esau-Edom-Jewry, take a good look at the Israeli State. It is a network of communes, and a military totalitarian socialist government that stays perpetually at war with all its neighbors. To maintain this Promised Land for the Jews, American taxpayers must borrow into the national debt $2,300 per Jewish person in Esau/false-Israel and give it to them to spend to keep their government going. The Jews themselves are not willing to be taxed for the lifestyle and form of government that they have chosen for themselves. What you see in today's Esau/false-Israel is not the fulfillment of Bible prophecy as your Scofield minister, your Jesuit-trained Priest, or your Mormon Elder has taught you. That nation fits none of the conditions set forth in prophecy. That nation of Bible prophecy, among all the other criteria set forth in Scripture, is to be Christian, not anti-Christ Jewish. What then is the prophecy about the present false-Israel nation of anti-Christ Esau/Edom peoples at this end of the Age? There are a number of them, but I will end the formal part of this lesson with a statement from Christ Himself regarding the present nation of false-Israel:

"For I say unto you, that unto everyone which hath shall be given; and from him that hath not, even that he hath shall be taken away from him. But those Mine enemies (Esau/Edom), which would not that I should reign over them, bring hitherto old Jerusalem), and slay them before Me." - Luke 19:27-28

This is a direct command from our Commander and King. Through this personal letter, we fully intend to be a part of an awakening of the American Christian people so that Christ's enemies will be driven from this land into Old Jerusalem to be slain before Him.

"For Thou didst separate them from ALL THE PEOPLE OF THE EARTH to be Thine inheritance." 1 Kings 8:53

"Now therefore make confession unto Yahweh God of your fathers and do His pleasure; and separate yourselves from the people of the land, and from strange wives." -Ezra 10:11

Will you join us in this great challenge at this tremendous time in Christian and American history?

Chapter Endnotes:

A large minority of those who subscribe to my pamphlets are simply patriots concerned about the rapid decay of the American Republic. Some think that religion has nothing whatever to do with the social, political, and economic crisis they see in government. I am not concerned about their theology, if any, for this discussion. If the prudent patriot will examine history, in every case, be it Egyptian, Greek, or Roman, or any of the seventeen other civilizations of antiquity, that decline always followed the enlightened humanist teachings of its leaders and intellectuals to the effect that ALL MEN are brothers. Once interracial marriages, along with fornication for fun, was acceptable and as soon as the bastards became a majority, the nation fell. Those nations, which rightly refused to permit or accept crossbreeds among them, such as the Chinese, have survived for centuries. The bastard among us, regardless of his cross, will always drift back to his lowest common denominator as far as culture and original thought is concerned. Men and women of all races know that this is true.

The term Fabian was selected by this particular branch of International Socialism, because of the secrecy and delaying tactics used so as not to alarm the populations. They picked this name from their hero, the Roman commander and statesman, Fabius Maximus during the time of Hannibal, about 200 BC. America may actually be captured, not by attacking armies which most Americans would quickly resist, but by a slowly developing socialism that increases so imperceptibly that most Americans would never notice it until it is too late. The main control of us would be through the high taxes to pay the so-called national debt. See "The Fabian Freeway" by Rose L. Martin.

When I write the term Jacob-Israel, or Israel, throughout this letter. I am writing in the Biblical context and language. We must know Israel and God's long list of promises and covenants with that entity by that name. However, as with ancient Babylon, ancient Israel by that name does not exist today. It had its name changed from Israel to Christian in Acts 11:26, as prophesied by Isaiah 62:2 and 65:15. Acts 11:26 says:

"...And it came to pass, that a whole year they assembled with the church (ekklesia called ones teaching the affairs of state) and taught many people. And the disciples were first called Christians at Antioch."

The word called here is not a commonly used Greek word. The word is chrematizo, which means a "divine revelation previously hidden for divine purpose." Remember Christ spoke in hidden parables, and for a whole year these called ones were hearing the affairs of state, not listening to the simple John 3:16 gospel message followed with one more verse of "Just as I Am." An alternate translation of this unusual Greek word is listed as called ...named with a title to do God's business. Christian is the new name, and it is a title. It is almost like Knighthood. Exciting, isn't it? So, scripturally, at this end of the age, I am not an Israelite. I do hold the title, granted by the King of Kings, of Christian. I am of the kindred stock of ancient Israel, of the literal seedline of Abraham, and a son of Isaac through two of his twelve sons, Benjamin and Dan. Those called by the old name of Israel (false-Israel) or Judah/Jewry, are by Bible prophecy in Isaiah 65:15 given our old name as a curse unto his chosen people. You will know Esau/Edom by the old name and by the curse.

Thus, as a Christian, a champion for Christ, it is your title for the purpose of attending to God's business of being the light and salt of the earth, preparing the way for the return of Christ. We are not to be sitting around in some impotent assembly gazing up into heaven, but rather discussing the affairs of state as we also worship the King of Kings. First, take positive action regarding the disgraceful things going on within a mile of your home, and then join with others to put a stop to that activity. You are not on this earth to strive to win a popularity contest.

Are the Jews going to rebuild Herod's Temple as Scofield and others teach? No. There are no prophecies for Esau/Edom/false-Israel that overturn God's word for him in Obadiah. The Christian community gets this idea from Ezekiel, but while Isaiah is in chronological order, Ezekiel is not. It is made up of 13 sections, and they are out of order in your Bible. Go by the dates given. The very last thing Ezekiel prophesied is Chapter One. Once the student puts these sections in the proper order, most of the prophecies and expectations of the Scofield cult are found to be in error. Who is the mouthpiece of the Scofield cult now that Scofield and his close associates have died? It is an organization known as the National Association of Evangelicals whose best-known spokesman is "Dr." Billy Graham who, by the way, also never went one day to any graduate school. Since Jesus Christ is the last sin sacrifice for the atonement of Israel, why would the true Israel need to set up the temple sacrifices all over again?

What about the Jewish Hanukkah and their Wailing Wall? Each year, as the days of the longest nights, hence that time of longest darkness during a 24-hour period, heathen religions have celebrated this darkness with festivals and the lighting of candles, from before recorded time. The Edomite/Jews call their festival Hanukkah and foolish Christians of the Scofield cult wish their Jewish friends Happy Hanukkah. If you ask them, they will give you the stock answer found in any Encyclopedia concerning an early time in their history when they were to light the candles for the rededication of the Temple, and that by some miracle, there was more than enough oil to burn for all eight days. At other times, you will hear of the Edomite/Jews and their Wailing Wall which is the very last standing wall of their glorious Temple about which the Hanukkah story is repeated during this special ceremony by all practicing Jews. All Jews, when they go to Jerusalem, make a pilgrimage to this Wailing Wall, and weep for the good old days when they held power in Jerusalem. Christians are made to feel sorry for these poor Jews supposing that they weep for the glorious days of King David and King Solomon who built that tremendous Temple of Israel antiquity. Do not be deceived fellow Christians. Esau/Edom/Jewry had nothing whatever to do with the building of King Solomon's Temple. The Wall at which they weep and wail is not the remains of foundation of King Solomon's Temple at all, but the Western Wall of King Herod's Temple. (Remember, Herod was an Edomite.) Look it up in your dictionary. These Jews are not weeping and wailing for the good old days of Moses, Isaac, Judah, and Solomon, but rather for their good old days of the Herod's who brought about the murder of Messiah Yahshua. They long for the day when they hope their Herodic Temple is rebuilt and the hated Christians are finally destroyed. Hanukkah is to celebrate the anticipation of that anti-Christ event. Have these Tares and Goats got a major surprise coming to them. Even so, come Messiah Yahshua, King of Kings, as well as the King of His people Jacob-Israel, the called and the elect from the foundation of the world. Amen.

Lesson Four            Wood, Hay & Stubble – What of the United States of America?

"If ye love wealth better than liberty, the tranquility of servitude better than the animating contest of freedom, go home from us in peace. We ask not your counsels or your arms. Crouch down and lick the hands which feed you. May your chains set lightly upon you, and may posterity forget that ye were our countrymen." - Samuel Adams, 1775

Samuel Adams, the stern Christian New Englander, was addressing his friends and neighbors, most of whom were Christians, at the time of the American Revolution. Today, most Americans would like to think that they would have been on the side of Samuel Adams, and our great American forefathers who, at the direction of the Lord Jesus Christ, established a New Nation in this land where the fir, the boxwood, and the myrtle grow together. My observation, and it was again established with the young Tennessee Temple Bible students, that most Americans today, if placed back in the time of the great patriots, would still be on the side of the Red Coats. Human nature does not change very much, if at all.

Out of the entire thirteen colonies, Samuel Adams and his friends could only find fifty-six men with the courage, when it came right down to it, to sign the Declaration of Independence. I guess everyone else was just too busy or could not afford the cost of the trip to Philadelphia. I cannot continue with the Biblical portion of this Star Wars letter, without setting the foundation in Scripture for being concerned about the affairs of state. There is a force of neutralism abroad in the land that dogmatically insists that, according to Paul in Romans, Chapter 13, that Christians are not to be concerned about those rulers whom Almighty God has placed over us. Whatever these rulers demand, Christian Americans, they preach we are supposed to submit to it and say nothing.

Did you know that your work, that is what you do in the Scriptural areas of life, are going to be tried in the fire? Here is what Paul stated along these lines:

"...For we are laborer's together with Yahweh: ye are Yahweh's husbandry, ye are Yahweh's building. According to the Grace of God, which is given unto me, as a wise master builder, I have laid a foundation and another builds thereupon. For another foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Yahshua Christ the Messiah. Now if any man builds upon this foundation gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, and stubble; every man's work shall be manifest: for the day shall declare it, because it shall be reviled by fire; and the fire shall try every man's work of what sort it is..." - 1 Corinthians 3:9-13

Paul was a hero in the cause of Christ, and a martyr in the cause of the truth. His witness, and his personal letters, eventually cost him his life. He stood for His King at a time in history when it was ever so critical. Because he and thousands like him have done so for the past 2,000 years, we who follow Christ have had a chance to know Him. When Paul knew that he was soon to be decapitated, does one read of any regrets? None whatever. Paul spent a lot of time in prison, lawfully convicted by a Republican government. A few of his final words to Brother Timothy, a fellow preacher, were these:

"I have fought the good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith: henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness..." - 2 Timothy 4:7-8

Righteousness? Righteousness? I asked my Bible student friends why, if the Law had been done away with since the Cross, didn't Paul look for a crown of Grace? No, the last thing Paul was writing about was something he called a crown of righteousness. Many believe that Father Faber had Paul in mind when he wrote the famous hymn of the militant church:

"Faith of Our Fathers! Living still, in spite of dungeon, fire, and sword..."

Paul did live in barbaric times. Yet, one might call the Roman Empire a sort of benevolent dictatorship. I know that throwing Christians to the lions, or having them beheaded may not seem very benevolent, but by comparison to what the Totalitarian Socialists do, from Lenin and Stalin, from Hitler to Castro, from Churchill to Bush, Rome was Utopia.

When Paul was imprisoned, he was permitted to live, for most of the time, in his own house where he was preaching to the Northern House of Israel living in Rome. He could have visitors without apparent hindrance. He was permitted to write and even to preach. Perhaps because of this, we are constantly being reminded by modern day Christians to dismiss the concern for political and economic freedom and simply proclaim the Gospel. They argue, however naively, that Christianity has existed under all forms of economic and political systems and has outlived its persecutions. Since it has done that in the past, they expect it to continue right into the future. Well, fine. If they would like to struggle through some highly sophisticated persecutions, they will get all of it that they can handle.

Had the New World Order (NWO) been running Rome, Paul would have been in leg-irons and not permitted visitors. He could not have preached freely and certainly he would not have been permitted pen-pals all over the Roman Empire. Because of the socialist methods of mass thought control, and the control of the news media, Americans do not resist. They can trick Americans into the most unbelievable ideas and concepts. Christians, because of the lukewarm Gospel of the Scofield cult, are blind to the kind of world we live in, and the determination of the enemy that Christianity now faces.

For years, I had the caption, "God did bless America until the Salt lost the Savior" painted on the tailgate of my pickup truck. Most Christians are so ignorant or brainwashed that they would stop me and ask me what it meant. America is in the present sad state of affairs for just one reason. The Christian salt has failed to do its job, and salt without savor, as the Bible forecasts, is fit to be trodden under foot. It will be a new and painful experience for most of you. It will take you by surprise, like a thief in the night.

The subversives in our government, some of the very people you cast your vote to elect, with the help of the ministers you sit under today, insist that religion and politics must be kept separate. God's Word makes no such statement. Joshua, Chapter 20, gave us the principles of trial by jury, due process of law, habeas corpus, innocent until proven guilty, and public trial.

I Samuel sets forth the standards against injustice and authoritative rule. Ruth chapter 4 demonstrates the precepts of family responsibility, personal reputation, honor, buying, selling, and joint ownership. Exodus 18 covers the criteria for security and protection of community justice and judgment, ordinances, and a system of laws and courts.

Genesis 2 through 48 undergirds the principles of free enterprise. Here you find the first independent farmer, labor and management responsibility, freedom to move from one place to another, private ownership, inheritance, wage laws and the right to contract for same, the profit motive, and the right to barter.

In Leviticus 19, Numbers 27, and Judges 1, are found the concepts of equal justice for all, social and economic equality for aliens, and woman's rights for inheritance. Deuteronomy 15 to 25 sets forth the precepts for individual welfare, judgment against bribery and corruption of public officials, philanthropy, unemployment compensation and personal integrity. These and hundreds more I could set forth here, involve the affairs of state that are to be discussed and taught as part of any legitimate Christian assembly if it is going to call itself a church. (Is it any wonder Scofield et.al. taught Grace over Law and New Testament over Old?)

Even if the Bible were not the Inspired Word of God, it outlines the best code of personal and national conduct ever put into print. Yet, there are those who would promote the idea that this marvelous code of conduct, and the Laws, Statutes, and Judgments of God are now obsolete with the sacrifice of Messiah Jesus Christ! Nonsense? Yes, but it is even worse, for it is high treason to Christ's Kingdom. To those Christians whose main interest is a magnificent church building, a beautiful choir, and sermons that are pleasing to all and convicting to none, what do you think is meant by "Wood, Hay and Stubble?"

It begs the question. Who decided that the Law, Statutes, and Judgements of Yahweh were no longer valid under the concept of grace? Can you say Scofield and his copious notes?

Preacher, if your sermons center around the entry level salvation messages of John 3:16 or the tongues topics of Acts, Chapter 2, while pornography, drugs and government, confiscatory taxes, and enforcement go on in your area, what do you think is meant by Wood, Hay and Stubble? Brother, the fire is going to try your work and mine, not as to the quantity but as to the sort, [Greek hopoios, how excellent] that is the quality of the preaching when measured against the complete Word of God. For instance, the very idea of a New World Order is strictly forbidden by Scripture until Christ returns to run it Himself. Yet, where is the preaching against this totalitarian socialist subject? Preaching is not a matter of popularity but of morality. Read in Luke, Chapter 23 at verse 1:

"... And the whole multitude of them arose and led him to Pilate..."

Nowhere in Scripture, after the crucifixion, can I find it written that this multitude was composed of all evil people. Ever think of that? Surely there must have been some good people in that mob, God's Jacob-Israel people, who were pushed along by the excitement. Only a few days before, many of these people were with Christ as He entered the city. Yes,

Christians are like that most of the time, I am sorry to say. When times are good, they are found praising Him, but when there is a dirty job that needs to be done, you will find them just praying about it. I guess this is one reason I have never become very enthusiastic about Palm Sunday. For the very same people who laid down the palms then and wear the palm bark cross and smudge on their foreheads in our time are the very ones who betray Him the next few days with their wretched sins of omission and their dereliction of duty concerning the affairs of state. In fact, many times they are the very ones who cry separation of church and state and never want to talk politics or religion.

Amid the excitement on the way to Pilate, I cannot find it recorded that one good person ever spoke out strongly against the certain torture and murder of the innocent Christ? If you find it somewhere, will you send me chapter and verse? They just stood there and let it happen right before their eyes. Good people? Well, so-called good people doing nothing. Nothing!

Now, we know that it was Christ's Mission to go to the Cross, but they did not know that nothing could have stopped that Mission no matter what these good people might have done. They still did nothing. Even though it was God's Plan for Christ to die as the last sin sacrifice for the atonement of Jacob-Israel, this did not relieve these good people from the moral responsibility and obligation to speak out against the injustice being done right before them. Do you understand that principle? Some of these good people lacked courage, and courage is required for one to be Christ's Elect. Other good people excused their inaction as not wishing to get involved in anything political. After all, in spite of his own personal misgivings, didn't Pilate finally do what the democratic majority seemed to want? Here you have the Savior of the Israelites, legally innocent, yet being crucified while good people stood by and did nothing. What do you think is meant by "Wood, Hay and Stubble?" What would be the reaction today?

Knowing what you know today, with all the advantages of historical hindsight in your favor, if you were projected back 2,000 years ago into that crowd, would you have spoken out in favor of morality and justice as the mob led your Savior to certain death? Or would you, have taken cover of the mob and said nothing? Do not answer too quickly. Remember, to have spoken out would have been controversial and public opinion would have been against you. Come on, give me your answer. Beloved, if you are going to be a Christian soldier, you are going to have to think faster than that.

Fellow Christian, there is more to this lesson. The Body of Christ lives on in the believers in Him. His Elect from the foundation of the world. All across the world, Christians are being starved, tortured, and murdered under totalitarian regimes of one form or another and another mob tells you that to speak out is controversial and not done in polite society. Watch your TV news and see what is happening to the children and youth of America as they are being drawn into ungodly lifestyles. Now, think back over the past five years and see if you can come up with one time that you spoke out against the injustice being done to someone within a mile of your home. May God judge all of us accordingly. Remember the last time your church congregation sang the famous hymn of a by-gone Christian era:

"Onward Christian Soldiers, Marching as to war..."

Well, did they really march to war? Did anyone so far as you know? My hunch is that you all marched home to a chicken dinner after extending the pretty platitudes to the preacher at the door. As you were singing, halfway around the world there was another choir singing and the words are neither set to music or sung in unison. It is being sung by Christians who refuse to disclose the names of other Christians. It is sung by mothers separated from their children, to the glory of Socialism:

"Please stop! Don't beat me again!"

"Please, Lord Jesus, watch over my little girl. Lord give me strength.

Forgive them...."

Which church sings most beautifully to Christ, and which is "Wood, Hay and Stubble?"

As America declines further and further into the quicksand of socialism, insolvency, and surrender to the evil of the New World Order, where is your gold, silver, and precious stones in the service of your King? Where is your salt? Where is your light? All I can see are a bunch of smoldering wicks. Do you think Christianity is supposed to be the light and happy experience we find in most churches? It is only by the unmerited favor of Almighty God, and some promises to your forefathers, that you can even worship Him in the now quickly dwindling liberty we have known as America. What is happening around the world, wars, terror, disease, and starvation, is soon to happen right here in America. The only Scriptural reason is that the Salt has lost his savor.

By your silence, fellow Christian, you have permitted your government to unlawfully take control of your public schools. You were silent when the IRS unlawfully robbed your neighbor of his home, business, car, and bank account. That just happened last week, right there in your hometown. You have permitted your community to hire sodomites and socialists to teach your children and make prayer in the public schools a federal crime. Without shame, you have voted for criminals such as George Bush, whose background for years is well known, and elected whoremongers like John F. Kennedy and Bill Clinton to be your President. Certainly, you do not suppose that Christ is pleased with your indifference, do you? Wood, Hay and Stubble.

Sister, you have allowed the authority of the father in the home to be questioned and nothing is said as your television set fills the minds of your children with every violation of God's Laws, Statutes, and Judgments. Crude stories on TV and vulgar language no longer seems to bother you. You think nothing of seeing inappropriate magazines being sold in your supermarkets and you give news reports of a few Christians who stand against the murder of the unborn only a casual glance. Do you think Christianity is giving your cast-off clothing to the church rummage sale?

Brother not only were you silent as your government deliberately stole, through inflation and high taxes, the wealth, savings, and earnings of your neighbor, but worse than that, you even had your hand out to get your share of the plunder. When our young American men are sent into foreign lands to bleed and die for causes that do not affect America in the least, and the national debt is poised to make slaves of your children, there are no words said.

Fellow preacher, it is your silence that bothers me the most. I hope that members of your congregation keep tormenting you with the message of this letter day after day, month after month. As the shepherd of the flock, their moral and spiritual life, including the affairs of state, are your direct responsibility. I have traveled across America and spoken in every state except Alaska, Hawaii, and the District of Columbia. As I talk with your people, and receive letters from them, I find them spiritually gone. They are weak, sick, and flabby. With rare exceptions, I do not find them in any condition to be considered Christian Soldiers, and most of them will accept the Mark of the Beast at the very first pangs of hunger and betray their friends at the first threat from a UN soldier acting on behalf of the New World Order. Fully half of the so-called Bible believing churches now believe that America is prophetic Babylon, that Great Whore, instead of that great land, America, [Celtic Amer = heavenly, rika = kingdom or nation] as God intended it to be. We failed to obey and are now to be punished. Instead of doing some independent study of God's Word, you have sold your Christian birthright for some modernist, sugar-coated, bean soup of erroneous doctrines.

By your silence, and your Esau/false-Israel doctrines, you have made patriotism a dirty word and our flag, at best, a controversial symbol of a by-gone era. You are silent when patriots in your midst are made to stand public ridicule. Yes, I know about the Board of Deacons and the monthly mortgage payment. But my brother if you are called to preach, then do it. If you drive every last lip-service Christian out of your congregation, then so be it. When did you include in your pastoral prayer some mention of those around the world who suffer in totalitarian prisons for their Christian witness? Come on, brother, forget about the baked bean suppers and the pancake breakfasts. Get on with that Great Commission and stand against the evil one and his agents to the point that they at least fight back.

Now, fellow Christian, you have just read what I have told your minister and priest. You go to him and personally give him a copy of this letter. If he takes the unpopular Scriptural position of defending the Christian American way of life against all enemies, foreign and domestic, then you get behind him and support him with every dollar that you can spare. However, if he will not support the American cause, you are swinging in a very flimsy hammock, and you must withdraw from his ministry at once. I do not care if your grandfather did donate a stained-glass window or your aunt Suzie plays the pipe organ. I don't care if you have just been appointed to the finance board or drive the church school bus. You cannot remain there under that ministry as we stated at the very beginning of this letter.

Even Abraham had to leave his kindred and his father's house before God would bless him. You find a preacher somewhere who has the courage of a general in a Christian army. Once you find such a man with this kind of dedication, get behind him regardless of the denomination under which he hangs his hat. If he teaches something that you have never heard before, check him out against the Word of God. He may well have some segment of Truth that your previous preacher lacked the courage to preach. If you have more light in some area, do not be afraid to teach him in a friendly way over a cup of coffee as I have done with my Tennessee Temple Bible students. Unless your minister is a very exceptional man, if you have been under his ministry for more than two years, you have learned about all he has to teach.

There are enough professing Christians in America so that, had we all contended for the faith, wrestled with spiritual wickedness in high places, and exposed the unfruitful works of darkness, as our Bible directs, the time of tribulation just ahead may not have been necessary. It is us who have failed in our duty, not the heathen and unbelievers who have never been called to do righteous things. We have made shipwreck of our Christian testimony. Millions have suffered and died in the past 100 years since Scofield because of our collective and individual indifference to the affairs of state.

All across America, ministers assure their foolish congregations that they will not have to endure the trouble and tribulation which they have brought upon themselves. Instead, they teach of the false Scofield Rapture. The get out of jail free card. They shamelessly insinuate that just because they claim some Christian experience that God is obliged to spare them from the curses set forth in Deuteronomy, Chapter 28, verses 15-68. Wood, Hay and Stubble.

Do you really think that you are made of some special clay not found in the Body of Christ in totalitarian socialist lands? Many of you are even now lining up for the Mark of the Beast. You see nothing wrong with every form of government handout, pay the first fruits of your labor to the IRS, and hold your hand out for its socialist security checks. With all this going on during these good times, only Yahweh knows what you will do once the pangs of serious hunger finally get your attention.

Only a small remnant, as history and human nature bear witness, will remain faithful unto the end. I promise you that what lies ahead will not be pleasant. To those of you who are still willing to try, may Christ, the King, give you strength to endure to the end such that your testimony among the suffering Body of Christ, and the unconverted of God's Jacob-Israel may be restored.

To the rest of you who enjoy the tranquility of servitude, go home from us in peace. Continue to lick the hands which feed you and may posterity eventually forget that you were Americans.

I have included Bush's name here because the most innocent people killed at any one time was in Nineveh, northern Iraq, some 600 miles from Kuwait in 1990. These victims were some of the remnant of the Northern House of Israel. Note: This article was written before President William Jefferson Clinton began the slaughter of Christians in the former Republic of Yugoslavia or 9/11.

The Nord Davis, Jr. Doctrinal Statement

We believe in Yahweh God, the God of the Bible. (Exodus 3:14-16)

We believe in Jesus Christ (Yahshua Messiah), the only begotten Son of God. (John 1:14)

We believe in the atoning sacrifice of Jesus Christ on Calvary. (Matt. 26:28)

We believe in His ascension into Heaven. (Mark 16:19; Acts 1:9-11)

We believe in the Holy Spirit and His Mission. (John 14; Acts 2)

We believe in the gospel of Grace. (Acts 20:32; Eph. 2:1-8)

We believe in and teach the gospel of the Kingdom. (Matthew 4:23; 24:14)

We believe in the bodily return of Christ. (Acts 1:9-11)

We believe that Christ will take the throne of David. (Isaiah 9:7; Luke 1:32)

We believe that His Church is His Body on Earth to be united with Him. (Eph. 5:24-33; Col. 1:24; I Cor. 15:50-58; I Thess. 4:14-18; Rev. 19:9)

We believe that the Bible contains God's Plan for the remedy for all problems, and that Plan is worked through His People called Israel. (II Sam.7; Deut. 32:8)

We believe that this people, Israel, contains twelve tribes. (Exod. 28:21; Rev. 21:12)

We believe that Israel is the descendants of the twelve sons of Jacob. (Gen.49)

We believe that this Israel was chosen of God as his peculiar people. (Deut. 7:6-8)

We believe that through this people, Israel, all nations will be blessed. (Gen. 22:16-18)

We believe that the differentiation between "Israel" and "Judah" is clearly shown. (I Kings 12; Jer. 3:6-11; Psalm 114:1-2; Zech. 11:7-14; I Chron. 5:1-2, 17; II Chron.10)

We believe that the time has come (Isaiah 17:12) when "lost" Israel, that nation and company of nations (Gen.35:11) is being found and positively identified. Only one race of people answers in every detail to the Bible picture of Israel in the latter days, and that is the Caucasian race. They possess what Israel was to possess and are doing what Israel was to do. With all the world news today compiled, it is clear that the world is being prepared for the coming reign of Christ; the uniting of the tribes (Ezek.37), and the restoration of His Kingdom in the earth. (Zech. 14:9; Luke 1:32-33). Amen.

So, who is Nord Davis, Jr?

In May 1966, I discovered that I had been one of the called from the foundation of the world to be conformed to the image of His Son, Jesus Christ, the Lord of Hosts. I was given the Gift of Teaching. Healing, Helps, and Governments. Romans 8:28, John 16:7-14, and I Corinthians 12:28.

Dallas Conspiracy, my first extensive pamphlet that exposes exactly how the famous murder in Dallas was carried out, was first written soon after I resigned from the IBM Company to expose their sales of sophisticated computer equipment to the Communists in time of war. My resignation made the New York Times in June 1966. The entire Soviet space effort, as well as their offensive missile computer capabilities, were then being supplied to them by IBM and other American computer firms.

While I am qualified to write in the field of classic economics, I prefer to be a student of conspiratorial political science and work toward the exposure of its tactics. In 1970, I was nominated to be the American Independent Party's Candidate for the United States Senate from Massachusetts, opposing Ted Kennedy's Fabian socialism. Predictably, I hardly made a dent in Massachusetts liberal electorate. On the positive side, I have won the Liberty Award for patriotic journalism from The Congress of Freedom on five occasions. Isaiah 58:1

In 1972, we originated Operation Rolling Thunder, a private civilian operation designed to militarily close Haiphong Harbor in North Vietnam to prevent the enemy from getting its supplies. As a result of that operation, and the ten-day ultimatum Northpoint Teams gave to CINCPAC on April 28, 1972, President Nixon was forced to put a blockage around that harbor on May 8, 1972, to protect the supply lines to the Rockefeller EXXON refinery located there. As a direct result, and our Team Project goal, the Vietnam War had to be cycled down and stopped. Daniel 11:32 and Psalm 144:1 [KJV] I made some awesome enemies, and some grateful friends, in Washington, DC, for that Tactical Project.

Many readers insist that our pamphlets on Bible doctrine are as enlightening as anything currently in print. Americans, from all walks of Christian life, come from across America to spend a few hours or a weekend with us to learn some of the deeper Scriptural truths. The King of Kings has given us a unique way of making the Bible spring into life. My 64-page pamphlet, titled Desert Shield and the New World Order, has a circulation of 250,000 copies. Some say it is one of the best blends of Bible prophecy and world events available. In January 1991, as Desert Storm began, I was in Amman, Jordan. As a guest in the palace of King Hussein, a unique, Bible-based, Tactical Proposal was given to the King which was implemented on or about the 17th of January. The net result, and the Northpoint Team goal called Project Sheba, was that Saddam Hussein was convinced to make the surprise military decision to order his troops not to kill Americans in the Desert Storm War. Matthew 12:38-42, Jer.19:11.

Furthermore, I hold a Doctorate in Naturopathic Medicine. I am qualified to teach the Biological Theory of Ionization, discovered by the late Carey A. Reams, PHD, for the scientific application of food chemistry for the effective treatment of degenerative diseases. My book, "The Curse", on the treatment of cancer and other formerly terminal diseases, is to be rewritten in 1993, with the lay housewife, rather than the health professional, in mind. Do not write for it until we announce that it has been published. We do not yet have a price for it. The eleven original editions, now out of print, sold more than 350,000 copies. Through the book thousands of people have been given a new lease on life. Matthew 10:5-8.

I am proud to be a Navy Korean War veteran and the Patriotic Instructor of my local Veterans of Foreign Wars Post. As a civilian, I was in Central America for two years working on behalf of the freedom fighters of Nicaragua. Matthew 25: 31-40, Judges 3:23.

From our office over the past twenty-eight years, we have published and distributed hundreds of thousands of newsletters and pamphlets on a wide variety of topics. These newsletters do have a modest price on them. You can understand that, but you should also know that all of them are initially mailed free of charge to anyone who writes us asking to be on our mailing list. Our publishing costs are provided by The Northpoint Teams, who graciously support our research and publishing on a monthly basis. I retired from the business world years ago at the age of 36 so that I might give my life's energy to some of these unusual letters and pamphlets. Let the pamphlets speak for themselves. For the price of current publications in print, write us. Now, continue with Lesson Five.

Lesson Five      More on the New World

Pastor John Robinson's charge to the Pilgrim Fathers as he bid them farewell on their historic departure from Holland to the New World:

"Brethren, we are now erelong to part asunder, and the Lord knoweth whether I shall live ever to see your faces more; but whether the Lord hath appointed that or not, I charge you before God and His blessed angels to follow me no farther than I have followed Christ.

If God should reveal anything to you by any other instrument of His, be as ready to receive it as you ever were to receive any truth by my ministry; for I am very confident that the Lord hath more truth and light yet to break forth out of His Holy Word.

For my part, I cannot sufficiently bewail the condition of the reformed churches, who are come to a period in religion, and will go no farther than the instruments of their reformation. The Lutherans cannot be drawn to go any farther than what Luther saw, and the Calvinists, you see, stick fast where they were led by that great man of God, who yet saw not all things. This is a misery much to be lamented; for while they were burning and shining lights in their time, yet they penetrated not into the whole counsel of God, but were they now living, would be as willing to embrace further light as that which they first received."

Pastor Robinson admonished his little flock of Pilgrims to watch and be certain that he did not lead them beyond the truth that Christ had given to him. Follow him no further than he had followed Christ. In preparing this extensive and often controversial personal letter, I ask of you the same criteria that Brother Robinson asked of those listening to him. As you see me following Christ closely then also be wise enough to follow along. If you see me departing from His Path or Way, then you are to part company with Nord Davis, Jr., and continue along alone behind Christ.

Brother Robinson further stated that he knew that there must be far more truth than was the common knowledge of his day. He instructed his Pilgrim flock, which he believed he would likely never see again, to keep their hearts open to this new truth, consistent with the Bible, that went beyond Luther and Calvin. It is interesting to note that of all the Scripture texts that Pastor Robinson could have selected for this very last sermon to those of his beloved followers, those who had been with him through persecutions and exile, was this one found in 2 Samuel, Chapter 7, Verse 10:

"...moreover, I will appoint a place for my people Israel, and will plant them, that they may dwell in a place of their own and move no more; neither shall the children of wickedness afflict them, as before time."

Pastor Robinson knew that when God gave that prophecy to Nathan, that His People Jacob-Israel were already in Palestine with David as King, so this was to be another place where God would be planting them, and where the children of wickedness would not continue to make war with them. Pastor Robinson saw this new place as the New World. The Pilgrims knew that they were fulfilling that and many other Biblical prophecies. This lesson is going into the Scriptural background of that sordid group which Nathan identified and characterized as being "the children of wickedness."

In my library, I have a small book of Psalms, published in 1819, that have been set to metre so that they can be sung in the church assemblies. These Psalms set to rhyme were prepared by Isaac Watts, an English minister who lived from 1684-1748. Note that Dr. Watts set the Psalms into rhyme "imitating the language of the New Testament" and applying it to the Christian State as well as praise and worship. Brother Watts knew, as I have taught in previous lessons, that a church is an assembly where the New Testament message applies to the Christian State, where the affairs of State are discussed and national and Kingdom principles taught. As you read his Psalms set to rhyme, you finally understand the Christian thought-theology of our Founding Fathers. You see through the fog of deception that began in Christian worship in the mid-1800's. You will see Isaac Watt's hymns still scattered through your hymnals, such as the thundering:

"O God, Our Help in Ages Past,
Our Hope, for years to come..."

Dr. Watts was a minister who preached only occasionally, spending most of his time composing hymns and writing theological works. Our help in ages past? How would that be possible if we were not of ancient Jacob-Israel? From his hymns, it seems clear that Dr. Watts understood that the American people were descended from ancient Israel as with the hymn. "O God, Our Help in Ages Past." For instance, his metre translation of Psalm 2 applied to the Christian State has these words:

Why did the Jews proclaim their rage?
The Romans why their swords employ?
Against the Lord their powers engage
His dear Anointed to destroy?

"Come, let us break his bands," they say.

"This man shall never give us laws!"

And thus they cast his yoke away,

And nail'd the Monarch to the cross.

Why did the Jews proclaim their rage? This is the great truth that you will find as we develop this lesson together.

As I sit here in my North Carolina mountain home thinking of how to set forth those greatly overlooked truths of Scripture, I remember watching a regiment of hornets swarming around their delicate paper nest. It was swinging gently in the breeze from a limb of a sweetgum tree outside my window. How, I wonder, does that tiny bee know exactly how to build that nest? Think of it! He has never built one before, has no previous experience, and has not one day to spare for trial and error. Did you ever see a bee dismantle his home and start over because of either poor architecture or construction workmanship? How does that tiny bee brain, that is smaller than the head of a pin, know instinctively and precisely how to do his work in time to prepare a safe place for his descendants?

Outside the patio door to my study, as the hornet is making his home of fragile paper, a wasp is building his home on the wall of my porch from mud gathered painstakingly from the banks of the roaring creek, that runs through my front yard. What makes him select mud, and pay no attention whatever to the hornet's great idea for a home? Of course, as we all know generally, and some of us know more specifically, each bee has a different genetic encoding built into its mental programming such that he will build exactly the proper nest for his kind. Who would ever presume to try to force a mud wasp to inhabit a paper nest? In the Great Order of the Creation of Genesis One, no one presumes to believe that one day all bees will live together in some form of compromising lifestyle. We know that these mental processes of the bee are not going to change, and that regardless of the type of nest and the work being done among many flowers, there is no such thing as a superior race of bee. Each, because of its innate traits and abilities performs as programmed by the Creator. While we do not pretend to understand it, no one denies this great truth.

Likewise, how does a bird know how to build her nest? When her parent's nest was being built, she was not yet formed within the egg. Seeing the nest as a chick gives no suggestion or direction as to how she will one day be required to build her own. Yet, she is perfectly capable of this task in, due season. While my business training was with mainframe IBM computers, I would never suppose I could step by step search the intricate software of the least capable birdbrain.

If we can agree conceptually, if not with the proper scientific language, that Almighty God has the power and the inclination to set these great activities into motion, and then sustain them throughout countless generations, would we not be foolish to think that he has done no similar work in the mental software of mankind, also? I find it astounding that this very thought is denied by otherwise intelligent people and social programmers who suppose that among the various races of mankind no such natural programmed instincts exist.

While science quickly accepts the differences in kind between the birds and the bees, why should they be so astounded to learn that each of the various human races, set forth upon the Earth by God, also is held within a very natural and beautiful order for the good pleasure of our Heavenly Father?

I know that this lesson, as well as the previous ones, is highly controversial simply because it presents the thesis that species of mankind, as with bee-kind, have been deliberately created differently and each for the Scripturally designated purposes. I was carefully taught in the strict New England tradition, that proper people did not discuss such things. While such truths might be pondered at length, they were never to be discussed in polite society. Lest any of the various races of mankind suppose that they have been short-changed by the Creator, and thus have their feelings hurt, modern sociology and theology have attempted to rewrite history and side-track and derail a great spectrum of Scriptural Truth. No longer did Almighty God consider primarily the comings and goings of His People Jacob-Israel, but instead we are to believe that His Word really means all mankind. Now insignificant in modern deceptive Bible teachings are the clear delineations of racial and family birthrights. Christ, they imply or insinuate, came to change "some of the inept things done by His Father in the Old Days." What nonsense! We are going to accept the Scriptures as truth, in so far as it is properly translated, and that Almighty God is the same today as He was yesterday.

Even more controversial than that, we are going to see that He has deliberately inserted mental and emotional software into the minds and hearts of various segments of His Creation. Some of this software is for good purposes, and others are programmed for evil purposes that ultimately advance His Great Scheme and Order of things. As with the bee, we do not pretend to understand or offer to debug His programs in us. We have no intention, if ordained for habitation in "a lofty paper nest," to be relegated to the "mud huts" of the other perfectly happy segments of mankind.

Pastor Robinson's flock, the majority of which remained behind and did not board the Mayflower, were never heard of again in history. They were called to leave and go to the New World, but because of one reason or another, they refused to do so. Thus, within a few generations, their children intermarried with the other peoples of Holland who had different religions, and the great Calvinist thought-theology of the Pilgrims and The Reformation was to die with them in Europe. Ultimately, this led to the Christian humanism that was to be demonstrated by the blood-bath mob, the French Revolution with its Admiralty Law of the Sea. That Admiralty Law is now represented by our French-given Statue of Liberty. Equality and Fraternity which stands in the sea, and out of the sea, on an island in New York harbor. She is the Lady with seven horns on her head, a female model of her sculptor's Jewish mother, holding the Talmud in her hands, and begging the huddled masses to come here and partake of her whoredoms. Where else do you read of a woman having horns on her head? Once our immigration laws were let down, Ezekiel 38:11, America began her downward descent into bondage of the bankers and rule by the uneducated and full of deception taught Christian majority. By the way, a reading of Ezekiel 38:11 will show once again the foresight of the prophets on where Israel would end up.

Footlight.

Somewhere in this personal letter. I am going to have to insert this explanatory footnote. It might as well be now. I even label it a footlight, because through this information you will learn how deeper Bible study must be done. I am aware that the Scriptures teach that there is to be no private interpretation, [2 Peter 1:20] The fact is that all translations of the Bible must of necessity be according to the private understandings and personal doctrinal beliefs of those doing the translation. So, unless you can read the original Koine Greek and Paleo-Hebrew texts, and understand the idioms that Christ used speaking in Aramaic that were translated into Greek, you are not going to get the precise spin on the teachings of the Bible regardless of the translation you are using. Personally, I use the King James translation, not because it is the very best, but because it is a good, safe starting point to teach those who are ordained to come here to learn. If I were to haul out the excellent Ferrar Fenton which is a more literal translation that takes into considerations the idioms used during the period involved, some might accuse me of trying to deliver to them some other gospel.

However, let the reader understand that the King James Version, the presumed authority of the fundamentalists, is a Bible translation authorized and directed by the Roman Catholic English King James. He ordered that an English translation be made available that would blunt the truth of John Calvin's Geneva translation, and swing orthodox Protestantism back under the cloak of Roman Catholic teachings. Hence, the King James is, in itself, a private interpretation that was forbidden in the Word itself. Thus, the Doctrine that Every Man can be saved, taught by the Roman Catholics, finds its way into the emphasis and choice of words of the King James Version. The concept of Free Will for Salvation, a Roman Catholic humanist doctrine going back into antiquity, and repudiated by Martin Luther's bold stand, has again become the shifting foundation of fundamentalist salvation teachings. The racial overtones throughout the Koine Greek New Testament have been just about eliminated from both the King James and the Catholic Bibles.

Thus, Christ's words in Aramaic, when translated into Greek, and the Greek into Latin, and then the Latin to English by scholars with a certain theological agenda, loses a great portion of its basic truth and its unique flavor. We are trying, with Star Wars, to bring some of that truth back. Paul, a linguist in all these languages except English, chose to compose his correspondence in the Koine Greek, the colloquial Greek of the First Century, and a very precise language still used in Athens today. Conspiratorial translators of more modern times have put their Greek texts into what they characterize as Biblical Greek so that when the Tennessee Temple Bible student studies Greek and looks up that Greek word in his Strong's Concordance, he will come to a different interpretation than was originally found in the Koine Greek of Paul's time. I think that there is a great need for second Reformation and this letter is hopefully going to be the mustard seed that gets it going. Modern fundamental Protestantism is farther from the Truth today than was the Catholic Church of the 16th Century. Let me give you one example, using the mistranslations of the Koine Greek words, akeraios, genesthe, and amemptos as found in Philippians 2:15 the King James renders that verse:

"That ye may be blameless and harmless, the sons of God, without rebuke, in the midst of a crooked and perverse nation, among whom ye shine as lights in the world."

The Roman Catholic Douay-Rheims renders it almost exactly the same, except it uses the word generation, meaning race, for nation. This is a better translation in this case. Here is what the accurate Koine Greek literal translation says:

In order that they may come into the divine race perfect is our kind: pure blooded and non-mongrelized, free from that which is incompatible, faultless children of God, amidst a race perverse and having been corrupted, among whom we appear like luminaries in the orderly arrangement:"

You cannot get that understanding from studying Strong's Concordance. James Strong was a contemporary of Cyrus Scofield, preparing his concordance in the late 1800's. He apparently based his lexicon upon the misleading King James, which he took as an infallible standard. Another modern authority used by Bible students is Vine's Expository. William Edwy Vine was born in 1873 and did his work during the Scofield revolution. The problem I have as a teacher presenting the great overview of Scripture, and suggesting word meanings, is that the doubting student quickly goes to some of these "authorities" and from their work properly questions the thesis and thrust of my teachings. We make no apologies. The very fact that these "authorities" are sold on the same shelves as the Scofield Reference Bible, should tell you something. I will present more examples as we go along, but here is one that we will be using in the next lesson. I want you to look at Jonah 3:8. It is written in my King James:

But let man and beast be covered with sackcloth, and cry mightily unto God: yea, let every one turn from his evil way, and from the violence that is in their hands."

Here, this beast is going an evil way. He has hands and is supposed to put on sackcloth and ashes and to cry mightily unto God. The word for beast here is Strong's word #929, behemat. Strong's says that this is a large four-legged animal. Vine's Expository defines it the same way. Young's Concordance also says the same thing. Therefore. I suppose we must believe that the beasts in Jonah 3:8 must be knowledgeably sinful cows which have hands and can cry mightily unto the Lord wearing sackcloth and ashes. Nonsense! The original Paleo-Hebrew word here could be interpreted as a large animal of either the two or four-legged variety. In this case, because these beasts have hands, are sinners, cover themselves with sackcloth and ashes, and cry unto the Lord, they must be men which are identified elsewhere in Scripture as one of the various versions of beast such as chay, chevah, cheyva, and cheveh. The true Biblical meaning of beast, whether as behemeh or chat', being a nonwhite person, has been deliberately hidden from us in Scofield-type reference materials. Isn't that interesting? We see the plague of boils on man and beast in Exodus 11:9 because of sin. We see that the beasts of Exodus 19:14-15 should not let their hands touch the mountain or they would die. Exodus 22:19 states that those who have sex with a beast are to be executed. Jeremiah, in Chapter 31 at verse 27, states that the sin of the last days will be that Adam's children will mix their seed with that of the beasts. That is going on all across America and the churches do not preach against it. Exodus 23:29 shows concern that the beasts would multiply against God's Israel people. We find that the behemah, translated beasts in Zechariah 8:10 are unemployed. These beasts cannot find jobs to do and so forth. One of the judgments of God for ignoring His Laws, Statutes, and Judgments, is that His Word would be hidden from you. This is how it has been done.

Lesson Six            The Beast

Beast is a frequently used and widely misunderstood word found in Scripture. When one thinks of a beast in today's modern English usage, the concept is limited to those four-legged animals with hooves, paws, and claws. However, the Hebrew word Chay does not only refer to ordinary animals, but in the English of the days of King James, it was not uncommon to refer to the hard-working Black people as beasts of burden.

Thus, we see the unusual language of our Bible that uses this term for them. It did NOT carry the degrading or derogatory thought that such usage would imply today. Until we come to grips with this Biblical phrase, The beasts of the field, there is no way that we can grasp advanced, Biblical truth. Students should run this phrase through Strong's Concordance, but let me show with a few verses what I am getting at here. I think that these few verses will give a deeper meaning to the first chapters of Genesis, the foundation of all of God's Word. Genesis 9:5-6 states:

"...And surely your blood of your lives will I require; at the hand of every beast will I require it at the hand of every man... Whosoever sheds man's blood, by man shall his blood be shed: for in the image of God made He man."

Here you see that these beasts are described as having hands, not paws or hooves. The context, if you will examine it, indicates that these beasts of the earth would be aware of man's origin, made in God's Image, and therefore could be commanded to abstain from murder or forfeit his life. Such a beast would have to have sufficient intellect to be morally responsible for his actions. As we have stated in the Footlight, the best word for these beast people would be Chay, Strong's Hebrew word #2416. However, a more generic word for beast, used in Exodus 19:11-13 and 23:10-11 is from the Hebrew word behemah, Strong's Hebrew word #929, which discuss beasts who eat grapes and olives. No farmer in his right mind would turn their cattle, sheep, and horses into their vineyards and among their olive trees to trample and destroy them. So, these behemah Beasts can also refer to mankind who are not of the Adamic race. If you ask your pastor, he will probably tell you that the beasts of the field are domesticated animals, but none of these are flesh-eating animals. Yet, as stated in 1 Samuel 42-44, and 2 Samuel 21:10, the beast of the field is a cannibal, a man-eater.

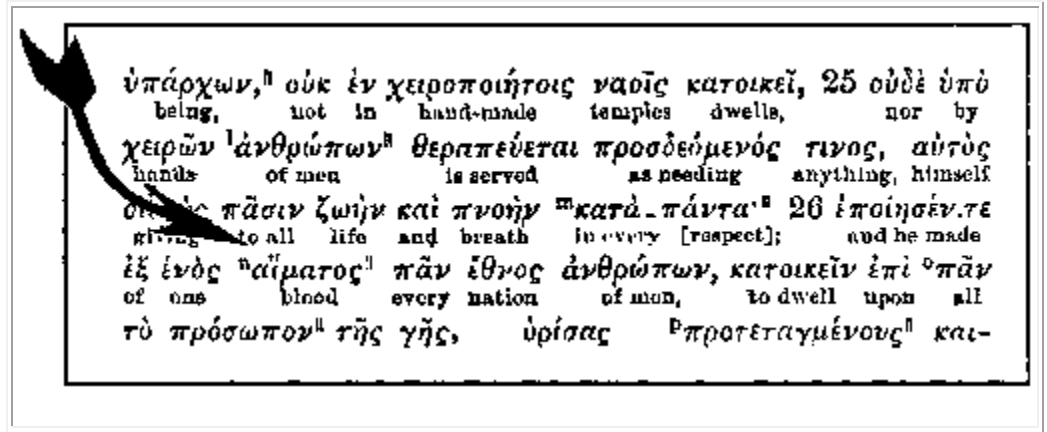

Jeremiah 27:6 explains that the beasts of the field were used as servants to Nebuchadnezzar, King of Babylon. Daniel even told this King that he would be driven from living with men, and wind up living with his servants, the beasts of the field, until he became insane. It must have been the music that did it. These beasts of the field did protect their King, taking care of him during the seven years of his madness, and saw to it that he was not slain by his enemies. Contrary to certain anti-black remarks we hear today, our Bible never has anything degrading to say about God's beasts of the field as a race or a lively troop.

Christians remain confused about the Great Theme of the Bible primarily because of certain misconceptions and deceptions concerning its language. For years, I have thought that the pastors who had studied the Greek and the Hebrew knew the truth of what I am teaching. Only recently have I learned that most divinity schools teach the modern Hebrew and the Biblical Greek and really do not know this subtle trickery of language given to us when the children of the wicked one began to massage the original languages. Those who are told the truth by my previous Star Wars letters, have often decided to ignore it because they must make mortgage payments on their buildings and have enough for missions to just about anyone but the lost sheep of the House of Israel. [Matthew 10:6; 18:11; Luke 19:10, etc.]

With the concepts of the bees, birds, and beasts held firmly in mind, I want to direct your attention to the Book of Beginnings, Genesis. Here we will also find out about the beginnings of that Great Star Wars of Scripture. Read again Genesis, Chapter 1:25:

"...And God made the Beast of the earth after his kind, and cattle after their kind, and everything that creepeth upon the earth after his kind: and God saw that it was good."

Please note that the beast rendered above is singular. It does not say beasts, as it might if the Word was speaking of elephants, lions, or tigers. Note the "his" and "their" in the text. The remainder of this text refers to all of these other animals of creation. This beast is a different creature, and the Hebrew word for him is Chay. While there are several variations of this word, Chay, we will use Chay for this race of non-white people mentioned throughout Scripture in these lessons but let the student realize that I am aware of the variations. Chay is a beast having hands and feet, one who is described as from a lively troop, and who works as a servant, etc.

Also note that in regard to the Beast, Chay, he was made. Contrast that with Adam's entry onto the earth at Genesis 1:27 & 31:

"...So God created man [aw-dawm, i.e. Adam] in his own image, in the image of God created He him; male and female created He them ...And God saw everything that He had made, and behold, it was very good."

So, Chay was made good, and man was created very good. How then is it possible to have a warfare of the stars upon the earth?

The first presupposition set forth here is this. In Genesis One there are two distinct racial lines set forth upon the earth, and each of them God said was good. One of these, distinguished, as the beast of the earth comprised the Black and other races who do not have the ability to show blood in the face. The other is the racial line from Adam who were clearly distinguished with the ability to blush. This can only be the Caucasian race, who after division after division through history, a remnant became the people of Jacob-Israel, and only a tiny remnant of those is called from the foundation of the world.

What is vital to the student's understanding is that all races of men do not descend from Adam. I know that your minister teaches you differently, but to accept that theory, to have all races descend from Adam, and do so within the 7,000 or so years since Adam, would be retrograde evolution of the swiftest order. If you cannot evolve different species over a million years, there is no way that the various racial types of man could have evolved in 7,000 years, and the Black, Indian, and Asian races have been with us from the earliest of times in both Biblical and secular history.

Shown here is one example of the doctored Greek text. This is from the Interlinear Greek New Testament developed in the Scofield Era by George Bicker Berry. PhD and reprinted by Zondervan Publishing Co., in 1958. You will see that the word blood has been inserted into the Greek text so that the student will believe that it was there originally and hence all kindreds of people are of the same blood meaning that All Men are brothers, etc. This thought-theology of One Blood, imposed upon our Christian nation, is necessary to justify, with the blessings of the Christians. The New World Order.

The second presupposition here is that each of these kinds of man have different built-in mental programs and abilities commensurate with the tasks for which God made or created them. As with the different kinds of bees, one programmed to build a mud dwelling, and another a paper one, both are seen as good by the Creator.

As I write. I am reminded of those Bible texts used by our deceiving pastors to suggest that all men are of Adam and are of one blood, such as Paul's statement recorded in Acts 17:26, as:

"...And hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath determined the times before appointed, and the bounds of their habitation."

Here is the problem. The word blood was never in the original Greek text, but was added by the King James translators supposedly to make that verse more understandable. Then Strong's Concordance, developed in the Scofield period, puts blood in Acts 17:26, and then gives the definition not only as blood, but inserts as an alternate meaning the word kindred. This would make all nations of one kindred and support the false theology all men are of Adam and all men can be "grafted into Israel" and saved, etc. Said another way, the King James lies, and Strong's Concordance swears to it. The Roman Catholic Douay-Rheims Version quite properly does not insert this word blood in its text.

The modern Biblical Greek texts that your Bible College students use, have also inserted the Greek word, haima, into these so-called authorities. Vine's Expository, in this case states that the word blood does not appear in most authentic manuscripts. The Ferrar Fenton, capitalizes the word One, and leaves out the word blood, for the original texts indicate that the One here is Christ. So, this verse should read:

"...Himself giving to everyone life and breath and all things; because He made by One, [i.e. Christ] every race of men to dwell upon the whole face of the earth...:"

Now, you see the difference. Isn't it strange that all of the major reference materials and concordances, such as Young's, Strong's and Vine's were all prepared in that very era, from around 1890-1915, that C. I. Scofield was preparing his Reference notes?

As the current AIDS epidemic is so vividly teaching us, all blood of mankind is certainly not the same. The blood of Caucasians differs in molecular construction and in heredity factors from that of the Black person. Sickle cell anemia, for instance, is not a disease, but a mutation of the blood of the Black, and is transmitted to the Caucasian only by transfusion of Black blood. Paul contradicts the One Blood social engineers, such as C.I. Scofield, and the deceived pastors who promote this evolutionary concept, when he wrote in I Corinthians 15:39:

"All flesh is not the same flesh: but there is one kind of flesh of men, and another flesh of beasts, another of fishes and another of birds."

As you thoughtfully consider the controversial truths set forth here, I want you to keep in mind the fact that each of the races, whether made or created, were designed by the Creator Yahweh to be good and to remain within the bounds of their habitation. These are not only geographical bounds, but also limits as to cohabitation. The major problem to be faced today is the tragic results of these bounds being breached. This false idea of a melting pot America; the blending of the races under the assumption that all mankind is of one blood, is even now bringing down our Christian civilization.

Look at what is being promoted in America since the Christian people elected Bill Clinton to the Presidency. Sodomites are scattered throughout the federal government and will be now permitted into the military.

Note

There is a clearer distinction in the Paleo-Hebrew than appears in English. Chay, and the rest of Creation, were made from nothing for the first time, by the Spoken Word of Almighty God. Adam had no such making but was formed from the dust of the earth. Chay has been on the earth for tens of thousands of years, and his triangular shinbone has been dated long before Adam's arrival about 7,000 years ago with his rounded shinbone. None of the rounded shinbone people have ever been found that predate 7,000 years.

Lesson Seven                      The Serpent

As you can see, because of natural errors in the translation through a series of languages, intentional mistranslations for the purpose of altering doctrinal teachings, and the normal flavor being lost through idiomatic shifts, rightly dividing the word of God takes considerable study. How tragic, it seems to me, that the early Bible translators chose to use the phrase "beast of the field" in their references throughout Scripture to pre-Adamic man. In this End-Time Age, it has caused a major stumbling block to honest Christians who are continually warned against such supposed racism. Even the term racism has come to mean something ugly rather than just a fact of life. The United Methodist Church has recently issued a position policy to the effect that anyone who demonstrates any racial pride is guilty of a sin and church fellowship may be denied that person. Billy Graham, supporting inter-racial fornication, says that he looks forward to the day when all the earth's people are an equal shade of light brown. If I asked you what was the pivotal Scripture of the Bible, what would be your answer? I asked my Tennessee Temple students that question, and they at once gave me John 3:15, with the emphasis on whosoever. Depending upon your church affiliation, different verses might have popped into your mind. Many on my mailing list, would offer Acts 2:1-8, and some would insist it is Exodus 20:8 regarding the Sabbath Day, and so forth. One elderly man thought it was the 23rd Psalm, for it was the one Psalm that all Christians are taught to memorize.

It is my belief, and the thesis of this personal Star Wars letter, that the pivot of all Scripture is Genesis 3:15. You see, until Genesis 3:15, there were but two families of mankind on the earth, the made and the created, or as we shall from henceforth identify as those of Adam and those of Chay. Both, Almighty God has stated, were and are good.

As we consider the events in the Garden of Eden, we know that the ultimate punishments for Adam's sin was that he would begin to die and, henceforth, he would be required to work by the sweat of his brow. Therefore, before that sin and its swift judgment, it follows that Adam did not have to work by the sweat of his brow. Do you understand that? Who then did all the sweating? There was a tremendous amount of work that had to be done and Adam was the manager to see to it that the work of dressing the Garden got done. Scripture suggests that the Garden may have been half as large as the United States and not, as some suppose, similar to a medium-sized farm with limited chores to do. Adam was on the road a lot of the time to get those tasks completed.

In striking contrast, the Chay men were known as wanderers, the literal meaning of the Land of Nod where Cain would later go to look for a wife or two. It was from this original abode of Chay that Adam selected the most competent workmen to serve him in the Garden. Chay was glad for the opportunity for wherever Chay works around Adam, his lifestyle is immeasurably improved. You do not have to travel very far into the jungles of Africa to see how poorly Chay makes out when going it alone. However, before Genesis 3, it was by the sweat of Chay, not Adam, that the work got done. These two races of men designed and programmed by God to work harmoniously together, still do today if not incited to discontent by outsiders.

As you read the amazing story of Genesis. Chapter 3, there is no mention made of any surprise or fear on the part of Eve when confronted with the debating Chay proposing something new, exciting, and forbidden. I like to think of this as one of the supervising Chay, selected by Adam because of some extra ability and talent. He could spend his time talking to the mistress of the estate while the other Chay did the work with Adam checking up on the Garden. Can you picture this? Doesn't it make more sense than a talking snake?"

Nachash, translated serpent, was a specific Chay and, because of his impudent, cunning and cocky nature, assumed that descriptive name for Scriptural understanding. Nachash was his proper name, not as most pastors teach, one of the many wild creatures in the Garden. In modern times, we have encountered such subtle Chay who live among us, but rarely does today one find such impudence in any pure-bred Chay. Nachash, as I see it, was unique in his time, and, because of his uncommon ability and cunning, was a natural tool for Satan to use. Satan, as well as God, could see that everything was good, and that was too much for Satan to handle. Could he do a number on Adam's wife with Nachash by transforming him into a seed-bearing "tree" that was pleasant [Hebrew taavah, lustfully or long fully, desirable, Strong's word #8378] to her eyes?

Scriptures, in these specific verses, have been translated so that they could remain family reading and thus intended to screen from children's eyes certain aspects of these events in the interest of good taste. It is sufficient for the immature to think of Eve as eating a forbidden apple, and Adam doing likewise. Regrettably, 90% of all Christians today still accept this immature understanding from their childhood Sunday school classes. (Milk vs. meat.)

If the Bible translators, under the unction of the Holy Spirit, did not disclose the sordid details, perhaps this letter should also be discrete, knowing that the student can look up the Hebrew words used, study them and substitute the meanings, thus showing themselves approved, workmen that needs not be ashamed. For example, touch used in these verses is the Hebrew word naga, meaning to lie with a woman. Or you can take the word translated eat and see that it is from the same root word as "eateth" found in the act of an adulterous woman of Proverbs 30:20. Do you really believe that the sin of eating a forbidden apple would cause anyone to discover their nakedness? It was not to be the seed of an apple that would cause pain and stress when the children of Adam are delivered, but some other seed that has matured in due season.

There are several opinions regarding the actual nature of this seduction that cannot be clearly decided by the text alone. One is that Nachash himself provided the Wicked Seed as a surrogate of Satan and thus the off-spring Cain would be an Adam-Chay cross having a natural propensity to eventually take a wife from the purebred Chay living in the Land of Nod. I think that this matter is far deeper than that.

Another opinion, held by the deceived church, is that there was no physical seed at all, but some spiritual seed of a snake such that Eve's carnal thoughts created the wicked Cain and a subsequent spiritual Satanic seedline of Cain. The Hebrew text in all due respect for the theology of some of my friends, allows us to take no such sweeping liberties. A seed is a seed, and the phrase spiritual seed is neither expressed or implied here, or in Christ's words later referring to the regrettable event.

A third opinion is what I feel is clearly brought out by Christ's Words as in John 8:42-45, and John's words in I John 3:12; that this Nachash merely performed as a pimp setting up the Event so that Satan, appearing as an angel of light, could plant his own seed in the woman. Eve knew that Nachash was not Yahweh, but a pleasant-looking Chay who worked for her husband. Why then did she say that her first child, Cain, was from Yahweh? [Genesis 4:1] I think that it was because she had been deceived by Satan into believing that he was God and wanted her to thus perform for him. No question but what Eve was thoroughly deceived. Paul writes in I Timothy 2:14:

"...And Adam was not deceived, but the woman being deceived was in the transgression."

This could have been quite properly rendered: "... the woman was the transgressor."

The Apostle Paul, writing to those converts that he had led to Yahweh, had these revealing words in 2 Corinthians 11:2:

"for I am jealous over you with a godly jealousy: for I have espoused you to one husband, that I may present you as a chaste virgin to Christ."

He is not addressing matters of piety, caring for the family, worshipping in church, or not wearing makeup or short skirts. There is only one way that a woman can lose her virginity, and he was not referring to some spiritual carnality here. So, in the context of teaching this to the ladies of Corinth, the next verse reads:

"But I fear, lest by any means, as the serpent beguiled Eve through his subtilty, so your minds should be corrupted from the simplicity that is in Christ."

Adam, however, knew better and his sin was taking matters into his own hands and going in unto Eve, at that time still a defiled woman. True, she later confessed and was forgiven, and her son Seth was not held in judgment, as was Abel. Yet, the judgment of her sin, even though deceived, remains with our Adamite ladies unto today. The women of the other races, if not the product of intermarriage with Adam's daughters, have almost no pain or travail in bearing children. They will bear their children and be back working in the fields within a few hours. The ladies, who are reading this letter, now know the reason for this curious medical fact about which they have long wondered.

Returning to Genesis 3:14, we find God's judgment on Nachash, as an individual, would be that he would crawl on his belly all the days of his life. Well, if that is the case, then he did not crawl on his belly before the event, and therefore could not have been a literal snake. Do you understand that? The Chay people, of which Nachash was a part, were not thus cursed and they do not crawl on their bellies even today.

The next verse is the pivotal one of Scripture and it reads:

"And I will put enmity between thee and the woman, and between thy seed and her seed; it [her seed shall bruise [crush] thy [Satan's] head, and thou [Satan's seed] shall bruise his [the woman's Son's] heel."

The foreboding prediction of God came to pass. Eve bore a set of fraternal twins, the first-born Cain physically sired by Satan and Abel literally sired by Adam. Think back now to the lesson about the bees and the birds and the intrinsic natures, that delicate, discrete mental programming, built into them by God at Creation. Now we are seeing that God has built an internal hatred between these two twins and their posterity. It is important to note that the name Cain means acquired or gotten by another source. If you are going to translate Nachash as the serpent, then you would have to translate "aw-dawm" as the blushing-face and Cain as the acquired. Nowhere in the Bible can you find it said that Cain, the acquired, was in the family or lineage of Adam. So that you will not miss this important fact, a triple witness of Adam's lineage is given in Genesis 5:3; I Chronicles 1:1; and Luke 3:38. Serious Bible teachers agree that Cain and Abel were twins, and the Word of God agrees, for in Genesis 4:3-4 the two boys came of age at the same time and presented their offerings on the same day. However, carefully examining Genesis 4:1, the Bible says that Adam 'knew' his wife and she conceived, and bare Cain, and said, "I have gotten a man from Yahweh." Even though Cain was her firstborn and she thought him at first to be her promised seed, she later acknowledges that it was Abel, not Cain, who was her promised seed. Do you now see why Scripture was written in that manner? It does not imply that Cain was Adam's first son, but if Abel was Adam's son, then Cain, the acquired was Nachash-Satan's son.

John states and it was recorded in I John 3:12-13 as:

"Not as Cain, who was of that wicked one, and slew his brother. And wherefore slew he him? Because his own works were evil, and his brother's righteous. Marvel not, my brethren, if the world hate you."

The word "of" in the Greek clearly means that Cain was a literal seed of Satan. There is no other way to properly understand these verses. It cannot mean, as some suggest, some form of "spiritual" Satanic seed, a concept that is out of character with the whole canon of Scripture.

Reading on in Genesis, Chapter 4, we see that the hatred mentioned in Genesis 3:15 came out in the very first generation when Nachach's son Cain, the acquired, rises up and murders the woman's son, Abel. Beginning with either Genesis 3:15 or Genesis 4:1, whichever way you wish to calculate it, no longer was everything good in the Creation.

From now on, in order to keep the sons of Adam in obedience, another seedline, a wicked and warring seed of Satan himself, was to go abroad in the world. To stand against Satan's seed, we, who are of the Woman's seed, would need a full measure of both The Law and Grace.

This seed of the wicked one would be deliberately endowed by Almighty God within his genes and set into motion in its programmed instincts and abilities, the overwhelming desire to murder, plunder and harass the seed of the woman. Without the loving and direct intervention of God, as seen through the canon of Holy History, there is no doubt that this wicked seed would have been able to win over the woman's seed. Now, as Christ's return, marriage, and Kingdom are clearly on the horizon, the serpent seed people seem to almost have us under their domination. (Dominion)

So, by Genesis 4, there are three seed lines on the earth:

- 1) Chay's purebred children living in the land of Nod happy and content in their creation.
- 2) Adam and Eve's purebred children, driven out of Eden and prevented from reentering the Garden or having access to the Tree of Life, Yahshua Messiah the Christ.
- 3) Satan's seed carried into the earth by Eve but having blended his seed through marriage with some of Chay's women then living east of Eden.

Thus, the war between the instincts of Satan's children living in the East, and Adam's blushing posterity dwelling in the West, had begun. Regrettably, Chay's children, innocent of all of these judgments, seem to be always caught in the middle and shot at from both sides.

Chapter Notes

Here again we find the deception of the Bible translators. The Hebrew word rendered as serpent is nachash. The translation is technically correct. But Dr. Adam Clarke, doing his work over 130 years ago, when scholars read and wrote in the ancient languages, states: "We are obliged to seek for some other word to designate the nachash in the text than the word serpent, which, on every view of the subject, appears to me inefficient and inapplicable." The word nachash should have been left in the text as: Now Nachash was more subtle than any beast of the field that Yahweh had made. (Genesis 3:1) Instead, they put their own theological spin on the word by rendering the word serpent and then having Strong's define the word nachash only as serpent. This implies that this Nachash was an actual snake as is the case for the nachash in a dozen other Old Testament verses such as Numbers 21:9 where Moses made a serpent of brass and Exodus 7:15 where the rod became a serpent. In those cases, nachash was an actual snake. However, in Genesis 3, Nachash was this subtle beast's name, given to him by God as his natural trait, not his actual specie of creature. Just as au-dawm was not translated as "blushing-face," but Adam, here Nachash quite properly names a man who is a whisperer or a charmer as Strong's quite properly sets forth in his word #5172. So, rather than use the word serpent, think of this text reading, "Nachash, the whisperer, was more subtle than any Chay of the field..." The word subtle here does not mean clever as we think of it in English. The Hebrew word, aruwm, could be cunning in an evil sense, but most scholars, such as Ferrar Fenton, define the word as "more impudent" as a person who does not know his place or station in life. You might also define it as cocky or lacking in modesty. So, if you mix immodest, cocky, contemptuous, cunning, and impudent into one Hebrew word, then you can imagine what "subtle" means in this verse.

See, if the thrust of the Church is going to be that all men are of the same blood, then they do not want you to think of Nachash as being a cocky, impudent Black man, but as merely a cunning snake who learned to talk. What nonsense!

This teaching not only applies personally to the sexual temptations of the ladies within the assemblies but has a far deeper meaning which we cannot take space to go into here. This meaning involves the Bride of Christ, who is to be made a chaste virgin whom Paul, and you and I, will be presenting to Christ at the Marriage of the Lamb. This Bride is not the Church as you have been taught, but that great Kingdom nation as Christ stated through John in Revelation 19:7-8, along with Revelation 21:2 and 21:9-27. That is the 'chaste virgin' written about here to the ladies of Corinth. It is about our nation, and ultimately the Kingdom nation being built here in America, that the affairs of State are to be discussed in the churches. We have let Christ's Bride become again beguiled with the lusts of Satan's crowd. Shame on us.

We are going to have to leave this subject of what happened in the Garden in Genesis Chapter 3 and the various judgments pronounced by Almighty God. I have tried in every way to make the truth obvious to the student, with the full understanding that the Bible is cryptically brief and the Holy Spirit would have it so. Dr. Clarke pictures the event in this way. "Satan made use of this creature as the most proper instrument for the accomplishment of his murderous purposes against the life and soul of man. Under this creature he lay hid, and by this creature he seduced our first parents, and drew off or slunk away from every eye but the eye of God. No serpent or any other class of such reptiles ever walked erect and for serpents, of course, to crawl on their bellies would be neither a curse nor a punishment. They do not have, and never did have any organs of speech. To give such snakes the ability to speak is to be forever in Disney World, and makes the Word of God of none effect."

I have taken every precaution to not read more into this event nor to expand upon what is not written in Scripture. Among the sinister meanings of Nachash is to acquire knowledge through experience. This New Age concept that is as old as recorded history can be paraphrased as "he will be the master of his knowledge who will attain this mastery through experience." Hence. Nachach's invitations to touch and to taste; the very idea of which intrigued and seduced Eve. The physical seduction of Eve, in contrast to the modernist concept of a spiritual seduction and a spiritual seedline of Satan was the common theological teaching of our Pilgrim and Puritan forefathers. Of all English authors. John Milton, born in 1608, still ranks third in scholarship and influence. He read all of the ancient languages fluently. He is noted for his poetry in Latin, Italian, and English. His most famous book, Paradise Lost, published in 1667, is the story of the Garden of Eden and its pivotal event, the seduction of Eve by Satan, exactly as I have set it forth in this personal letter. He was a theological leader of the Puritans. I will have to rest my case here.

Lesson Eight      Fruit of the Seed of the Serpent

Eventually, if you begin to think of these three very different families of mankind on the earth, the question of the responsibility for sin in the Garden of Eden must be addressed. Did Nachash or Satan have any children? If we ascribe Cain to either, is there any point of presenting to that wretched seedline the Gospel of Christ? If that enmity is perpetual, and God implies that it is, and Christ verifies that it is, then is there any point in witnessing the Roman Road to them? No, for this seedline will always be at war with Christ. They are not His sheep and they cannot hear His voice. His sheep know Him, and He knows them. It is obvious that any missionary efforts toward the children of the wicked one are doomed to failure, and a complete waste of time and money. Worse than that, it is an insult to our Christ and His ministry and truth. The worst insults to Christ have always come from the Christian humanists, who generally refer to our King only by His first name, Jesus.

Nowhere is it stated that Satan and his bands are going to be able to "get right with God." This Satanic seed, those whom Christ identified as being "of their father the Devil," are not going to be "saved" and that determination was made before the foundation of the world and signed and sealed by the Word of God in Genesis, Chapter 3. Why bother to extend the Gospel to them? To further establish what we taught earlier, there is no way that all men can be saved, for Satan's seed are obviously excluded from those glorious ranks.

How about the rest of Chay's children living contentedly in the Land of Nod? Were they a party to the sin of Adam and Eve? Of course not! God would not hold accountable to those who had such a perfect alibi would He? Since Chay's children are not descended from Adam, they were never placed under the Law of Moses. Thus, they are not under the jurisdiction of the Law, and lawfully they are not, and never were, sinners. Since that is true, why would they need a Savior descended from Adam, their non-Kinsman, in either the spirit or the flesh? Do you see now the reason for the absolute futility of sending Christian missionaries to Africa, India, and Asia? Those good folks are not under the penalty of the sin of the Garden or of the Law of Moses. Also, they are not the put-away-in-punishment sheep of the House of Israel.

If you will now take time to read Genesis, Chapter 5 to at least verse 8, you will see the generations, or the descendants, of Adam. Even though Cain was born of Eve, it is clear that Adam was not his father. This alone is enough to disprove the Scofield and modernist idea that Satan's seed must have been a "spiritual one" while Adam's seedline was a physical one right down to Christ, Himself. We have no intention of letting Satan off the hook as so many of my friends are inclined to do with their "non-seedline doctrines." You will note that the descendant Abel was not listed either, because he is the product of Eve and Adam while they were in the sinful, unforgiven status. So, the only true son of Adam and Eve that has ever been recorded is Seth, whose name means the Substitute. The Bible says that Seth was created in Adam's image.

This wipes out that pseudo-scientific speculation which alleges that since Eve had carried Cain, his blood had mingled with hers, that some of Cain's Satanic traits would come down to Seth in a later pregnancy and he would be "a little like Cain." They use this false argument to support their theory that there could not have been a physical seed of Satan introduced into our mother. Eve. That theory is unknown by genetic professionals, as to either mankind, cattle, dogs, and other domestic animals today. Certainly, at the beginning of creation, that was not the case. The Bible is clear on that matter.

The substitute was in Adam's image, or likeness. From the substitute, Seth, married to one of his sisters, which was not a genetic problem in those days, comes his son Enos and all the rest of his family.

Almost the entire Chapter of Genesis 4 is devoted to the subject of Cain from his birth to his punishment. Our Heavenly Father wants us to be able to recognize him both in his physical traits, and also that he will always be a fugitive and a vagabond in the earth. God wants us to notice that the serpent race cannot get the earth to give any increase, and hence this is a people who are never seen in the farming business. They cannot earn their living from the soil and they would always dwell in the cities.

The seed of the serpent have a built-in propensity to do evil. They are incapable of doing otherwise. As with the bee who builds his nest as he does without knowing why, so too the descendants of Cain will eventually expose their God directed traits and instincts. Among Cain's descendants you will find one named Tubalcain mentioned in verse 22. He is one of Satan's seed that the modern Masons apparently think so highly of that they make a point to always mention his name in every Lodge meeting. Are most Masons aware that their hero, Tubalcain, is descended from the Fatherhood of Satan in order to make possible their Brotherhood of Man? No, the Masons are as ignorant as the average Christian as to what they are doing. Certainly, they do not realize that when they open their Lodges in the 3°, with the Six-pointed star of Moloch resting on the Bible, that they are actually worshipping that ancient god of the East. If Christians knew it, they would stop. Hopefully.

How can we identify Satan's seed so as to withhold all missionary efforts and government foreign aid to them if we are unaware of what we have taught so far? How can we be able to guard against their deception and intrinsic treachery, if we hold the thought-theology that all men are created equal or that salvation is to be offered to everyone? Knowing now the enmity placed by God in Satan's seed people, and its intended direction, where would you expect to find their lies to be directed the most heavily? Would it not be against Jacob's children, the Caucasian Christian people? Would it not also be in an effort to hide their origin and to pretend to be among the seed line of the woman?

Fortunately, there is no difficulty in identifying Chay's children as they have moved across the earth since the good old days in the Land of Nod. Since Chay's descendants are under no inclinations directed by God to have enmity against the people of the woman's seed, Christians need not be constantly afraid of forthcoming treachery. This is hardly the case with Satan's seed who have also relocated about the earth since those days East of Eden. Satan's interracial melting pot has been boiling for centuries. Thus, many of Satan's descendants, with their intrinsic traits well intact often pass among us unnoticed. Many, as Christ's tenure among them indicates, pretend interest in His ministry, only to be exposed for what they were by Him, right in front of his Judean and Galilean associates. Not having a quick and easy identifying slogan to present to His disciples, Christ could only advise His followers to inspect the fruit and ignore their words. Even by that early date, Satan's seed had penetrated the organized church, banking, and legal professions. They sought to destroy Him either through their wicked thought-theology, by financial means, or by the law.

John the Baptist, a man of ready discernment, let his contempt for Cain's children show no moderation when he addressed them with these words:

"O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from the wrath to come?" - Matthew 3:7

The clear implication from his words was that certainly he did not warn them. The Greek word here translated generation, is gennema, literally meaning "off-spring or race." Vipers is from the Greek word echidna, meaning literally or figuratively, "poisonous snake." Curiously, this word echidna appears only four times in the Bible, and each time it is pinned on the Edomite/Jewish Pharisee's or Sadducee's. So, by the authority of the Word of God, Christ, and John the Baptist, we know who the seed of the serpent was in those days.

While pretending to be interested in the righteous way, the software of their God-directed instincts betrayed their hidden agenda. For publicly identifying the race of the serpent, John the Baptist's head was delivered on a platter to a dancing damsel. (Mark 6:28) The gypsy dancer gave the platter to her mother, who, no doubt, had instructed her that it was even more valuable than half of Herod's kingdom.

Christ was the other person who had the courage to publicly identify the serpent seed, as the physical race of vipers, and you all know the outcome of that social indiscretion. As time goes on, in this Land of the Free and Home of the Brave, it may become illegal under some so-called "hate-crime statute" to even publish this private letter quoting the Word of God regarding the various races of mankind.

To retrace our conceptual steps for a moment, I admit that I do not know very much about bees. If a hornet and a wasp were to land right here on my computer keyboard, and my life depended on it, I could not tell which of them was satisfied with a mud house and which would soon join his brethren in the paper nest in the Sweetgum tree. Only an expert in bees could do so, and beekeepers reading this letter may wonder why I cannot distinguish what is so glaringly obvious to them. So, being a novice at bee-inspecting, all I can do is follow that creature and observe his handiwork. So, that's a wasp. But, within an hour I might still be as ignorant as before. You see, my eyes are not trained to notice all of those tiny distinguishing differences between the various kinds of bees. All I can tell you is that if it builds a nest like a hornet, it must be a hornet.

Mankind, however, is not so easily identified, and so important is the line of the descendants of Adam, as distinguished from the serpent's seed line, that your Bible lists again and again those genealogies. Why? It is done to positively establish that throughout the generations, from Adam to Christ, that no seed of Satan's children got mixed into the children of promises' genes and heritages. If this one consideration had no value, except for an eventful history of our forefathers, we might as well discard hundreds of pages of ancient facts, dates, and places. There are some that are trying to do that by publishing only the New Testament, or the Book of John as the whole Gospel truth. They are modernizing the language so as to soften the unpleasant portions of Chapter 8. If possible, in their commentaries,

Sunday School materials, and preaching, they try to shift the blame for the unlawful trial and murder of Christ from the serpent's seed to the Roman soldiers. Modern preaching of these government churches, that is, those who file a 501(c)(3) tax exemption, in so far as possible, try to remove the guilt rightly placed on those who say that they are Judahite's and those who are not.

Without a thorough knowledge of the implications of Genesis 3:15, and the positive identity of the descendants of the two seed lines, Christians will never understand why such a wonderful man as Jesus Christ, who never did anything wrong and committed no crime, would be murdered in so brutal a manner. They will no longer look on Him as the last sin sacrifice for the atonement of Israel, but only as a personal Savior in a strictly humanistic and religious sense.

If you insist upon denying, for whatever reason, that Satan produced an actual physical seed, and seedline, you will eventually wind up having to identify the woman's seedline, that of the children of God, and that of Christ, Himself, also as a spiritual seed. Once the Serpent's seed is properly identified, then all of Christ's followers will know who the true Jacob-Israel is on the earth today. The blasphemous lie that the anti-Christ Jew is the Israel of God comes from the Christian refusal to properly identify the physical seedline of Satan.

The theory is called "Telegony." I talked with many with DMV and PHD degrees on this subject. According to Dr. Keith Bertrand of the Department of Theriogenology, University of Georgia, the blood of the mother never intermingles with the blood of any baby in her womb. However, the blood of twins does intermingle. Thus, it is possible that Abel might well have had some of the seed of Satan in him, and this may also be a reason why Almighty God saw to it that he did not produce any "questionable" seed line.

Lesson Nine      Seed Lines

Genesis moves on with its message pursuant to this hostility between the good and evil seeds. As you study Scripture, you will miss its whole point until you recognize that it is the history of ONE people. God's image people who have descended from Adam. As conflicts between Adam's children and those of that wicked one take place, be they the Amalekites, the Hittites, or the Philistines, those events are recorded, and then these people are forgotten as the saga of one man's family moves forward.

Genesis, Chapter 6, gives the reason for the flood of Noah's day, a fact that is almost never discussed in the lukewarm churches of today. Adam, the Bible Record states, began to multiply and daughters were born unto this family. Scripture here states that the Sons of God, who were Angel-Kind, in my opinion, saw that Adam's daughters were fair, and took them for wives. The word "fair" does not necessarily mean that they were blondes, but only that they were beautiful, gentle, and kindly. Verse 4 states that this fornication produced giants and mighty men. It was this interracial [or inter-kind) fornication, not the general wickedness of mankind, that was the need for Noah's Ark and the flood of about 2400 B.C. Here again, if the two seed lines are not understood, and one presumes that all of mankind proceeds forth from Adam, Eve, and Seth, great confusion develops. These "Sons of God" could have taken wives from anywhere on the earth. However, if we think of this as applying to Adam's descendants living around the fringes of Eden toward the East, what would be the purpose of a flood that would exterminate Chay living off in Africa or Asia? It has already been established that Chay was not a Party to the sin of Eden, and the Law had not yet been given, so why would there be a need for a judgment on Chay's kindred who had not violated any law, expressed or implied? Think of the false modern theology which this truth now unwinds.

Twenty years ago, I had a lecture entitled, "Missing the Boat," in which I set forth the clear facts, from the Bible and secular ancient history available in any encyclopedia, that the Flood of Noah's time was only local in nature. To do justice to this thesis, so contrary to what is generally taught in the churches today, would require a pamphlet larger than this personal letter and we will not take that in-depth a look into the subject here. We do know, from making some calculations surrounding the facts in Genesis 7:11; that the Flood was from November 2345 B.C. to November 2344 B.C., though Usher's Bible Chronology sets the date as 2348 B.C. After all these thousands of years, we are not going to argue over a four-year difference.

There is a major historical problem with the worldwide Noah's Flood story told to Sunday School children, and unfortunately believed by unthinking adults. Observe. The First Egyptian Dynasty began in 3001 BC with King Mena, and the Egyptian Empire continued with an uninterrupted succession of Dynasties until the 12th Dynasty which ended in 2146 B.C. These Egyptians were of Chay stock who had lived in this area of the Nile Valley for thousands of years. The chronology of the Flood of Noah and these Egyptian Dynasties is such that it occurred during the reign of King Pepi II, between the 25th and 26th Sed (or Heb Sed) Festival. Need I say more? The Flood never touched Egypt and since that is true, Noah's Flood was not worldwide.

We are not in any way contradicting the Bible, but we are challenging the way it has been translated. When, for instance, Cain complains that God had driven him from the face of the earth in Genesis 4:14, we have no trouble understanding that he was driven from one land, Eden, into another land, Nod. If there is any confusion, it takes no particular scholarship ability to look up the Hebrew word for "land" and for "earth" and find that they are the same word, 'erets. The original readers of the Hebrew knew what was intended here. It is only when we go from one language to the other that such problems of understanding spring up. To say that the Flood of Noah's time covered all that land does not do injustice to the intent or meaning of Hebrew Scripture. It makes the context fit what is well known about that period of history.

If you have had a problem with that Flood story with the water covering the earth to a depth of 6+ miles or wonder how Noah managed to get the lions and elephants of Africa, the penguins of Antarctica, and the polar bears of the north pole aboard a boat only 400 hundred feet long and 75 feet wide, now you have the answer. Such teachings make an interesting story for small children, but they quickly break down under the strong light of careful Bible study. Noah's Ark never left the general location that is north of India in an area surrounded by huge mountains known as the "mountains of Ararat." The mountain in Turkey where Noah's Ark is alleged to have been found a decade ago, was not named Ararat, which means "highest peak" until the 1850's, four thousand years after Noah and his family scrambled ashore. For a dozen reasons I could name, it is impossible for Noah's Ark to have landed in Turkey, no matter what the Turkish Tourist Bureau and foolish Christians want to make of it.

Why did I feel it necessary to include this matter of Noah's Flood in a personal letter on the races of mankind in the Bible? Simply this. If the Flood of Noah's day covered the whole of planet Earth, swirling around for a year, it would have drowned not only the offspring of angels with Adam's daughters, but also Satan's seed that was to have enmity with the woman's seed. Do you see the problem here? If Noah's family, consisting of eight people, were all that was left of mankind on the planet Earth, and they were all pure racial stock of Adam, then not only were Satan's seed lost forever, but also Chay's children. Has your preacher, who keeps telling you this worldwide Flood story, ever suggested that Chay's children were driven two by two, or really seven by seven, onto the Ark with the animals? No, he could not bring himself to teach that. Then, is he a secret evolutionist suggesting that every variety of the Black race, Eastern Indian, South American Indian, Asian, etc. emerged on the Earth in only a few hundred years from one family of eight people, to be the millions that occupied the Chaldees civilization, the millions that kept the Chinese civilization going, the millions more found by Abraham in Egypt? This is pure nonsense and makes the Word of God of none effect. Think of all you have learned, and we are still only about five pages into the Bible.

The wicked seed, known by their symbols and signs, lived among Chay's children. One of these areas was where Abraham was later born as set forth in Joshua 24:3. The Bible says that his family came from the other side of the Flood. It was from among the Egyptians, before and during the period of the Flood, that the seed of Satan's symbology, the worship of Astarte and Moloch, and the occult six-pointed star originated. King David, many generations later, and though a sinner himself, never aligned himself with the carnal six-pointed star, because of its widespread association even then with the worship of heathen and satanic gods.

No student will ever be able to find any ancient record of King David using the six-pointed star, for the subtle language of numbers was well known even in those days. If King David had a star, it would have been one with five points, or one with eight points.

Except for tracing the two seed lines, the subject of Noah's Flood is off point to the general teaching in this personal letter. However, to save answering hundreds of unnecessary questions, I will answer one in advance. If Noah's Flood was not worldwide, how did the marine fossils come to be found all over the world in high mountain elevations? Peter has the answer in 2 Peter 3:3-6:

"...Knowing this first, that there shall come in the last days scoffers, walking after their own sinful desires, and saying, where is the promise of His coming? For all things continue as they were from the beginning of Creation. For this they were willingly ignorant of, that by the Word of God, the heavens were of old, and the Earth standing out of the water and in the waters whereby the world that then was [at Creation] overflowed and perished."

So, at the time of Creation, before the mountains had been pushed up, the Earth overflowed and perished. Once the mountains were pushed up, you would expect to find the marine fossils there. This is why you can find the remains of animals and mankind that predate Adam. Now you understand why man was instructed in Genesis 1:28 to replenish the earth. God commanded. "Fill it again."

Lesson Ten            Mark of the Beast or Magen David

Holy Scriptures have been provided for our learning and when they differ from the traditions of men, those traditions must be discarded. While it is certainly true that King David never would have been caught dead with a six-pointed star around, this was not true of his son, King Solomon. The first Biblical mention of the star of Satan's seed was in 922 B.C., when King Solomon converted to the fashionable occult religions of his day. He erected an alter to Satan's false gods, Astarte and Moloch, even after God appeared to him twice and commanded him not to do this abominable thing. It was Josiah who later destroyed this forbidden alter and the six-pointed star right along with it. It was from the worship of Astarte and her six-pointed star that the so-called Christian festival, named after her in the English, Easter, originated. At the festival of Astarte, or Easter, this sex goddess asks her followers to worship fornication and fertility which is represented by the sign of the rabbit and the Astarte egg. She had her followers worship her at a certain sunrise in the Spring. This six-pointed star is properly identified as the Seal of Solomon. Deceivers among us have almost been able to convince us that the six-pointed star is Magen David, the Star of David. Throughout the Bible, the number six has always been associated with imperfection and is the human or carnal number. It is the "number of man" that is destitute of God; the man who is without Christ or who is anti-Christ. Christ save right through the modern deceptions of the Mormon, Jewish, Masonic, and Fundamentalist teachings by having John identify for us the symbol, sign, or mark of the beast in this manner in Revelation 13:18:

"Here is wisdom. Let him that hath understanding count the number of the Beast: it is the number of (a) man; and his number is six hundred three score and six."

I have put a parenthesis around the word "a" because of the false doctrines built around it such as an individual anti-Christ. The indefinite article "a" does not appear in the original Greek text, for, as any first semester student of the Greek knows full well, there is no indefinite article in the Greek language. Why do educated preachers try so hard to deceive you? The number of the Beast system is 666, the anti-Christ scheme of things always found where the serpent seed people manage to get control. When you want to identify him, look for his sign, a six within a six within a six. It is a logo with six points, six sides, and six angles. It is the Sign of the Son of Perdition, the Chay-Satan line of Daniel 11:36-45, and 2 Thessalonians 2:3. That wicked one's star or sign was condemned specifically by the God of Israel in Amos 5:26 and identified by Him as "the star of your god, Moloch."

In the New Testament, this same wicked sign is called the Star of Remphan as set forth in Acts 7:43. The book, Encyclopedia of Occultism by Lewes Spence, calls the six-pointed star the occult's "chief magical diagram." None of the references you will ever find anywhere to the origin of this star indicate any positive, Godly or Christian meanings. It is the highest sign of the sabbath of witches, often called Halloween, and is enthusiastically celebrated today by most Christian churches. Their congregations dress up their children as goblins, skeletons, and a host of other disguises, and send them out into the All Hallow Even to play out the witch's role of "Trick or Treat," a childish combination of blackmail, bribery and theft.

Satanic sacrifices of young people now going on in America, and the real reason for all the missing children that are never seen again, are done under this sign of the six-pointed star. The murder of the first-born was a common ritual of those under the power and authority of Moloch and Easter. Today, that ritual is carried out by medical abortions done under the sign of the serpent on the staff. The majority of these abortions, now permitted by the United States Supreme Court, are done on the seed of the woman and promoted most widely by those whose loyalty is to the six-pointed star, mother earth, and the worship of the creation rather than the Creator.

Finally, we need to look into the number of Satan's name. In the Hebrew, there are no vowels. As the Hebrew for Satan is sounded out, and recorded in Strong's Concordance, Satan's name is numbered by six letters, Sawtan. The two definitions given for Sawtan also have six letters in each of them.

To accuse and to attack

Sawtan – Accuse - Attack = 666

In striking contrast, observe that the number five as it appears throughout Scripture is nearly always used where Godly, positive, uplifting, and Christian things, such as grace, faith, and favor are discussed. The whole canon of God's Word cannot be understood without the foundation of the Pentateuch, the first five books of the Bible. The finale of Christ's work on the earth cannot be comprehended even slightly, apart from Pentecost. Pentecost is five times the number of ten (completion), and it is the Jubilee, the cancellation of all debts. Christ paid the price. So dangerous are these two fives, the five books of the Pentateuch containing God's Laws, Statutes, and Judgments, and the true meaning of the Gifts of the Holy Spirit seen at Pentecost, that every effort must be made by Satan's seed to discard the Law and race of the Pentateuch as irrelevant and obsolete. They must sidetrack the truth of Pentecost and substitute the carnal self-serving activities in the Name of Yahweh's Spirit to make it of none effect.

Still promoting his enmity with a vengeance, Satan has managed to recruit some highly effective disciples to attend to this task. Can you identify them? The wasp cannot help himself. He must build a mud hut. The False Prophet and the Hireling Shepherd cannot help themselves either, and they must, by some mysterious instinct, promote those holding forth under the Ensign of the six-pointed star. I will not belabor this point about the Biblical five for you for it can be easily studied from the references in any concordance. There were five loaves to feed the five thousand. There were five wise and five foolish virgins. The best servant in the Kingdom got five talents and earned another five. The certain rich man had five brothers. Paul in rebuking those carnal Christians at Corinth, stated that five teaching words well understood, were better than a thousand words in their unknown tongues. There were five hundred witnesses that Christ rose from the dead. In God's Sovereignty, five times Paul got the maximum whipping allowed by Roman Law of 40 (New beginnings 8 times 5) stripes. When David went after Satan's enmity agent and killed him, he carried five smooth stones. When Joshua felt the enmity breathing down his neck, there were five kings of the wicked seed who were hanged from five trees.

None of the great men of faith depended upon the sorcerer's hex or called upon the god of Moloch to deliver their nation, or themselves, from those who hated them.

When I refer to Strong's Concordance in this letter, let it be understood that I mean the Strong's Exhaustive Concordance. The Christian Book Stores now sell what is called The New Strong's Concordance which is supposed to be a condensed version leaving out the thousands of references to common words such as "the" and "who." What you may not find out until you get home, is that it also leaves out both the Hebrew and Greek lexicons where you can find the definitions of the words used. Except to help you find a particular verse; the volume is worthless.

Lesson Eleven

Adolph Hitler

Jesus Christ came, specifies Matthew, to save His People (the lost sheep of Israel) from their sins. If salvation were extended to any other people, or required of by all mankind, Matthew failed to tell us. He goes on to remind his Israelite readers that this Jesus Christ would be a Governor having jurisdiction and authority over Israel. If, as some suppose, He was to be King of the world, that too, was not discerned by Matthew. Almighty God, setting into motion the great events of history, offers no suggestion that the Edomite-Canaanites and a host of other people infested with the seed of that wicked one are to be permitted into the Kingdom of His Son. Having no concord with the Satanic darkness, the light never suggests any compromise. Neither do I, Peter reminds us:

"Be Sober, be vigilant; because your adversary, the Devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about seeking whom he may devour: Whom resist steadfast in the faith, knowing that the same afflictions are accomplished in the world."

How are we to be vigilant if our adversary roars in an unexpected way?

Every book of the Bible, though written by forty authors, was set forth by one of God's chosen people primarily for those who have the ability to blush. None were directed toward the wicked seed who were made wicked by the Word of God. As with many of you, I had a very difficult time believing that God would actually create a wicked people, and even sustain and protect them as the Tares, just so that they might be around to put the stress of hatred on His Chosen. After years of study on this theme, and trying to learn the Mind of God, I can say that I now believe it, but I must admit that I still do not understand it. Paul states that the Potter has power over the clay and that some people are "fitted for destruction." Some God hates before they were born and upon others, He shows no mercy whatever. I had not been taught as a boy that our merciful Heavenly Father had this curious side to His Personality.

Because of the false teachings under the Sign of the Star of Moloch, most Christians are sitting smugly under their spiritual date palm tree without the faintest idea that their lamps have no oil. It seems that they can be deceived by almost anyone who comes along. Christians, turn up your hearing aid, for your adversary is roaring and you are about to be devoured.

The key to understanding world and national events is found to the part played, in enmity, by those whose internal programming and spiritual loyalties lie with the Star of Moloch who are those of the Synagogue of Satan.

Adolph Hitler, for instance, was one man whose genes were heavily endowed with the seed of that wicked one and his fruits, in both his wretched personal life with Eva and his socialist political life bears this out. His activities with the Nazi Party caused the death and suffering of more Christians of the Woman's Seed than any other man in history! The Jewish-controlled news media, that Zionist element which controls Esau/false-Israel, the ADL, the Mormons and the Fundamentalist Protestants, shudders when I remind them that Hitler, while pretending to be a pure Aryan, was, in fact, not racially qualified to make that claim.

Hitler's father, Alois, was the illegitimate son of a wealthy Jew named Frankenberger, of Graz, Austria and his Caucasian maid, Maria Anna Schickelgruber. Hitler's father was half-Jewish. Young Alois slept with a maid named Klara Polzl while she was not his wife, and Adolph, her fourth child, was born from that union. It is certain, beyond any shadow of doubt, and modern revisionist writings of the Hitler Cult today, that Adolph Hitler was 25% Jewish. Do you see how the genes still program the offspring of Satan? Even after a thousand generations, the wasp will still build a mud hut. Quite predictably once the pattern of conduct of the Garden of Eden is properly understood. Alois had several other children by women of Caucasian racial stock whom he was able to provide the carnal knowledge of Good and Evil, beguile, and then, if you will pardon the Biblical expression, take, and eat. Moloch's men, both Jewish and so-called Christian, want us to forget that millions of our brethren died because of Hitler's programmed enmity with the legitimate Seed of the Woman. Because of what Hitler often identified among his Gypsy friends as his "Jewish nose," Hitler grew a funny mustache and attempted to make sure that he was never photographed in profile.

It is known, through many valid sources that Hitler was a participating occultist. He was an understudy of an author on the subject, Lanz von Leibenfels. Interesting? The hornet builds true to form, each and every time. He was taught socialism by one of those who participated in the Bolshevik Revolution in Russia, a fellow Moloch/Khazarian/Jew man named Rosenburg. He revised his Communist International Socialism while in prison, to his own form of National Socialism, the German phrase from which the term Nazi originates. His philosophy was not very different than that of President Clinton if you will study them both carefully and make certain adjustments because of the different era and problems. (Both men are descendants of the Rothschild family of Jews – one of the 13 families of the Illuminati.)

America is moving now very quickly into what would properly be characterized as a fascist state, with private ownership, but government control, of all means of production.

Thus, Adolph Hitler was a far leftist and had no sympathy with the so-called "right wing." If you will read his 1922 pamphlet, Eine Abrechnung, (Settling Accounts) you will see that his philosophy was that the German right-wing concepts were wrong and bound to fail. His popular book, Mein Kampf (My Struggle) holds no concepts of limited government and more individual responsibility.

To Hitler, the State was God. Well, his god is dead, and he is dead, and our God lives on. The word struggle, by the way, is a communist word and you should look with care at anyone who drops that word in their vocabulary. When I managed a visit to the mountain home of the former President of Costa Rica, the late Don Pepe Figueres, I was not surprised to see that he named his huge estate La Lucha Sin Fin, The Struggle Without End. That name gave, me a solid clue to his real politics, and later I found out that he had been an adamant Hitler supporter, when I personally knew him as an avid communist.

As chance would have it, Adolph Hitler's book that forecasts things to come in these times is one titled My New Order. Hitler was well on his way to the New World Order that is, even now, coming into totalitarian enforcement upon us.

It is true that Hitler did hate the Jews, but only those Jews of low estate, the gypsies, the vagabonds, the fugitives, and the degenerates who worked little and produced even less. They were not going to become a social burden to his New Order. He had no intention of having every tenth person in Germany on welfare, as is now the case in America. He would have no problem with a Henry Kissinger, who would fit right into his socialist agenda. Where is there any evidence that any wealthy or educated Jews ever worked and died in his Detention Camps?

Lucy Dawidowicz, a Jewish woman, wrote in her book, The War Against the Jews, that it was pro-Soviet Rosenberg who first gave Hitler the pamphlet, Protocols of the Learned Elders of Zion. Why would this Zionist do that, for heaven's sake? Well, let us consider another aspect of Herr Hitler. Hitler arrived in Munich at the age of 24, without friends, family, career, occupation, or education in anything but art, and that took the form of rather poor oil paintings. He looked and acted the part of a born-loser hippy of the American 1960's. He was, as he wrote, "...in search of his destiny." He was an Austrian, not a German, in case you have forgotten.

He was imprisoned by the Rightist German Government, wrote his book Mein Kampf, while in prison, was suddenly released with his sentence less than half completed, dressed up in fancy clothing and made Chancellor of an educated, industrialist country overnight, on January 30, 1933. Who arranged for that, and why?

From the German records, we know that wealthy and educated Jews were expected to temporarily leave Germany and all occupied territories. This was arranged for them by the Zionist Jews who controlled the governmental agency granting permission to leave Germany. There was a definite selection system, and according to The War Against the Jews, page 252, a very restrictive emigration policy by which certain Jews of a special class could go to America or otherwise leave Germany. This policy was not set by the Aryan super race types at all but set solely by the wealthy and influential Zionist Jews themselves. My source for this amazing fact, and deeper understanding, is not from the so-called Neo-Nazi nonsense, but from this and other Jewish authors who are still angry at what had been done to their people.

Here is the picture. The pressure was on to get all Jewish people out of Germany. This was engineered by Hitler who had at least 25% Jewish blood himself. The idea, presented to the German people, was to have an all-Aryan German nation through deportation, not termination, of the Jewish people. When this is done to Jewish people, it is called anti-Semitic racism, a bad term, by our Jewish-controlled press. However, when the same thing happens against any other race of people, as in northern Iraq in 1991, where the International Red Cross states American bombers killed 550,000 non-combatant women and children, the truth is never reported. In the former Yugoslavia in 1993, where thousands upon thousands are permitted to be killed because of their race, it is called ethnic cleansing.

In Hitler's Germany, the duplicity was that the wealthy and influential Jewish Zionists, controlling all this bureaucratic paperwork, deliberately prevented the lower-class Jewish citizen, the ones who eventually died, or were supposed to have died, in various detention camps, from leaving the country. Until now, most of you never knew this incredible fact, for you do not read Jewish books written by the children of lower-class Jews. Many Jewish people know this awful truth, but very few of them, as with most Christian Americans, are courageous enough to finally expose it.

On page 399 of the Jewish book, The War Against the Jews, it states that the Zionist ZTOS, (Jewish Society For Social Welfare), withheld information transmitted to them in Warsaw, Poland, from reaching the Christian world. From Mrs. Dawidowicz's statements, it is apparently true that most Germans and the rest of Europe and the world had no idea about what was happening in Hitler's detention camps.

In another Jewish book, The Zionist Connection, by Arthur M. Lilienthal, referring to statements on page 483, the truth is finally told as to why the wealthy and powerful German Jews did not inform the world about Hitler's detention camps and the fate of their ethnic brethren.

"In discussing alleged Vatican indifference to the Holocaust, the Jewish Observer, an organ of Orthodox Agadath Israel of America, pointed out the Jewish parallel: We are forced with great pain that thus passivity had its echo on the Jewish scene too.... there was not only an intrusion of politics into various aspects of rescue attempts [of the Jews N.D.] that were made, the writings clearly prove that actual rescue attempts and opportunities were neglected or even blocked because they did not fit in with the plans of the Zionist leadership to force a showdown over the Israel State in the making."

Do you understand what this Jewish author has proven in hundreds of pages in his book? This may be one of the most important lessons in this personal letter. In order for the Zionist interests to generate enough world opinion to force a Zionist State into existence (modern Israeli State), it was necessary to sacrifice a large number of these lower-class Jewish people. To make it believable, it had to be done by an Aryan Super Race German Government in which the Chancellor, Adolph Hitler, operated in concert with the programming of his genes, and was a willing party to the scheme.

While I have never found any of the modern Nazi sympathizers to have the slightest interest in Biblical scholarship, it is likely that these personal letters will fall into some of their hands from time to time. Let them all be advised that I have one of the largest libraries of historical records, books, videos, etc., on the life, lifestyle, and philosophy of Adolph Hitler. Do not bother to write me letters in a futile effort to enlighten me as to the supposed merits and martyrdom of Adolph Hitler. I am too well educated on the man to be interested in the sort of childish data that is now being circulated. Save your money and postage, for I will not respond to your letters.

It is off point in this personal letter to set forth the historical background of the First and Second World Wars. In my 64-page book, titled Desert Shield and The New World Order, I have provided the historical evidence, from apolitical and military perspective, essentially the same information that was provided by the Jewish authors Lucy Dawidowicz and Arthur Lilienthal. The Zionists want a New World Order that they control. Hitler wanted His New Order that he controlled. A certain combination of Americans, from President Wilson to President Clinton want a New World Order that they control. My book on this subject is now a best seller and we have distributed more than 300 copies. It is only available on bond paper with a leatherette cover for $7.00. The student should know that I was in Amman, Jordan with another Christian, as guests in the Palace of King Hussein, and it was through our discussion with his top people, that the decision was made by the King to order President Saddam Hussein to not kill any Americans in the Desert Storm War for the greater good of the Arabian Cause. That decision was made on January 17, 1991, while we were in Jordan. As a result of the King's Order, only a few dozen Americans were ever killed by direct Iraqi forces. Now, you know the reason why this happened as it did.

Lesson Twelve                      Holocaust

About seven years ago, a middle-aged Roman Catholic man came to my house and asked if he could study with me once a week for a period of time. As I am one of those whose theology is based strictly upon the Sovereignty of God, not only did I accept him as a temporary student, but I never made any effort to convert him. If he is ever converted, it will be done by the Holy Spirit and that is not my responsibility. I noticed that he knew far more about the Bible than the average Catholic layman. After about five weeks, he finally confessed to me that he was a Roman Catholic priest and that what I had taught him out of his own Bible had doubled his faith and was very exciting to him. He is a Greek scholar and, in turn, put me on the track of some of the Greek meanings to certain words. When he left and went back to his church in another state, he understood who the Seed of the Woman was, and who the Seed of the Serpent was, and as the Bible phrase puts it, "his eyes were opened."

One day during our study together, the matter of the German Holocaust came up and I asked him if that word was Hebrew or Yiddish. He told me that it was a perfectly good Bible word. I challenged him, stating that the word holocaust was not to be found anywhere in the Bible. I confirmed that truth by double-checking in my Strong's Exhaustive Concordance. Where upon he opened his Douay-Rheims to a dozen Scriptures containing the word holocaust. One of these is found in Numbers 29:1-2:

"The first day also of the seventh month shall be venerable and holy unto you.

Ye shall do no servile work therein, because it is the day of the sounding and of trumpets. And you shall offer a holocaust for a most sweet odor to Yahweh, one calf of the herd, one ram and seven lambs of a year old, without blemish."

With that insight, the lights went on for me. Wow! Do you see that? Do you get the significance? I will always be in debt to my Catholic friend for showing me the word holocaust in his Bible. It unraveled a mystery. My Bible says that Israel was to make burnt offerings unto Yahweh. So, the Hebrew word for burnt offering can be also translated as holocaust.

CHAPTER 29
Sacrifices for the festivals of the seventh month.

THE first day also of the seventh month shall be venerable and holy unto you ; you shall do no servile work therein, because it is a day of the sounding of the trumpets.
2 And you shall offer a holocaust for a most sweet odour to the Lord, one calf of the herd, one ram and seven lambs of a year old, without blemish.

The Roman Catholic Douay-Rheims translation of Numbers 29:1-2

Studying together, we found that the word holocaust was used more than 150 times in the Catholic Bible, but never once in the King James, or any other Bible translation in my library. That word is not used in the 1599 Geneva or the highly accurate Ferrar Fenton. Noah Webster, the great linguistic scholar who first gave us his famous dictionary in 1828, also published a very good translation of the Bible. He did not use the word holocaust for burnt offering.

Holocaust is a strange word used by both Christians and Jews describing what they characterize as "Germany's final solution to the Jewish Question." Yet, holocaust has neither a Hebrew, Yiddish, German, or English origin. It is a word that has a Greek origin, meaning, "to be burnt whole." How that Greek word managed to get into the Hebrew translation of the Catholic Bible, I can only speculate, and we will discuss that in a later lesson. What is important for this lesson is that any holocaust is a "burnt offering to a god." In the Old Testament, as you will see by looking up the phrase burnt offering in Strong's that it appears more than 150 times defined in his word #5930. Sometimes it was a burnt offering commanded by Almighty God which was holy and good. Other times it was an abomination done by Satan's Seed to Moloch (Molech) or Astarte (Ashtoreth/Ashtaroth). Sometimes the Bible uses the phrase "passing through the fire to Moloch." This is a holocaust that is an abomination, but it is still a burnt offering to a god. Remember, regardless of whether the burnt offering is to Almighty God, or whether the holocaust is for the pleasure of the pagan god Moloch, it is a sacrifice. Holocausts are sacrifices. The burnt offering to Almighty God, done by Israel, was the sweet smell of cattle and sheep consumed on the altar. The holocaust of the Seed of the Serpent was always the sacrifice of their own children, making them pass through the fire – holocaust - to Moloch [II Kings 23:10]. These people did not sacrifice an enemy person or the people of a neighboring race to their god Molech, because such would be no sacrifice. Instead, as in the Holocaust in Germany during World War II, they always sacrificed their own people.

Chapter 29

AND in the seventh month, on the first day of the month, ye shall have an holy convocation; ye shall do no servile work: it is a day of blowing the trumpets unto you.

2 And ye shall offer a burnt offering for a sweet savour unto the LORD, one young bullock, one ram, and seven lambs of the first year without blemish:

The King James translation of Numbers 29:1-2

5930. עֹלָה 'olâh, o-law': or עֹלָה 'owlâh, o-law'; fem. act. part. of 5927; a step or (collect. stairs, as ascending); usually a holocaust (as going up in smoke):—ascent, burnt offering (sacrifice), go up to. See also 5766.

Burnt, as translated from the Hebrew by Strong's Concordance. The Greek word, Holocaust should not have been part of this definition.

Webster's 1828 Dictionary

HOL/OCAUST, n. [Gr. ὅλος, whole, and καίω, burnt, from καίω, to burn.]
 A burnt-sacrifice or offering, the whole of which was consumed by fire; a species of sacrifice in use among the Jews and some pagan nations.

Webster's Ninth New Collegiate Dictionary
Note the political spln on the definition provided.

holocaust /'hɒlə-ˈkɒst, 'hɒlə-ˈkɒst/ n (ME, fr. OF holocauste, fr. LL holocaustum, fr. Gk holokáuston, fr. holos 'whole' + kaíō 'burnt, to burn' — more at caustic) (13c) 1: a sacrifice consumed by fire. 2: a thorough destruction esp. by fire (a nuclear ~). 3: often cap.: the genocidal slaughter of European Jews by the Nazis during World War II

Encyclopaedia Britannica

ho-lo-caust /'hɒlə-ˈkɒst, 'hɒlə-ˈkɒst/ n 1: a sacrifice consumed by fire. 2: a thorough destruction especially by fire [Old French holocauste, from Late Latin holocaustum, from Greek holokáuston, from holokáustos "burnt whole", from holos "whole" + kaíōstos "burnt", from kaíō "to burn"]

One of those national statutes of God, which those pastors who endorse the Star of Moloch will tell you was abandoned at the Cross, was that His people were not to "let thy Seed pass through the fire – holocaust - to Molech" [Lev. 18:21]. The judgment for this is set forth in Leviticus 20:2:

"whosoever he be of the children of Israel, or of the strangers who sojourn in Israel, that giveth any of his Seed unto Molech, he shall surely be put to death: the people of the land shall stone him with stones."

Remember the wasp? Just as he cannot help the nest he builds, so also must Satan's Seed be compelled by intrinsic programming to expose himself and his works to the informed among the Woman's Seed. He cannot help being what he is. He cannot resist displaying his occult Star of Moloch or revealing the truth about what happened in Hitler's Germany by identifying it as a holocaust, a sacrificial offering to their god, Moloch. The Zionist Jews put the poor, lower-class Jews among their kinsmen through the fire to Molech, so that through that sacrifice the State of Esau/false-Israel might come into being. By their words, and the use of the word holocaust, they have made that admission.

Cunningly, they developed the programmed gene propensity in Hitler, and skillfully used his oratory ability to continue the Thread of Enmity against the Christian German people to the extent that more than 20,000,000 people on both sides of that war were killed. This is but one of those Star Wars that perpetual warfare between the people of the Six-pointed Star and those of us, who, by the Grace of God, are the people of the Five-pointed Star.

Unable to resist disclosing the tell-tale marks of the Serpent race, these sons of Moloch falsely claim that six million Jews died under Aryan domination during the six years from 1939 to 1945. They have attempted to make the German people, and the rest of the Caucasian people of the world in general, guilty of the Holocaust which they, themselves, brought about as their sacrifice for Esau/false-Israel. The German people, most of whom believed Catholic or Lutheran, had no intention of sacrificing their Seed unto Moloch, Molech, Ashtoreth, or Astarte, and they did not do so. Don't you see? If the Germans did it to the Jews, it could not properly be called a holocaust. By their own lips, the Jews have, once again, betrayed themselves.

My study of the events leading up to World War I and those which continued to instigate World War II and the creation of the Esau/false-Israel state have been fully documented in my book, Desert Shield and The New World Order, so we need not study them in detail here. With the recent increase in the so-called Neo-Nazi Movement in America, you must remember that as it was the Serpent's Seed that spawned Hitler, so is it these same people who provide the direction and emphasis of the Nazi Movement in America. The news media, pointing to the Nazi Movement shouting in the streets, insinuate that any of us who oppose socialism and the New World Order, are "just like Hitler." It is about time that the American people know who the Accuser is, and those enmity-borne genes which precipitates his actions. In short, America must understand the Warfare of the Stars or all is lost.

The Jewish author, and an early supporter of the State of Esau/false-Israel, Ben Hecht, in his book Perfidy, fully documents and blatantly exposes the extent to which the Zionists in Germany and Poland cooperated in the annihilation of their fellow Jews. If the Zionists want to claim that six million Jews died in the Holocaust, a statement that is not accurate, who am I to suggest that no such Holocaust sacrifice ever happened? Let the Zionists take the credit for it, for heaven's sake. In one part of Perfidy, Ben Hecht explains about a libel suit brought against another Jewish researcher, Malkiel Greenwald. It seems that Greenwald had identified a high-ranking Israeli Official, Rudolf Kastner, as a collaborator and responsible for the slaughter of Hungary's one million Jews. These are statements made by Jews against their fellow Jews and must be taken seriously. Why don't you ask Pat Robertson, and your pastor, to read and comment on Ben Hecht's book Perfidy?

Serious students of The Jewish Burnt Sacrifice should read Rabbi Moshe Schonfeld's book, The Holocaust Victims, and examine the photostatic copies of documents and letters supporting the charge of betrayal of the Jews by the International Zionists. These charges are against Rabbi Stephen Wise, and the Jewish Agency Chairman, Yitzhak Greenbaum, to whom "the Jewish slaughter only furthered world opinion in favor of creating a Zionist State." This book shows that beginning in 1933, the Zionists had established within the Jewish Agency for Palestine, a Central Bureau for settlement of German Jews "which excluded all anti-Zionists as qualified applicants for emigration to Israel."

As I will, show in a later lesson, all Jewish people are not permitted to immigrate into the Esau/false-Israel State. Conservative Orthodox Jewish faith is not good enough to permit immigration into that Zionist nation. Gypsy and lower-class Jews cannot go there. Those of the Synagogue of Satan must examine the genes of any prospective Jewish emigrant and be certain that his allegiance is to their god, Moloch.

I am astounded that most Christians are completely unaware of the different branches of people who call themselves, Jews. Be assured, that there are no educated Christian pastors and no TV Evangelists, such as Pat Robertson, who are not knowledgeable of these Seed Lines and their true, awesome significance. (Are they complicit?)

I rebuke those who point their Sheep to that wicked Six-pointed Star of the East and hide the Identity of the anti-Christ people by insinuating that they are God's Chosen People.

Notice that I have made no statement in this personal letter which should be interpreted that all Jews are the Seed of that Wicked One. There are certain novices abroad that make such identifications. Those people whose ancestry comes along the Line of Adam-Noah-Shem-Abraham-Isaac-Jacob and his twelve sons, except for the Judah-Shelah line, (Genesis 38:51) were never Jews and are probably Christians already under the New Testament Contract.

Those of the Adam-Noah-Japheth-Gomar-Ashkenaz, etc., are the Ashkenazi Jews who settled throughout Europe a thousand years before the Middle Ages and may or may not have that Wicked Seed in their genes. At any rate, they are not of David and as with Chay, have no part in the New Covenant.

Those Jews who come down through any of the branches of Cain, or who are of Adam-Noah-Shem-Abraham-Isaac-Esau-Moab-Edom, are of the Serpent's Race and the Scripture is clear as to their destiny. These are probably the Zionist wing of the Jews, trying to steal back the Birthright, and who make the most of the Star of Moloch. They have forfeited all Rights under the Abrahamic Covenant through their interracial marriages with the daughters of Cain.

I want you to understand that I love those whom Christ loved, and those He instructed us to love. I hate those whom Almighty God says that He hates and no one else. How are you to tell which are which? Jesus Christ taught His disciples how to be fruit inspectors. Be one also.

Lesson Thirteen                      Herod and the Shedding of Righteous Blood

"...Then Herod, when he saw that he was mocked of the wise men, was exceedingly wrath, and sent forth and slew all the children that were in Bethlehem, all the coasts thereof, from two years old and under, according to the time which he had diligently inquired of the wise men. Then was fulfilled that which was spoken of by Jeremiah the prophet saying, In Rama was there a voice heard, lamentation, and weeping, and great mourning, Rachael weeping for her children, and would not be comforted, because they are not..." - Matthew 2:16-18

Nominal Christians read quickly through these verses completely ignoring their dreadful implications. Unless Christians understand and believe what God said in Genesis 3:15, there will be a particularly important Scriptural lesson missed in these few verses concerning the Holocaust of Herod. Herod, as both Scripture and secular history establish, was a son of Esau-Edom. He was an alien ruler over God's Jacob-Israel people. As one of his last acts as King, he ordered the brutal murder of every Israelite child found in Bethlehem, Jerusalem, along the coasts, and as far north as Ramah. Herod was one of those that the Prophet Obadiah wrote about. My Encyclopedia Britannica, 1929 Edition, states that Herod's High Priest was a Babylonian, and that Herod was a Jew.

Ordinarily, these three points are never drawn together by the Bible student. Esau's Son, A High Priest of Babylon, and a Jew. Herod, the alien ruler over the Remnant of Israel still living in Palestine, was a Talmudic Jew, a Pharisee, who in thought-theology was very much like those who call themselves Jews today. In keeping with his racial propensity, the natural inclination built into his gene memory since Genesis 3:15, the common coin of Herod The Great, displays the Six-pointed Star of Babylonian Talmudic Jewry. It is the Star of Moloch and the Star of Astarte, the Queen of Heaven as the heathen call her. As his anti-Hebrew and anti-Israelite thought-theology might suggest, Herod's coins had Greek, not Hebrew, inscriptions on them. Herod was the ruler in Palestine, then under conquest by the Roman government, and yet his coins do not have Latin inscriptions on them. Do not be confused with the date of death of Herod as being 4 B.C. Smith is giving the actual date according to the adjusted calendar now used today. Under our modern calendar, Christ was born October 3, [some scholars say the 6th] in the year 4 B.C.

The nature and inclination of the Serpent's Seed betrays itself in the personal life of Herod. Although he had ten wives, his favorite was Maraimne. Yet, he was not above murdering her, along with her mother, grandfather, and brother. He ordered his two sons by her. Alexander and Aristobulus, strangled to death at Sebaste. He ordered his first-born son, by his first wife, murdered by drowning at Jericho. The Davis Dictionary of the Bible draws attention to what it calls, "Herod's natural propensity to bloodletting." My 1985 Encyclopedia Britannica published today under Zionist domination, by the University of Chicago, gives Herod a rather good report. They describe his life and rulership as being "more good than evil." It is, after all, the Wall of Herod's Temple that the Jews wait at hoping someday to have another ruler like him. Britannica still admits that Herod had "a dark and cruel streak in his character." The general thesis of Star Wars will show that this "dark and cruel streak of character" is quite naturally found among those of Esau-Edom, from the very earliest records of Scripture, through the time of Herod and the brutal murder of Israelite children and members of his own family, down to today when we again have Talmudic Jews ruling over us from behind the scenes. Their control over the inscriptions on our money, the immoral influences over our society, our legal and political systems, our usury debt system bankrupting America, our taxes amounting to about 50% of earnings and the series of bloodlettings, from Vietnam to Iraq, prove what they have managed to bring about.

As Herod lay dying, in his 69th or 70th year, from what historians will only describe as a "terrible disease", he knew that there would be great rejoicing among the remnant of Israelites still under his domination. Remember, he had only months earlier ordered the wholesale slaughter of their children.

The first Salome in this racial biography of Herod was his sister. It is sister Salome that is the woman after whom so many Talmudic Jews name their daughters. She was Herod's Chief Counsel. She had him order that all the Israelite leaders of David's Seed Line be arrested and incarcerated in the "circus at Jericho" and held there under guard until the hour of Herod's death. It was to be in the very hour of Herod's death, according to historical record, that these Israelite men were to be executed in a second Herod Holocaust. Herod the Great, and his sister Salome, intended that there be "universal mourning throughout all the land of Judea." Well, it did not work out as Herod had planned. God, in His Mercy, found yet a few good men in Israel, and they succeeded in liberating their brethren, as it happened, in the very hour of Herod's death: Matthew records the next events bearing on this issue in Chapter 2:19:

"...But when Herod was dead, behold an angel of the Lord appeared in a dream to Joseph in Egypt, saying, Arise, and take the young child and his mother, and go to the land of Israel, for they are dead which sought the young child's life."

Notice that Herod had died, but they were dead. Now, who do you suppose they were? Could it have been those of the Palace Guard, and certain of Herod's friends and associates, who went to "The Jericho Circus" with the intention of watching the exciting murders? I think that quite a bit of action happened between verse 18 and verse 19 that has never been recorded. Maybe it is too much to speculate that the angel, who appeared to Joseph, might have just finished a special forces tour of duty in and around that Jericho Circus where several Edomites finally got their just reward. Are these they whom Scripture says were dead which sought Christ's Life? Until someone is better able to identify the "they" who were dead, I will stand on my theory of the case.

As we see in succeeding verses, Joseph and Mary did return to the land of Israel, but when Joseph found out that an Edomite son of Herod was ruling, he took Jesus and settled among the Benjamites in Galilee. Again, Bible readers, not knowing the Old Testament very well, will miss the point. If you were Joseph, a Judean of the House of David, and wanted to provide proper security for the future King of Israel, what better place to have a low profile than among the Benjaminites and working as a carpenter?

Remember also, as you study this exciting story pulled up from between the lines of Scripture, do not get your Herod's mixed up. History in Scripture is incomplete as to what Christ did from that time until He was twelve and the opening of His Ministry. We know that by the age of twelve (Luke 2:42) He was sufficiently learned in Scriptural matters to amaze and astonish the most learned men of Jerusalem. By twelve, He was going about His Father's business as He told His parents on one heated occasion.

Now, we will skip a portion of Christ's Life and begin at the time He was about 30 years old. John the Baptist had arrived on the scene. Herod's son, Herod Antipas, was ruler in Galilee. Observe that there was another Serpent's Seed ruling over God's Chosen People.

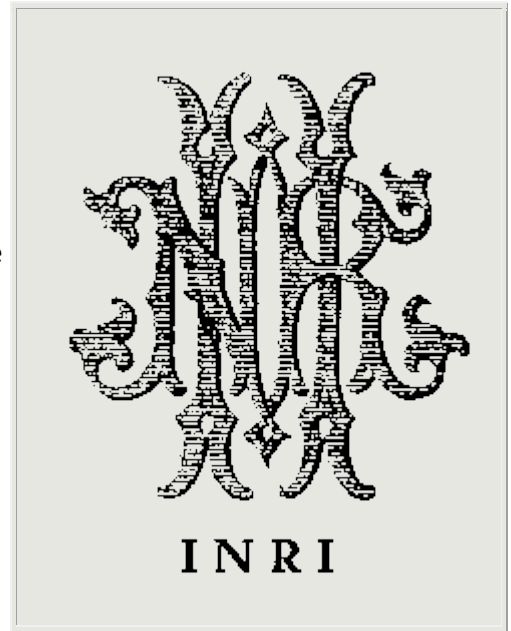

John the Baptist comes in off the desert preaching, as the astute Bible student can discover, about 30 different Christian doctrines. The one doctrine that Christendom does not want to hear is John's point-blank attack on the Edomite Pharisees, whom he identified as a race of vipers. He knew the people from the Serpent's side of Genesis 3:15. He could preach all he wanted to about repentance, the Kingdom of heaven, prophesy, water baptism, restitution, Godliness, miracles, sin, judgment, love, honesty, justice, the unworthiness of man, just to name a few taught by John. However, when he began to identify the Imposters, and call them by their rightful name, he was in big trouble. Although most of you know the story, one part of it, bears repeating.

It was Herod II's birthday and a party had been arranged for him. During the evening, Herod II's daughter-in-law, Salome II, danced a very seductive dance, as the Edomite Gypsy is wickedly gifted to do. After the dance, Herod II offered Salome II anything she wanted up to half of his kingdom. Salome II asked for and got the head of John the Baptist on a platter. Sooner or later, the wicked propensity of the Serpent's Seed will always show up in their activities. Thus, one of God's greatest men died at the hands of Esau-Edom. Do you see why the Jews today love that name Salome? In Christian contrast to the genes of Salome I and Salome II, there was an Israelite woman named Salome. That Salome was the wife of Zebedee, and as Salome II was having John the Baptist murdered that Salome was raising two sons, James, and John. Again, we see the Divine Parallel. Whenever God permits, in His Economy of things, one of His servants to be martyred by an Edomite, He sees to it that there will be at least two more ready to rise in the martyred one's place. Praise Yahweh!

Did you realize that previous to modern times, there was no letter known as a "J" in the English alphabet? I remember as a teenage apprentice printer, setting type by hand, that the "J" and the "U" were not in their alphabetical sequence in the fonts, but located, as if as an after-thought, down, next to the "Z." I remember being curious about that at the time, but thought it was probably one of those unique peculiarities of the printing trade.

It was not until the 17th Century that the "J" came into general and common use. Prior to that time, there was no distinction between the "J" as a consonant and the "I" as a vowel. Some of you are thinking, "So what?" Until the 17th Century, there were no such English words as Jerusalem, Jesus, Jeremiah, Judah, or Jew. All these words have evolved into general use within the past several hundred years. We have arrived at a point in our thinking to where Christians believe that the original Name of the Christ was Jesus and that people have been known as Jews since the dawn of written history. That is not true.

The point that I am addressing here is common and false assumption that Jesus Christ is or was a Jew. Many years ago, I was challenged to find one reference in Scripture wherein Christ was either called a Jew or identified Himself as one. As you will see, the terms Judean and Jew are not interchangeable with Israelite. There are no such instances, and anyone who teaches that The Christ is or was a Jew does so either from ignorance or deliberate deception. Shown here is a four-letter sequence often found on the Christian Cross - I N R I. You may see it used by Christian patriots as a sign. To many of us, at as a holy sequence of letters standing for Iesus Nazareus Rex Iudeorum. Those competent to pass on the correct translation of these four Latin words insist that they mean Jesus the Nazarene Leader of the Judeans. It is not properly translated to write it, as found in the King James Bible, "This is Jesus, the King of the Jews." Latin was Pontius Palate's native tongue, and he certainly knew how to express himself properly. Iudeorum means Judeans not Jews. Likewise, rex is from the Latin verb rex meaning only "to rule or to lead." It was not until the Anglo-Saxons invaded England that the word "king" was included as a meaning for the word rex. At the time of Christ, it carried no such meaning. It is true that Jesus Christ was to become the Judean King of His People Israel, but Pilate, in his sarcasm, never thought of this Convicted Felon with this informed understanding. While the New Testament was originally written in Greek, the Latin inscription was used on the Cross. Even so, the Greek equivalent of Iudeorum is Ioudaios, and it still means Judeans.

It is true that Jesus Christ was to become the Judean King of His People Israel, but Pilate, in his sarcasm, never thought of this Convicted Felon with this informed understanding. While the New Testament was originally written in Greek, the Latin inscription was used on the Cross. Even so, the Greek equivalent of Iudeorum is Ioudaios, and it still means Judeans.

Here is the bottom line to all this: There is no foundation in history or theology for the implications, inferences, or innuendoes that the Greek Ioudaios, the Latin Iudaeus, or the English Judean ever possessed any valid religious connotation. In their three respective languages, as your pastor well knows, these three words have only a geographical or Israelite tribal meaning. Therefore, I will send a scholar's finder's fee of $100 to the first person who can prove that at the time of Christ's Life on the earth that there was ever any form of religious worship practiced in Judea, or anywhere else, which bore the name "Judaism" or any like name. I maintain, without possible chance of refutation, that no such cult or sect existed at that time. The very idea of America having a "Judeo-Christian" religious heritage or culture is a glaringly obvious fraud.

What are the far-reaching consequences of this understanding? Can you not see, for instance, that Paul was a Benjaminite by Israelite Tribe, but also a Judean by residence? He was not Jew by religious persuasion, for no religion by that name existed at that time in history. Paul never states that he was a Jew by religion. Come on, Brothers and Sisters, wake up! Instead, Paul confesses to having been a Pharisee in the 3rd Chapter of Philippians. Paul was converted from the Pharisee religion of Moloch, Astarte, and the Six-pointed Star, to Christianity. It is quite true, in the vernacular of today, that there is probably very little difference between a Pharisee of Christ's time and a Talmudic Jew of today. Both have the Serpent's Seed in their gene programming, and they will do the will of their father, the Devil. Don't you see, to insinuate that Jesus Christ was a Jew would also imply that He practiced and professed that form of religious worship known under the modern name of Judaism? To suggest that Jesus Christ was a Jew of both modern Judaism and the ancient religion of the Astarte Pharisees would make Christ, like Paul, "Chief of sinners." It was that very form of false religion that Christ denounced throughout His ministry, and no Talmudist or Moloch worshipper could ever later become the Lamb without spot or blemish. There are some very subtle reasons why the Serpent's Seed would like to make Christians believe that Christ was, or had been, a Pharisee/Jew.

The famous Rabbi Louis Finkelstein in his book, The Pharisees - The Sociological Background of Their Faith, states in the Foreword:

"... Judaism... Pharisaism became Talmudism, Talmudism became Medieval Rabbinism, and Medieval Rabbinism became Modern Rabbinism. But throughout these changes in name ... the spirit of the ancient Pharisees survives. unaltered... from Palestine to Babylon; from Babylonia to North Africa, Italy, Spain, France and Germany; from these to Poland Russia and eastern Europe generally, ancient Pharisaism has wondered... demonstrates the enduring Importance which attaches to Pharisaism as a religious movement."

So, as you read Scripture, remember this: The word "Jew" must always be read "Judean." Then from the context you must determine if the Word is referring to a Seed of the Serpent Pharisee, a person merely living in a very limited geographical area called Judea, or a person who is racially of the Tribe of Judah. Furthermore, there was never any religious sect, at the time of Christ, known as "Judaism," and the major religion in Judea at the time was Pharisaism based upon the Babylonian Talmud with its "adoption" of Moses and the Prophets. Christianity did not spring from either "Judaism" or from the Pharisee Religion of Moloch and the Six-pointed Star. Christianity is the natural prophesied continuation of the teachings of Moses and the Prophets which did not need or have any "Judaism middlemen" along the way.

Finally, Christ's mission, clearly stated again and again, was that of Kinsman Redeemer for His Kin, the put away in punishment House of Israel. Christ did not come as a Reformer for the Talmudic religions of Moloch and Astarte. Recognizing that many Israelites, such as Paul, had been intellectually beguiled by Satan's Seed into the religion of the Pharisees, He patiently taught them at every opportunity. Scripture is silent about any attempts by Christ, except with tongue in cheek, to persuade any of the Serpent's Seed to repent. To those He used as strong a language as anyone can imagine coming from a gentleman. Among His words, we find these in John 8:47:

"...He that is of God heareth God's words: ye therefore hear them not, because ye are not of God."

Believe these words, no matter what your minister or priest tells you about them.

Digging deeper still and remembering the theme of this perpetual warfare between the Stars, we find Christ making another clear and irrefutable statement about the Pharisee race who even then exerted power over God's Chosen people of the Woman's Seed. Look with me at Matthew's account of this denunciation of the ancient Pharisee in Chapter 23. No less than seven times Christ said, "Woe unto you Scribes and Pharisees..." Christ called them Serpents and a Race of Snakes. Christ accused them of being the ones who were responsible for shedding all the righteous blood from Abel right down to His very day with the murder of Zacharias. If Christ told the Truth, then it was this Serpent Race, under a hatred imposed within them by Almighty God in Genesis 3:15 who caused the death of every single holy martyr mentioned in Scriptural history. (And afterwards most likely.)

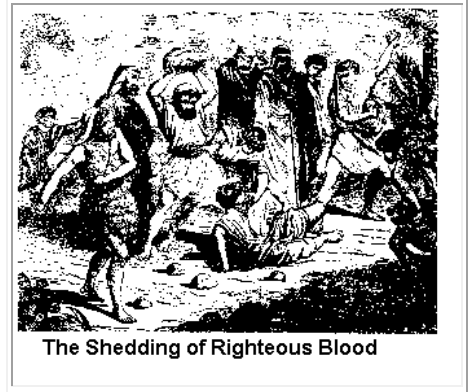

My friends, it does not take very much faith to believe that you and I are sinners and in need of a Kinsman Redeemer. It does not take much faith to see that America is a sinful nation which also needs a Kinsman Redeemer according to The Law. Why then must it take so much faith to believe Christ when He instructs you plainly that this Pharisee Race, now called the Jewish or Zionist Race, are still guilty of the murder of every righteous martyr? [Matthew 23:35] He told them that because they were the children of them who killed the prophets [v.31] that their house and families would be left desolate. [v.38] Think with me. If Christ had been a "Jew," or a child of the Jews, He would have also been just as guilty as the Jewish Pharisees of the blood of righteous martyrs since Abel, and that would include John the Baptist. Do you see how our churches, either through abysmal ignorance or deliberate deception, actually defame the Name of Christ by calling Him a Jew? May Christ rebuke anyone who does.

Following along the Enmity Trail of the Pharisee, we move from Christ's exposé of them in Matthew 23, through the Judgment upon them and their land in Matthew 24, to Matthew 27:24. Remember Pilate and his Latin inscription on the Cross? Pilate was not of the Pharisee Race. He was a Roman. Seeing that he could not prevent the murder of Jesus Christ, he said this:

"I am innocent of the blood of this just (righteous) person: see ye to it."

Notice the Pharisee's incredible answer:

"...Then answered all the people, and said, His Blood be on us and on our children."

Jesus Christ had stated that the righteous blood of all the prophets slain by the Serpent Race from the beginning of time until then would be on their children. Do you believe that? Now, do you believe that the Blood of the Righteous Christ must also be added to that Judgment set forth in Matthew 24? These Pharisees even asked, to the last man, that the Blood of Christ be on them and their children. Don't you suppose that Christ, now the King, would be more than happy to grant them this request? Why, certainly! Do you know Christ well enough to be sure that He would have given them, and their children, the same judgment whether they had asked for it or not? Is your knowledge of history complete enough to be able to see that trail of judgment on this wretched Generation for the past 2,000 years? It happens over and over and American Christians are now being deceived into feeling sorry for and supporting. They attempt to soften God's Judgment on Satan's Seed by having America send them billions of dollars in foreign aid. The followers of the religion of the Pharisee, which Rabbi Finkelstein insists is the same as modern Judaism, seem to be in continuous judgment of the Blood of Christ, don't they?

When you see wickedness in national, moral, social, and Christian affairs, look carefully for the influence and guiding hand of the Talmudic Jew. I N R I?

Average Christians, in their spiritual innocence, have not the faintest idea of what is contained in The Talmud. Many have told me that they think it must be some kind of Jewish Prayer Book or perhaps a set of religious regulations for the Jews to follow in their everyday life. I have read great portions of The Talmud. I find it so degrading that I had to wash my mind out with soap. I had thought to include portions of it in this personal letter, as I have done with certain verses of Scripture as a sample of the Moloch-Easter-Edomite thought-theology. I am specifically referring to The Babylonian Talmud translated into English by Rabbi I. Epstein and published in London in 1935 by the Soncino Press. I have chosen not to do so because this personal letter is intended for family Bible study. I do not want it restricted to our Christian children because of such degenerate ideas passed off as religion. Secondly, legal counsel has advised me that publishing such material as found in The Talmud might be a violation of postal regulations and make this personal letter difficult to distribute as widely as I feel must be done.

I will have to include a few things and I will write them as delicately as I can. As we would expect from a religion based upon the sexual lusts of the goddess Astarte (Easter in English), we would expect The Talmud to have a preoccupation with sexual matters, especially what is lawful under their religious code, the Jews say that they have Moses and The Law, but The Talmud makes them liars by their own words. The Talmud authorizes sodomy and the coition with maidens as long as they are three years and one day old as found in Sanhedrin 55b. In 69b, mother/son incest is permitted. In Kethuboth 11a & 11b of The Talmud goes into the matter of a man with a little girl in these words: "Tears come back to the eyes again and again, so does virginity come back to a little girl under three years." In an official statement by Rabbi Morris N. Kertzer in Look Magazine, June 17, 1952, it says:

"The Talmud is the legal code which forms the basis of Jewish religious law, and it is the textbook used in the training of rabbis."

So, according to Rabbi Kertzner, it is the Talmud, not Moses, that is the law for the Jew.

In most larger libraries, you will find The Jewish Encyclopedia. I direct your attention to Volume VIII, page 539. Deceived Christians get all excited as the Jews begin their Day of Atonement. Some Christian churches actually ring their church bells to "sound the Kol Nidre," a Jewish Traditional melody used at the start of Yom Kippur. Your preachers should know all about this, but since you will not hear it from them, let me tell you about the Jewish Kol Nidre. Jewish authorities say that it was added to The Talmud around the 11th Century. In English, it is the All-Vows Prayer. It is recited three times by the standing synagogue in concert with the chanting Rabbis at the altar. Immediately following the recital of Kol Nidre ceremonies of The Day Of Atonement begin. Remember, The Day Of Atonement is the Talmudic Jew's highest holy day and celebrated as such throughout the world. Every Christian who attends Kol Nidre, also partakes of its implications. Printed below is the exact language of this Jewish Pharisee prayer and I know that 95% of those who read this personal letter have never heard of it.

The Official Translation of the Kol Nidre Oath

"All Vows, obligations, oaths, anathemas, whether called konam, konas, or by any other name, which we may vow, or swear, or pledge or whereby we are bound, from this Day of Atonement unto the next, whose happy coming we await, we do repent. May they be deemed absolved, forgiven, annulled, and void and made of no effect; they shall not bind us or have power over us. The Vows shall not be reckoned vows; the obligations shall not be obligatory; nor the oaths be oaths."

This Kol Nidre Oath makes it possible for the Jew to make agreements, sign statements under oath, swear in Court, and if he has been to the Kol Nidre ceremony at the beginning of the New Year, he is not obliged by his god Astarte to keep his word or tell the truth. None of his vows are valid so long as he remembers Kol Nidre when he gives them, and he does not sin when he fails to keep them. This is fully explained in The Talmud. Book of Nedarim 23a-23b. Tale Kol Nidre Oath permits any practicing Jew to decide which, if any, of his promises, contracts, and oral agreements he wishes to keep.

Those of you who may one day have the Christian privilege of being investigated, prosecuted, or judged by an Edomite Pharisee acting on behalf of government, might do well to ask every such person, on the record, if he repeated the Kol Nidre Oath this year before the Day of Atonement. If they admit that they have, make a motion that their testimony, evidence, and allegations be dismissed on the basis of this Oath. As Christ reminds us continually, they are liars and the father of lies.

Valuable lessons can be learned once you grasp the concept that all righteous blood shed from nearly the beginning of time is on the Pharisee and his children. Through that enmity influence first generated in Genesis 3:15, we recall from history and watch in the news, various wars, both large and small, coming to pass. As I have reported earlier, we have observed the Holocaust Sacrifice of one class of Jews upon another, and in the process millions of the Woman's Seed died in some horrible way.

Recently, during my in-depth study of the Spanish Inquisition. I found exactly the same parallel. Many historical scholars lay the blame for the inhuman cruelties of the Spanish Inquisition on the Spanish Roman Catholic Church. Some Bible scholars teach that the Great Whore of Babylon took control of the Catholic Church and from that time on Christianity in that Church took on the trappings of the heathen among whom they lived. The illustration shown on page 70 is taken from Foxes Book of Martyrs, Moody Press Edition, page 243 and shows the holocaust of the unfortunate being burned at the Stake. On page 233 of that revealing book, the name Torquemada is given as the man who held the Office of Chief Inquisitor. He ruled within the Catholic Church for eighteen years. During that time, 10,270 persons were burned alive, and 97,322 persons were punished by loss of property or imprisonment.

The Spanish Inquisition Holocaust Executions

What you will find out is that certain Talmudic Jews had "converted" to Catholicism and held control of the Catholic Church at that time. Talmudic Jews still call this Era as the "Golden Age of Jewry." This was the complete takeover of Church and State. It was Money, Government, and Ecclesiastical combined, to the helplessness and suffering of the Spanish Catholics and Protestants. True, scattered small bands of Protestants were burned at The Stake, but other persons also found themselves murdered by fire. If you will read Cecil Roth's book, The Marranos, published by the Jewish Publishing Society of America, you will learn that the Spanish word, marrano, means swine. So, the Marrano Jews, were the swine Jews, according to the Talmudists, and had to be sacrificed in the holocaust of the Spanish Inquisition. Every now and then, you will read in the Jewish Press, congratulations to Israel from the Spanish "Catholics" who have practiced their Talmudic religion in secret since the days of the Spanish Inquisition.

The amazing part of the history of the Spanish Inquisition, and its Holocaust of thousands, is that the Chief Inquisitor, Torquemada, was a leading Jewish leader of his day. He had infiltrated the Catholic Church to the top, through pretended conversion - remember Kol Nidre - and saw to it that his own co-religionists, the Marrano (swine-gypsy) Jews, were put "through the fire to Moloch." They were a holocaust, a burnt offering to Astarte and her Six-pointed Star. The Spanish Catholic Church, as my Roman Catholic friends are quick to admit, is still controlled by the Talmudic Jews, and their influence extends right into the Vatican. It is no coincidence that of all the natives of the ancient enemies of God's Holy people throughout history, the only enemy name used for this end of the age is Babylon. Ancient Babylon is destroyed and lying under the shifting sands of what is now Iraq. All that remains of Ancient Babylon is the Talmud, and the Serpent's Seed who follow its teachings. If you want to find the prophetic Babylon, that Great City that is just about to fall, you now know where to look.

In the same Jewish author's two volume House of Nasi, Cecil Roth makes an interesting comparison between the activities of his Jewish forefathers and what happened to the Orthodox Jews under Hitler. His historical account matches Edwin Black's book, The Transfer Agreement, The Untold Story of the Secret Pact Between The Third Reich and Jewish Palestine. [Macmillan Publishing Co. New York, 1984] Mr. Black is a son of Jewish survivors of the Holocaust. He gives us even more light on the two classes of Jews which I wrote about earlier. German Jews, according to Edwin Black, consider themselves Hofjuden, roughly translated "courtly Jews." The Jews of Poland and from Russian stock were "those miserable darkened Hebrews." He insists, and I am happy that he said that instead of me that American Jews also consider themselves as being of the Hofjuden Class, which, as Black writes, was the reason they had no real concern for the plight of the Eastern European Jews [Page 6]. Quite a book Mr. Black. Is it possible that there exist some "anti-Semitic" Jews?

As I pointed out earlier, Adolph Hitler was the bastard son of a bastard son, and had at least 25% Jewish blood. He, along with the top leaders of his Nazi Party were involved in a number of areas of the Occult. Hitler did to his kinfolks exactly what the Chief Spanish Inquisitor. Torquemada did to his. He put them through a holocaust sacrifice. No one will disagree that Hitler was the Number One Nazi. Some scholars have pointed out that Nazi is very close to the Jewish word, Nasi, which as chance would have it, means Prince of Jewry. The Hofjuden knew exactly what Hitler was doing - saying one thing but doing the exact opposite. Remember the Kol Nidre and the confusing things of the world will begin to make sense. Hitler had no love for "those miserable darkened Hebrews," but he could never have accomplished what he did without the financial and political help of the Hofjuden Jews and some highly placed American traitors, such as George Bush's father, Prescott Bush, whose banking empire funded Hitler from the United States.

Some of us who have been given the eyes to see, observe the same Divine Parallel being set in place today. Talmudic Jews of the Anti-Defamation League are, like Salome, counseling those Edomites who now rule Christian America, setting in place various hate crime statutes and incarcerating Christian leaders on a variety of trumped-up charges. We rejoice as Christ is, even now, raising up a few good men who are capable of bringing about their rescue at some appointed time in history.

Remember one of the main goals of the Jewish holocaust of Germany was to bring about this current Israeli state in Palestine. This was helped to make happen though the guilt felt by the rest of the world that six million Jews were murdered.

Lesson Fourteen                      The Enemy Today

John, on three different occasions, recorded a particular phrase which is almost totally ignored in this generation of Christians. When we find something three times in one Book of the Bible, it must be important. Ask Christ for wisdom as you read:

-1-

"...How no man spoke openly for fear of the Jews. " [Judeans] - John 7:13

-2-

"...And after this Joseph of Arimathea, being a disciple of Jesus, but secretly for fear of the Jews [Judeans], besought Pilate that he might take away the body of Jesus." - John 19:38

-3-

"...Then the same day at evening, being the first day of the week, when the doors were shut where the disciples were assembled for fear of the Jews [Judeans], came Jesus and stood in the midst, and saith unto them, Peace be unto you." - John 20:19

First, while Christ was about to preach, second, after His Sacrifice, and third after He had risen from the dead, we find Christ followers acting out of some instinctive fear of the Judeans. Christ, His Disciples, and even the multitudes were well aware of the intrinsic nature of Esau-Edom. They knew the murderous band of Judeans who say they are of Judah, and are not, but are of the Synagogue of Satan. [Revelation 2:9] They knew that these were they who had murdered the prophets and had shed Righteous Blood throughout the history of God's Chosen People. The vital matter of the two Seed Lines had not escaped, them. There was no delusion that the Serpent's Seed was simply a carnal, spiritual nature in these people. The matter of the Serpent Race had been carefully taught them from father to son and mother to daughter. There was no nonsense that these other Judeans, who were obviously not of Judah through Tamar and David, should be invited into a Christian assembly so that they might get saved: They are not His Sheep.

Instead, in these and other instances, we find that Christians met in second story rooms, assumed different names, kept doors shut when they were holding their meetings to discuss the affairs of State and Salvation, went around these Judeans to intercede secretly with Palate, and stopped speaking to everyone about all they knew. Wherever Christ is being taught truthfully, especially in these Latter Days, you can expect to find these "Judeans" around trying to create trouble for His Disciples. This is the special nature and calling of this Serpent's Race. May I suggest that you be more like these Disciples, and Jesus Christ, by fearing the Judeans, known in modern Bible text as "The Jews?"

Jesus Christ, the Word from the beginning, and the Son of God, was crucified under order of the Judeans whom He had admonished His Disciples to fear. The pattern for the next two thousand years was set in place. One group of Judeans bringing about the horrible death of other Judeans. The second prophesy of Genesis 3:15 had come to pass with the murder of Christ. Satan had "bruised His heel."

Most Christians have never thought of this, but when Christ's Blood flowed onto the ground at Calvary at Jerusalem, His Blood defiled that land according to the Law. That land cannot be cleansed but by the blood of them that shed it. Since no blood of the Serpent's Seed murderers, or their children as the Pharisees asked has ever been shed upon that land to avenge the Blood of Jesus Christ, old Jerusalem is still defiled unto this day! This is why Almighty God had to move His People out of that defiled Israel land into some other land that was not defiled. This is why for two thousand years, ancient Israel has never been at peace and it never will be until Christ's Blood is avenged and the land cleansed again in the Biblically required manner.

So ye shall not pollute the land wherein ye are: for blood it defileth the land: and the land cannot be cleansed of the blood that is shed therein; but lay the blood of him that shed it.

-Numbers 35:33

The first prophesy of Genesis 3:15 has not come to pass yet, where the Woman's Seed will crush the head of the Serpent. I think that this will happen in exactly the same place where the Serpent bruised Christ's heel. Does that make sense to you? By the Grace of God, through this petition, I would like to be a Party to that glorious Event. Do you think Christ might have had this in mind when He issued the command found in Luke 19:27? Here are His orders:

"But those mine enemies, which would not that I should reign over them, bring hither (to old Jerusalem) and slay them before me."

Do you suppose that the Serpent's Seed is now being inclined to go to Jerusalem for precisely that purpose? They are now there, wailing at the very foundation wall of Herod's ancient temple. Instinctively, they know that the Avenger of Blood is coming. Yet, foolish Christians are taught and believe that the anti-Christ Jew, whom they do not recognize as the Seed of the Serpent, is "going back" to Israel to set up King Solomon's Temple and ultimately "get saved." No, my friends, they are going to ancient Israel by the thousands so that their blood can be used to cleanse the land! With that in mind, let's return again to the crucifixion of Christ. The amazing, untold details of this Event will thrill the heart of every Christian.

As you read, I ask that you stop with every sentence, close your eyes, and picture in your mind what you see in the words describing the events. Imagine Christ standing there alone before Pilate and his Court. He has presented His common law defense by not testifying into jurisdiction of the Court. Sentence of death by crucifixion is pronounced. Do you see His face? Do you see the faces of His Accusers? Before He is to be taken to The Cross, to be carried, the Court orders Him flogged to make the pain of the Cross that much more unbearable. Close your eyes. Do you see them stripping Christ to lay His Back bare? Do you see them leading Jesus Christ to a post and tying His Hands above His Head to that post? Can you hear the roar of those crowded into that Court?

Now the man with the whip is called out to do the wretched task assigned to him. Close your eyes. Do you see that man and his whip in your imagination? Suddenly, with the roar of the crowd, the whip is laid on the white back of Our Messiah. Crack! Again! Crack! Again! Crack! The Body winces with each blow. Close your eyes; can you picture that Event in your mind? Now, look very carefully in your imagination and repeat with your lips with me what you see on Our Savior's back. A red stripe - a white stripe - a red stripe - a white stripe. Do you see that the Blood of our King is running down His Back onto the ground of the Pharisee Courtyard? Look again in your imagination until you see this picture clearly. Where have you seen this combination of stripes in heraldry before? Does not this picture you are now seeing in your mind, feeling in your heart, and weeping over for the very first time, represented on the Ensign of the great Christian land. America? When you see our Flag flying, remember His Stripes in that Pharisee Court two thousand years ago. Remember that Flag represents the Victory over the Seed of the Serpent given to us by this One Man who stood alone and took our beating, while we were yet sinners.

Jesus Christ was not the effeminate man pictured by Sunday School materials, with soft hands and long, flowing, shoulder-length hair. He wore a Roman cut similar to that you see in drawings of the Caesars of His day. He was a carpenter with tough hands, strong legs, and strong arms. He did not wear long flowing robes as shown in Hollywood movies. Who can work in such clothing?

Yet, with the flogging and the loss of Blood, it was all He could do to carry His Cross. When he could not continue, they compelled a man named Simon, a Cyrenian who happened to be passing by, to carry His Cross for Him. [St. Mark 15:21] Where were His Israelite brethren? Where was even one man, who had laid palms before Him a week before, that might come to His rescue? Apparently, they were nowhere to be found. When the Body of Christ, Christians, are whipped, starved, imprisoned, and murdered around the world today, their brethren in America, with pitiful few exceptions, are likewise nowhere to be found, especially when there is highly risky work to be done.

Now we see Christ on The Cross and evening is approaching. Do you see the long shadows of the sun? He and the two thieves had not yet died. Talmudic law did not permit an execution after sunset at the beginning of the Sabbath day. The Judeans/Jews petitioned Pilate for special permission to break the legs of the three crucified men so that they would die more quickly. A delegation from the Pharisee Temple Guard, Edomites not Romans, was sent out for that purpose. The Captain of the Temple Guard returned, after a period of time, carrying the Spear of Herod Antipas, which was the Symbol of Authority to perform the act of breaking the legs of the condemned felons.

It is not enough to study the Bible text, for without some knowledge of the mixture of the Roman law and the Pharisee law, and the customs of that period, much of what Scripture states will remain a mystery. Had the Captain of the Temple Guard arrived without the Spear of Authority, the Roman soldiers would not have allowed the Pharisee Temple Guard to lay a hand on the crucified men. This Spear was only the authority to break the leg bones of Jesus Christ. It could not be used to execute the men, for crucifixion only was the Order of the Court.

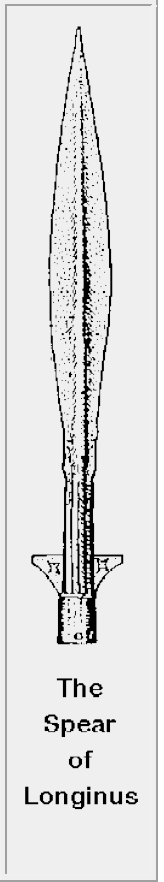

It is fascinating to read this specific part of the story in each of the Gospels. Matthew writes in Chapter 27:54:

"Now when the Centurion, and they that were with him, watching Jesus, saw the earthquake, and those things that were done, they feared greatly, saying, Truly this was the son of God."

Mark recorded exactly the same thing. The Roman soldiers, and their Centurion leader, expressed a certain fear, for the Romans were not Edomites and did not follow The Talmud. Notice that these Romans confessed that Jesus was the Son of God. No such acknowledgment was forthcoming from any Pharisee present. Can you tell me why, at the very moment of Christ's Death, every one of the Roman soldiers were converted, knowing perhaps for the first time in their lives, the issue of right from wrong? They had seen the cruelty of the Pharisee and crucifixions before. It was standard military duty for them. Think about that question for a minute as you read again Mark 15:39. Luke 23:47 adds credibility to the Roman soldiers' conversion for he writes that their leader, the Centurion, glorified God. He also confessed that certainly this was a righteous man. However, the best light shed on this historical account comes from John at Chapter 19:32-34:

"...Then came the soldiers [Temple Guard] and brake the legs of the first, and the other which was crucified with him. But when they came to Jesus, and saw that he was dead already, they brake not his legs, but one of the (Roman) soldiers with a spear pierced his side, and forthwith came out blood and water."

Close your eyes again. Do you see Christ's dead Body there on The Cross? Do you see Mary, the Mother of Jesus and the other, ladies standing afar off watching? Do you see St. John, there, writing down his documentary? Now do you see the Temple Guard Captain standing there with the Herod's Spear of Authority? See his Pharisee Guard hat? Secular Roman history states that the Centurion's name was Gaius Cassius. Here was this Centurion, meaning that he commanded 100 men, watching the horror going on and finally realizing, along with all his men, that Jesus Christ was the Son of God. He certainly did not know that Christ had died just moments before. That was only known to the Temple Guard assigned to break His legs. Suddenly, there rose up in the breast of this Centurion a righteous anger that he could not restrain. He could not stand it any longer and wheeling his horse around he grabbed that Spear of Herod from the Captain of the Temple Guard's hand and charged through the crowd fully intending to put his newly found Savior out of His Misery. Galloping through that rowdy crowd of the Serpent's Seed, with the spear in jousting position toward that central Cross, he determined to protect the Body of Christ from the mutilation he had just seen happen to the two thieves. He drove the Spear of Herod into the right side of Christ, between the 4th and 5th ribs, in Roman combat manner, to insure that a wounded man is truly dead. But Our King was already dead and did not feel the spear in the hands of his new disciple of only a few minutes. Gaius Cassius, at the instant of Christ's Death, suddenly had the Law written in his mind and heart and did his martial deed out of Christian compassion.

The Christians of that Era gave him a new name, that of Longinus The Spearman. He came to be loved as a great hero, and the leader of the first Christian assembly [church] in Jerusalem. He was not only the prime witness, but the man who actually made the shedding of the Blood of the New Covenant a literal accomplishment. Thus, the Spear of Herod, intended as a wicked symbol, became the glorious instrument in the hands of an early famous convert after Christ's death.

Remember this my friends, that War between the Stars has only begun, but that War has already been won. Your task, when you begin to see it clearly, is to do whatever may be required to protect the Body of Christ from the "Pharisee Temple Guards," and their agents and proselytes, who even now dwell among us. You can identify them by their fruit and by their sign of Moloch and Astarte, the Six-pointed Star.

Ancient Israel had 41 Kings and then that nation, through interracial marriage, worship of pagan deities, sodomy, and usury debt, disappeared from the scene. America has had 41 Presidents, and the 42nd, Mr. Bill Clinton, promoting interracial marriage, worship of pagan deities, sodomy, and usury debt, is in the position to again bring God's Holy nation to its knees. It is toward preventing that tragic event that this personal letter has been written.

People have asked me why God drove Adam and Eve out of The Garden of Eden where they would have to work by the sweat of their brow. It is because Abel's blood was spilled onto the ground there, defiling the land. With Cain not being forced to shed his blood to cleanse the land, the Garden of Eden remained defiled. Thus, Adam and Eve could not be allowed to live there.

There is a whole group of historians from various countries that have taken interest in what is believed to be the original Lance or Spear of Longinus. It is believed to have been carried into Europe with the Christians of the House of Israel as they fled Roman and Pharisee persecution. General George Patton was trying to recover it from its secure location but it had disappeared from Germany at the fall of the Third Reich. Above is a sketch of what is believed to be this original lance, or spear used to pierce the Side of Christ on the Cross. Whether or not this Spear is the original, I am not about to speculate, but the Spear of Longinus would have looked very much like the picture shown here.

Lesson Fifteen                      The Serpent's Seed and The Bride of Christ

I have a friend who is in love with a very beautiful young lady. He bent my ear for hours telling me what a wonderful girl she is. When he finally introduced me to her, she showed me a diamond on her left hand. Informally, they had announced their intentions about a private relationship that they had enjoyed alone for a number of months. The diamond was only a sign of the love that the two had for each other. Later, there was a formal marriage ceremony wherein they made public the love and agreements that they said had existed, between them. The marriage ceremony is only one part of a Contract. After the festivities were over, the couple went on their way to consummate the Contract, the act which would finally validate their covenant.

Now, let's suppose that during that special evening, there came a pounding on the door. Suddenly, the locks gave way to a heavy shoulder, and a man bursts in, grabs the Bride up in his arms and proceeds to carry her away. I would hope that the Bridegroom would put up an objection and a fight, if necessary, to protect his Bride according to the terms of the Contract. If the Bridegroom is indifferent, what can be said of the Contract? We would have to say that in spite of all the love notes from the Bridegroom, all the flowers sent, all the music played, and all the words of the minister notwithstanding, there was probably no substance to the Contract. There was no true meaning to all the loving words between them during the months of their courtship.

What about the woman? Suppose sometime later, she meets a charming man, whom she permits to seduce her, and runs off with him? If that happened, what can we say about the substance of the marriage and the Contract between them? It would be null and void, and the man would have the right to divorce her for cause. We understand that don't we?

When our Bible talks about a Bride of Christ, are not all these same conditions also operative in that forthcoming marriage? The Bridegroom, whom we understand to be the Lord Jesus Christ, has to stand ready to defend His Bride against all who would take her either by force, trickery or by seduction. If at any time He were indifferent, then there was never the love and loyalty expected, and the Contract would be broken.

What else do we know about any lawful marriage which would involve someone called the Bride of Christ? Would she not have to be of His same racial stock to be a lawful wedding? Wherever there are sons and daughters of God, would they not have to be created in His Image to be a lawful marriage? Christ's Bride, therefore, could not be any woman who had within her body -any of Satan's Seed! How could Almighty God, through His Son, the Lord Jesus Christ, violate His own laws by falling in love with All Women and Every Woman? If He did so, would it necessarily include some of the Serpent's Seed Line? How can Light and Darkness become one in any marriage? What foolishness!

How about Chay's children? Dozens of these folks from Chay are my personal friends. Hundreds are on my mailing list, and they love my writings. But can we say that they are God's Image people? No, they are not, for only those with the Blushing Face are included in that group. We do not have to understand, but only know that it is for some very special purposes truly known only to God. Therefore, neither Almighty God, or His Son, can make any lawful marriage contract with the Chay. Does that make sense?

Beginning in what is rightfully called the Dark Ages, Ecclesiastical Rome, declared with all its presumed authority, that the Bride of Christ is the Holy Roman Catholic Church. All Roman Catholics are supposed to believe that their Church is the Bride of Christ. Further, if Protestants ask their minister to identify the Bride of Christ, the ministers will nearly always state that the Bride is the same as the Church. They teach in fact, if not in so many words, that The Bride is a multi-racial body made up of mostly gentiles with an occasional converted Jew. Regardless of which denomination and however differently they may understand many other Truths of Scripture, they all seem to hold this Dark Ages to Scofield to Pat Robertson error that the Bride of Christ is the same as the Body of Christ, that is, those believers in Him.

Did you ever see any wedding wherein the Bride and the Bridegroom were the same person? Think about it! Can you even imagine such a contradiction? As a Christian, where do you stand? Are you with the Bridegroom at the Alter waiting for the Bride to come down the aisle? Or are you with the Bride, making her ready for her Bridegroom? If you are not particularly involved, but merely a spectator, where do you sit? Is it on the Bridegroom's side or the Bride's side of the assembly?

Can you see the terrible confusion that arises when Christians, casually reading their Bible, cannot, or do not, make the clear distinction between the Bride and her friends, and those who are the friends of the Bridegroom? It may be the most deceptive teaching of any that passes for Christianity to designate the friends of the Bridegroom, his Best Men, as His Bride.

Come on, has Almighty God changed His Mind? Speaking through the Prophet Hosea in Chapter 2, He told Israel, even after her adultery with other gods, that after he had allured her into the wilderness so that he could speak "comfortably" to her, that He would betroth Israel again unto Him forever. He then forecast in that same chapter of Hosea, that Israel would learn to call Him "Ishi," which means "My Husband." Israel is not the church. Therefore, the Bride of Christ is not the church. The church, an assembly discussing the affairs of State, are the friends of the Bridegroom, those called from the foundation of the earth to be, and who are now, the Ambassadors and the Administrators in, for and on behalf of, Christ's Kingdom. In 2 Corinthians 5:20, those of us who are the friends of the Bridegroom, are called "His Ambassadors." This is a governmental, nationalistic, "affairs of state" term. We are not called His Deacons, assigned only to care for the "affairs of some interracial house of lawless grace, worship and praise."

Over and over again, your Bible makes it plain that the very same people whom He labeled as "His Chosen People" are His Bride, a promised nation, and very specifically, only the sons and daughters of Jacob-Israel.

Now, let's go back to the foundations and see how this warfare between the Seed of the Woman and the Seed of the Serpent has been brought about. The first war was in Heaven and disclosed in Revelation 12:7-9 and Isaiah 14:12-32. Satan lost that war, and a third of the angels were cast out of heaven along with him. Satan, still smarting from defeat, knew that it would be useless to go into another direct battle with Almighty God. So, the very first thing he did on earth was to seduce Adam's wife. He went after the woman. He never tried to beguile a lady of Chay. His purpose was not for the pleasure of sex. Because of this Act, God informed Satan that He would put a hatred between the children of Eve and his children springing forth from Cain.

There is a difference of opinion among those of us who have identified Adam's people of the Blushing Face as the physical descendants of the ancient House of Jacob-Israel. One group, generally those who come out of Evangelical Arminianism, - the Baptist, Church of Christ, Assemblies of God and other "free will" denominations - teach that while Eve's Seed was a physical one in order to produce The Lamb of God without spot or blemish. Satan's Seed, they insist, is only a "spiritual seed." Cain was physical, they admit, but the motive that drives his genes is only spiritual. In contrast, I hold that both seeds had to be physical and that Satan did actually seduce Eve and bore his only physical son by her.

In many areas of Bible doctrine, I might be able to grit my teeth and be patient with those of my brethren who hold to the "spiritual seed line theory." After all, it is a doctrine that is held by most of the Christians today. It is the one that creates the least controversy. However, that theology crashes and burns when the matter of the Bride of Christ comes into the picture. The Bride is not, and cannot be, a melting pot of "gentiles," open to any and all who believe that Christ is The Son of God. Instead, the Israel nation is a special people selected by God to be His Bride and His Wife. When a man selects his bride, he picks her from a number of ladies. It will be the one who is most like him in culture, interests, and desires. Those ladies who were not selected do not feel inferior because they were not chosen. In life, we simply say, that's how things are.

Almighty God cannot be so casual. For His Purposes, He cannot permit any of the physical Wicked Seed to be in genes of His Lover to become One with Him. He cannot betroth a Wife who is not of His Image. Any "spiritual seed," if one can imagine such an absurdity, might have a change of "spiritual mind and heart" at any time, and thus become a qualified part of Bride under The Law. The Bride must make herself ready, but there is no way that any woman could possibly discard her physical genes in whatever cleansing and preparation might be required.

I like to picture Eve, and her Seed as like unto a tiny mustard seed, from which have come a multitude of people. Some are as the sands of the sea which cannot be numbered. Others are as the Stars of heaven, which also cannot be numbered.

Thus, Satan will later attempt to seduce the Wife of God His Image people of the Woman's Seed. There is no way that he could seduce a whole nation, Thus he must also have his agents, his ambassadors of the kingdom of death, to go about seeing whom they can devour. Again and again, Satan has done this to God's Wife, the Israel nation. Regrettably, as with Adam's wife, Israel fell for him and did his bidding. The Prophet, Jeremiah begins the sad story in Chapter 2 where in verse 2 he reminds Israel that she had been married to God back in the days of the wilderness. In verse 7 and onward, Jeremiah scolds Israel for the fact that she had defiled the land and made an abomination of her Husband's heritage. Jeremiah goes on and puts the blame on the priest's, pastors, and prophets who worshipped Baal, and those other heathen gods of the Six-pointed Star. In verse 20, our forefathers and mothers of Israel again told God that they would obey and then they went right off to the groves of Astarte and played the harlot. That same accusation is repeated again by Jeremiah in Chapter 3:6. Finally, the seduction was so complete that Almighty God had no choice but to issue a Bill of Divorce, as faithfully recorded by Jeremiah 3:8.

The prophet Hosea records in Chapter 1 that God showed no pity on his harlot wife, the House of Jacob, and brought their nation down into ruin [1:7]. Hosea, Chapter 2:1-5 states that she is not God's wife and He is not her husband. The next verses have some real plain talk, but the bottom line is that The Husband drove His Wife, Jacob-Israel out of His House, the ancient land of Palestine. He then put up a hedge of thorns and made a wall so that His Wife could never again find her way back to the ancient Israel lands. When the modern ministers say that Israel is "returning to the land of their forefathers" when the Jews occupy Palestine, they are refuting God's Word in this text. One of the marks of identification that the Jews now in Palestine are not Jacob-Israel is that they are actually in the land, when God said he would make sure that Israel never could go back. Jacob-Israel was to go to another place and await the coming of their Savior. God would place only enough of His Remnant from Babylon in the old Israel lands, among the Serpent's Seed people, so that those prophecies forecast about Him could take place. Ancient Israel's people, now caught in adulteries with other gods, were in place so that what was written about the Serpent Seed bruising the Woman's Seeds heel would come to pass. With Israel's propensity to sin, you know the reason that God made Adam so that he would have a blushing face.

You must remember that both the Wife of God, and the future Bride of Christ are the same people: Jacob-Israel. When did Almighty God first marry Israel? Most Christians have never even asked the question, much less searched for the answer. The marriage to Israel took place, with Moses as the minister, when the First Covenant, the Old Testament, was given at the foot of Mount Sinai. Have you ever thought of the Ten Commandments in the light of the Marriage Contract which, of course, they really were? If you will remember the words of any marriage ceremony that you ever attended, the bride was asked certain questions. She must answer, "I will," or the whole ceremony is stopped. Thus, she states that she will love, honor, and obey her husband so long as she shall live.

Remember what the people said regarding the Covenant Law that was given? As a wife, they said that they would love, honor and obey, didn't they? Some may think that this is incredible, supposing that the Ten Commandments, and those Laws, Statutes, and Judgments that codify the Commandments, are only for personal applications. No, they are primarily for a national agenda, the Contract of a wife with her Husband. Of course, as a corporate body of Jacob-Israel we are to personally obey them, and see to it that our children, our servants, and the strangers in the land, do also. Do not personalize The Law right out of its national intent as 99% of ministers do today. Even further into this Biblical folly, some ministers have the audacity to teach that The Law has been abandoned once Christ died on the Cross. If you will read again the Old Covenant, in Jeremiah 31:31-33, you will understand more fully Star Wars, Lesson One, Almighty God led his young Bride out of Egypt and with the Love and the Law set forth. He was a Husband unto Jacob-Israel from the moment that she agreed to the terms and conditions. At that moment, youthful Israel became His young wife, and He gave her everything. He was a fantastic Husband who showered His blessings on her. Still, as in America today, she got so prosperous that she wanted more of the knowledge of Good and Evil, promised by Astarte and Moloch, and failed to love, honor and obey Him. There can be no argument that Jacob-Israel was the first wife of God, can there?

Chapter 2 of Hosea is not all bad news. There is a space of time between Hosea 2:13 and 2:14. Isaiah, in Chapter 54:7 calls this period "a small moment" during which God had forsaken His Wife, Israel. The good news is that He promises that He will "gather her again with great mercy and everlasting kindness." I know that you can make a personal application out of these words. You can even apply them to the body of believers if you wish. But, in the clear context of the Word of God, Isaiah is talking about a Husband, Jesus Christ, the Holy One of Israel, redeeming His Wife. The Husband delivered from death unto life, and his Bride also delivered from death unto life, coming together in a physical union called the Kingdom. Law and Grace become One with the New Covenant Marriage and the Kingdom that follows.

Hosea, in Chapter 2:15, draws a picture of a forsaken woman being brought back to the love of her youth, and singing as she did on the day she was married after leaving the bondage of Egypt. In that day, Almighty God says through Hosea, [v.16] the Bride shall call Jesus Christ, Ishi, which means "my Husband," and no longer call him Baali, "Lord and Master." Almighty God says that He will betroth Israel forever, [v.19-20.] Our Heavenly Father, and the Husband Jesus Christ, is not talking about you as an individual, or as believers a church, but as his Bride, our Christian nations of Jacob-Israel. Isn't it about time we stopped calling our Savior, Lord, and identify Him and obey Him as our Husband Jesus Christ?

Come on, ye dry bones, hear the Word of the Husband, paraphrasing Ezekiel 32:4. Here is when the Husband will send His Bride to await Him in safety, as forecast by Ezekiel 37:21:

"... Behold I will take the children of Israel from among the heathen (nations) whither they be gone, and will gather them on every side, and bring them into their own land, and I will make them a nation in the land upon the mountains [prophecy: great nations] of Israel; and one king shall be king to them all: and there shall no more be two nations, neither shall they be divided into two nations anymore."

This cannot be the present migration of the Jews to Palestine, as they are leaving Christian lands, not "heathen" lands. Israel, as you can see in a dozen places in Scripture, always migrates north or west. "Go west, young man, go west!" The Serpent's Seed always travels south or east. Which way do most Jews travel to Palestine? Is it not south or east?

The two nations becoming one happened when the Standing Lion of Scottish Judah, and The Bull of English Ephraim, joined as one nation. In heraldry, the Flag with the Cross of St. Andrew and the Flag with the Cross of St. George were super-imposed upon one Flag and called the Union of Jacob Flag. In slang, it is called the "Union Jack." There is one problem regarding The Law, as applied to northern Europe. For hundreds of years before the Union of Jacob and long after, Christians were martyred for their faith and their blood was shed into the ground. As we have seen, the Seed of the Serpent has made war there for years with the Seed of the Woman. These Christians were martyred, as a function of the government and the courts, and as far as I can determine, neither the murderers nor their children have ever been properly tried and executed to cleanse that blood-defiled land. The Jews have controlled the finances and banking of most of Europe for most of this time. Thus, they controlled, as they now do in America, the government and the courts. So, unless you can show me otherwise, and the German Holocaust by the Jews upon the Jews doesn't count, Europe has never been cleansed of the blood of the Righteous Christians. Why do you think that they have so many wars? Do you think our Heavenly Husband ever forgets to avenge the blood of His Bride until she wakes up and cleans out His House of all things that offend?

So, as I mentioned on page 41, our Heavenly Husband had to move His Bride once more to a place of safety where there were no Serpent Seed people around to make war with the Woman's Seed. I think that the Scriptures set forth clearly that this last relocation of The Bride was to the Wilderness of the North American continent. This land fits, in astounding detail, the geographical, geological and descriptive statements for Israel's new land. In any event, the Woman had the two wings of a Great Eagle previously given to her to carry her from Palestine, and that Great Eagle became America's national symbol. [Revelation 12:14] Our Heavenly Husband, speaking through St. John in Revelation 12:14-17 describes the Woman's war with the Serpent. It was to last for 1260 years during which time, a remnant of the Bride would be moved away into America.

How then, is The Bride of Christ to make herself ready? I suggest that the only way she can do that is to go back and make her crooked ways straight. She has no choice as to when she will learn that she is actually "the put away in punishment" sheep of the House of Jacob-Israel. That awakening is now coming to pass. It is the one Truth that the Serpent's Seed cannot stand and which they fear the most. They call this exposure of them and their activities "hate crimes" and have laws against a personal letter such as this one. The second step is to teach the Bride, once she is finally awake, to be ready to accept her Husband's Administration and qualify for the position that He has ordained for each of His Friends to occupy. Ezekiel states that Her Husband will give her a new heart and cause her, you and me, to walk in Her Husband's Statutes and Judgments. In other words, when our Husband takes over, He will give us the Spirit that will cause us to walk in His Laws. So, if you are the Bride of Christ, then you are still under the Law, even if you think you are not included just because you have been put asleep by the so-called gospel of Grace. Ignorance has never been bliss or a valid excuse. Most of you can read the Word. John in Revelation 19:8 tells us what it takes for the Bride to make herself ready for the marriage of The Lamb.

"...And it was granted that she should be arrayed in fine linen, clean and white, for the linen is the righteousness of the saints."

With all due respect to my Catholic friends, the word saints here should be translated "holy," meaning "set apart for special service." Righteousness is the Law which Israel, as the Bride, is to keep. She will have so agreed before the marriage this time, because the Word tells us that she is clothed in the white robes of righteousness. So, we of His Bride are to be clothed in His Law before He will even think to appear at His marriage. To prevent that from happening, if he can, Satan's Seed, and those who do his bidding, will have attempted to circumvent those Robes of The Law by teaching that the very Law that the Bride is to wear as her wedding dress, has been done away with, tattered and torn from disuse or is of no effect anyway. John, in Revelation 12:15, predicts this final attempt to seduce and beguile the Woman with these words:

"...And the Serpent cast out of his mouth water as a flood after the woman, that he might cause her to be carried away by the flood."

This flood is the false teachings, lies, and the Serpent's propaganda on the television tube. Well, this War between those people of the Six-pointed Star of Babylon and those of us of the Five-pointed Star of the Fifth Kingdom of Daniel, the Husband's Stone Kingdom, is now about to be won. While you may have thought of personally wearing the Robes of Righteousness, remember it is The Bride, that Great City [nation] that is to be clothed in The Robes of Law. If you are waiting for the Bridegroom to come again to this Great Nation and cleanse, prepare, and dress His Bride, you have missed the whole point of this personal letter. It is our administrative task as His Ambassadors to see to it that the Bride makes herself ready. Until the Bride is clean and white, dressed in her Robes of Law, our Heavenly Husband will not appear at the Alter. A Bridegroom never appears at his wedding until his Best Men informs him that his Bride is ready. As Christ told us in Revelation 19:7:

"Let us be glad and rejoice and give honor to him: for the marriage of the Lamb is come, and his wife hath made herself ready."

Amen.

Chapter Notes

This is the latter-day part of the fourth Kingdom of Daniel. It still holds power in a great portion of the earth today where Jacob-Israel's people live.

Forever means forever. Almighty God did not mean that He would start looking around for some other lady, such as the Church to be his Bride and run off with her.

The first ship carrying the Scottish Covenanters to America left from Northern Ireland. The name of this ship was "Eagles Wings." Do you think our forefathers knew the truths found in this personal letter titled Star Wars? The size of that great Bride nation, which can only be America, is set forth in Revelation 21:19-16 as being 12,000 furlongs square. That is exactly the distance from Maine to Florida. From the time our 'put away in punishment' Sheep of the House of Israel, the Bride people, went into captivity in 745 BC, there were Seven Times that were to pass until they came into their new land. A time is 360 years.  $7 \times 360 = 2520$  years. The Bride nation was established 2520 years after the captivity in 1776. Remember, there is no year "0". As prophesied, the ships from Tarshish came first, followed by the ships from "the isles" Holland and England. (Isaiah 60:1-9, Isaiah 11:11-14 etc.)

All early sketches of Satan show him as a physical angel-kind man who entered The Garden specifically to seduce Eve. Satan was not and is not a snake as this Star Wars Personal Letter clearly proves. This drawing was done by Gustave Doré, the famous Bible illustrator born about 150 years ago. This picture shows Satan with bat's wings. Personally, I do not believe that angels have wings, for the Bible says we entertain angels unawares. [Hebrews 13:2] If they had wings, we would know them as angels, wouldn't we! This illustration came from a 1875 edition of Milton's famous poem, Paradise Lost. This Personal Letter, which I call Star Wars, is a Bible study as the Scriptures were taught and believed in the years in which our American Forefathers settled The Wilderness and The New World. Both names for America were taken by them from prophetic Scripture.
